A group of budding artists gather to encourage each other.

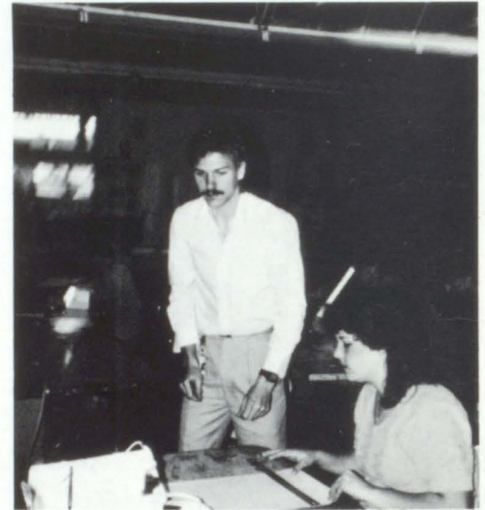

Vicky Miller uses pastels to create a picture.

The art classes give students a chance to express themselves. The students in the beginning art classes learn the basic elements of expression and composition. They usually work with pencils and water colors, using still lifes or people as models.

Advanced Artists applied their knowledge of design and color with brilliant pastels and oil paints.

Helping the students appreciate the beauty in the world is emphasized in all the art classes.

Mr. Landry shows student how to prepare the new project.

Mr. Landry demonstrates to the class how to use the pottery wheel.

Bruce McLaughlan concentrates on his art.

Missy Hedge laughs as Woody Saunders pretends to take a bite of clay.

ART

Christy Hyttinen and Laura Ensley show enthusiasm during art class.

Kelly Stander brushes off sawdust from her Woodshop Project.

The Industrial Arts classes are very valuable to the students who take them. They not only give the students a break from their normal schoolwork, but they allow them to use different skills.

There are a variety of classes to choose from Mechanical Drawing, Architectural Drawing, Woodshop, Metal Shop, Auto Mechanics, and many more. These different classes give students a chance to work with many types of tools and machines.

Graem Whyte concentrates on reading his Graphic Arts book.

Mr. Palmateer takes time to greet his students.

Glen Huszar works hard at repairing a motor.

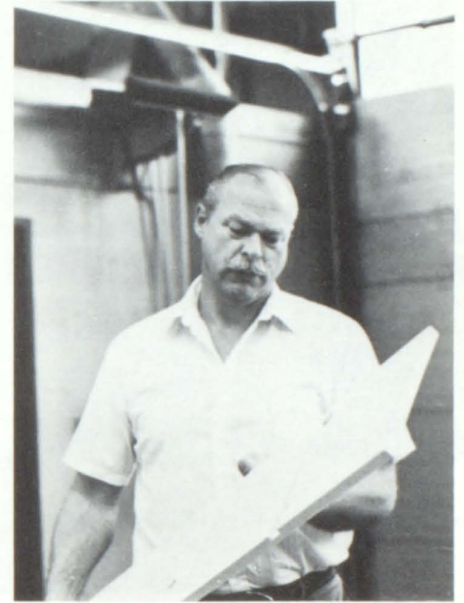

Bruce Falcon sands the rough edges off his cutting board.

Cheryl Hazard and Scott Baker work together during Print Shop.

Mr. Barth studies the grain of wood.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Jessica Ingolia draws a picture perfect face.

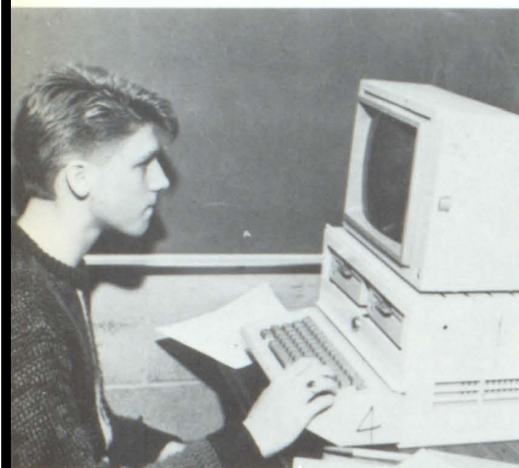

Lisa Axsom laughs as she writes a caption for her picture.

Donna Sweet and Michelle Johnston are in shock after Mr. Schlottman informs them of their grades.

Paul Fox writes in his computer program.

Cyndy Schlabach reads over her assignment.

JT and Mike Cuddington are in charge of the Exit Ramp sale to Paul Smith.

Business classes are one of the more important courses offered at Kimball. They give students actual training for future careers. Some classes provided are typing, shorthand, computer programming, and accounting. This year is the first year Kimball is a part of a business club called the Business and Office Education Club, or BOEC. Some of the purposes of BOEC are: to strengthen the confidence of young people in themselves and their work; to motivate the instruction in business education; and to assist students in refining their career objectives through realistic training. A BOEC membership is for any high school student enrolled in a business program with a committed interest to a career objective in the business world. Being on BOEC, or taking any sort of business class, is a good way to prepare yourself for life after Kimball.

AnnMarie Roberts and Cheryl Scott compare notes.

Marianne Keinath has no trouble typing in her assignment.

BUSINESS

Concentrating hard on Accounting homework is studious Anita Houck.

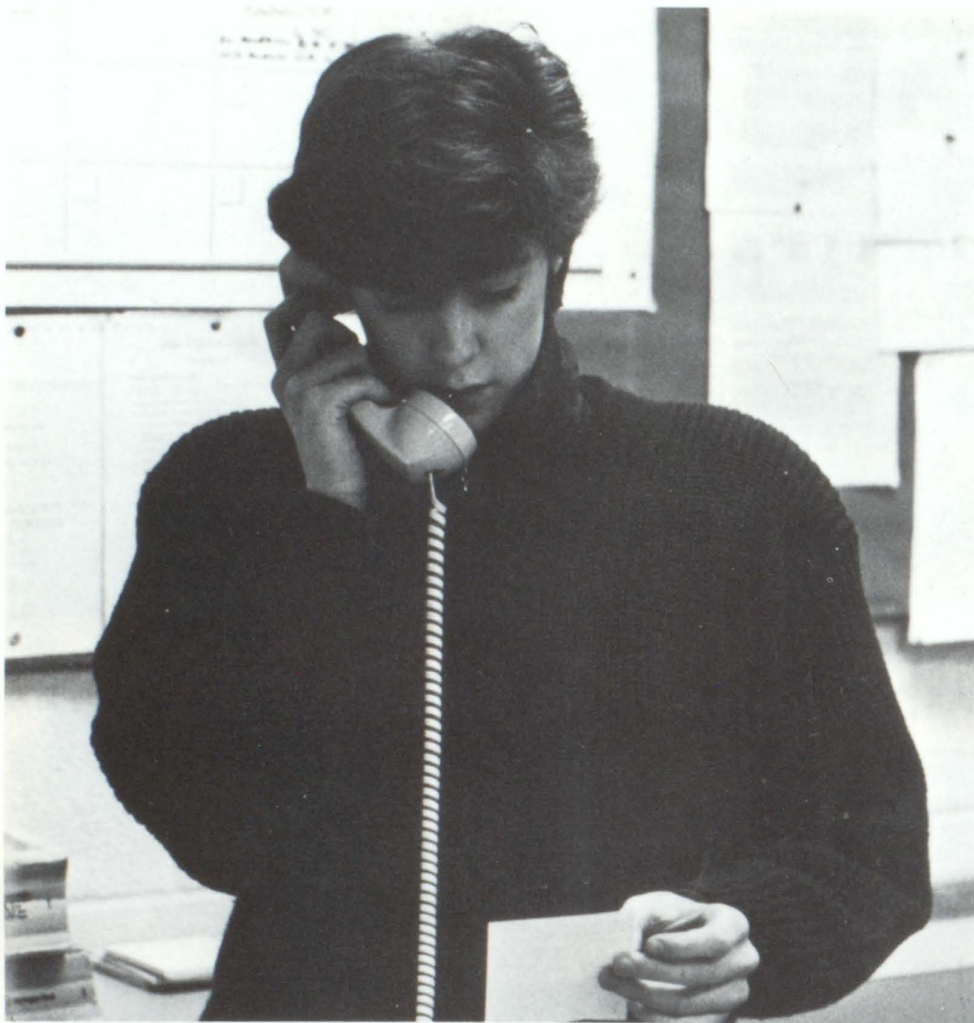

Deana Chambers and Kelly Snider help each other proofread papers.

An ecstatic Ms. Milich is really enjoying her work.

Martha Kozak and Shannon Nichols experiment with the computer and printer.

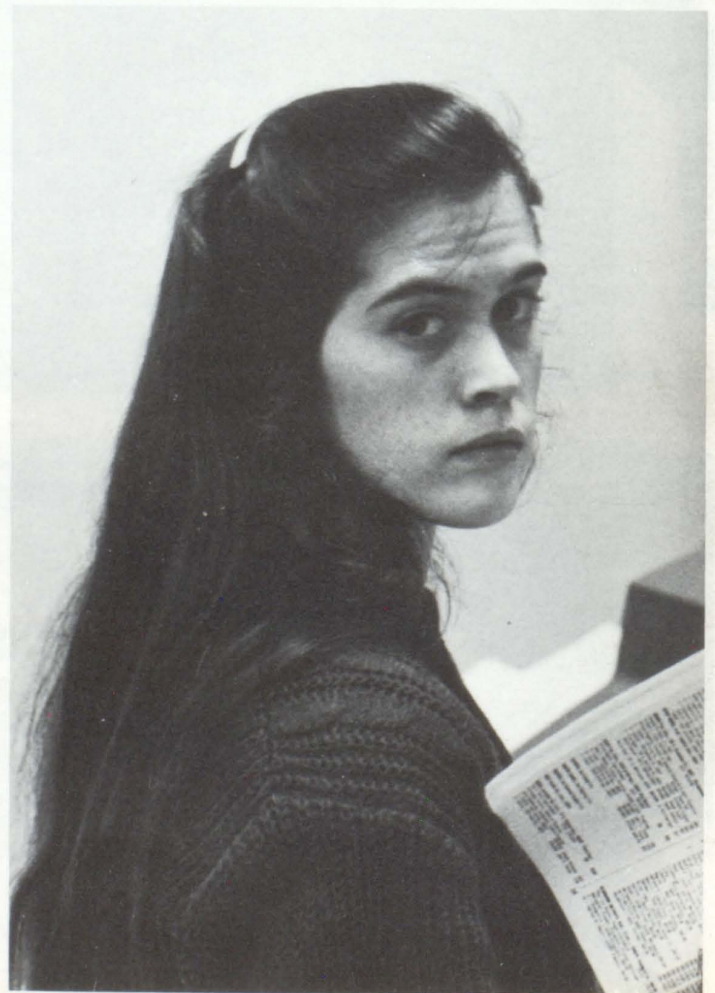

Co-op is an excellent course that allows students the opportunity of working while in school. Students can get Co-op jobs in three fields: Business, Office and Trade, and Industry. Taking Co-op is a good way to gain experience for future career fields, because it is the actual training. It allows students to go to school for part of the day and then the other part, to their job. Another of the benefits of Co-op is that besides getting credit, students get paid. So, all in all, Co-op is an influential program that is very worthwhile to students.

Linda Wilson gives with the camera a thoughtful look.

Debi Killewald relays a message to the person on the phone.

Julie Burry and Bonnie Fetting discuss the matters at hand - while Mrs. Fry works in the background.

Jennifer Field pauses before filing the papers into the cabinet.

Mrs. Kozlowski shows Candy Wolgast what to do.

CO-OP

Sylvia Vivanco searches for her needed information.

Although Mrs. McKay experiences many busy days, she never loses her good nature while helping Co-op students and others.

⇒ Mrs. Fry and Loretta Wekwert are so deep into their discussion they don't notice the camera.

CO-OP

↑ Wendy Hockstad ignores the pestering people in the student service center.

⇐ Jay Grabowski shows off his mechanical talents.

Julie Burry hides from the camera behind Bonnie Fetting.↑

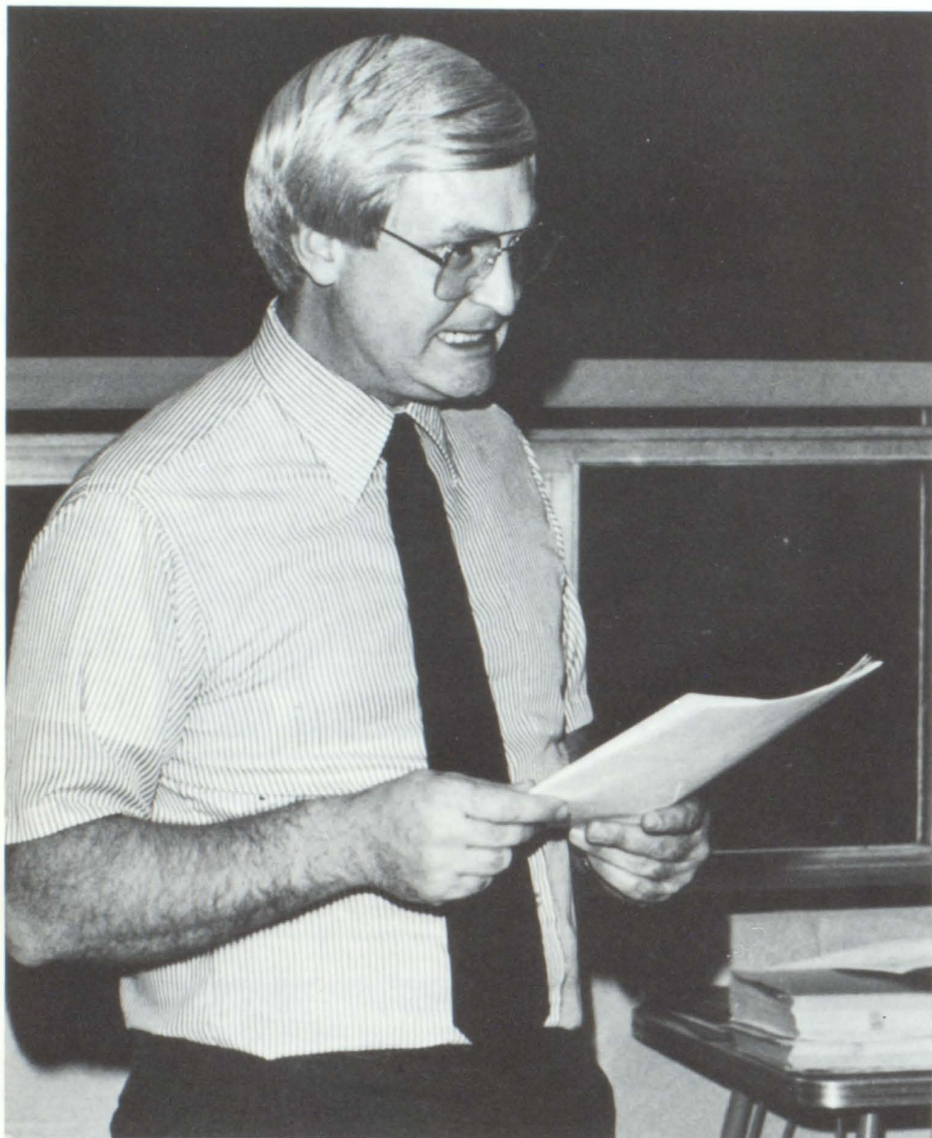

←Gina Holly carefully transcribes her notes onto the word processor.

↓Mr. Barth and Mr. Chard leisurely discuss the crazy students that roam the halls.

←Michelle Morrish takes a moment to flash a grin at the camera.

Mr. Norsworthy expresses his feelings toward his class's behavior.

Renee Tong and friend make an urgent request!

Language Arts teaches the students at Kimball High School the art of communication. In English the department offers a variety of classes in reading, writing, and speaking. In such classes as writing-students have choices ranging from Basic Composition to Imaginative Writing.

Another branch produces the newspaper and yearbook while reading and speaking classes are varied enough for everyone's tastes.

The Foreign Language classes offer French, Latin, Spanish, and German. These classes give students a chance to learn about different countries and cultures as well as learn how to speak the language.

Overall the Language Arts Department is a vital part of Kimball's curriculum, not only because it's fun but because it's required!

Mrs. Bowen teaches her class the fundamentals of Spanish.

Is Dennis Tempia always this enthusiastic?

Mrs. Warren quiets the students--and our Lancer photographer.

LANGUAGE ARTS

Dan Dorsz fights for his right to use the bathroom pass.

Deanne Lewis, Neeru Sharma, and Heather Bradshaw are not the least bit affected by the camera.

Charlene Kremer writes her answer on the board.

Katie Dolan is so good at Spanish that she can even read it upside down.

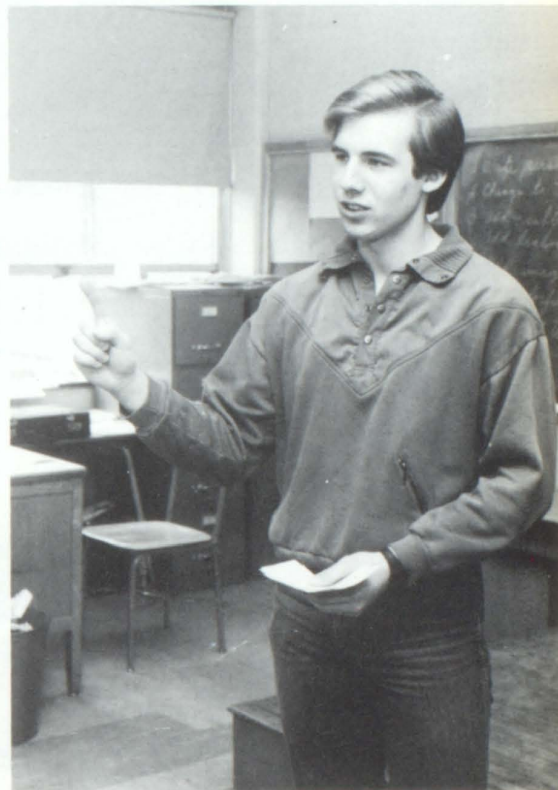

Molly Greening takes a 7th ining stretch during Latin class.

Brian Howell searches for the winning bingo in French class.

Jon Bruner stresses an important point during his speech.

Jim Starns eagerly raises his hand while Heather Johnson couldn't be bothered.

Matt Bonkovich, Todd Braund, and Jill Holly work together to conquer an Extended Algebra assignment.

Jenny Ritz and Amy Belknap talk with Mr. Ewell at the end of math class.

Cindy Alexander smiles as Mr. Richards lectures during Algebra.

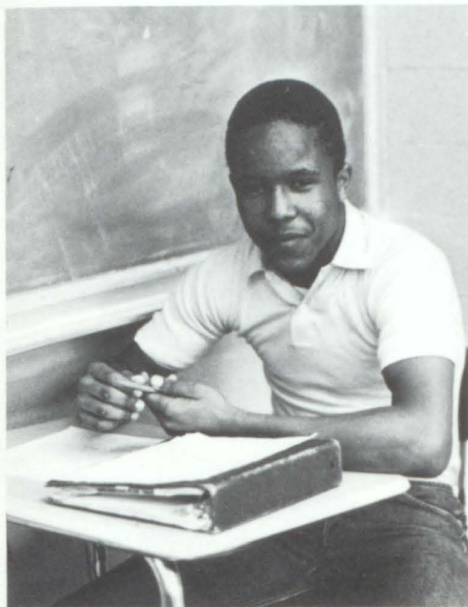

In math classes, Kimball students learn the fundamentals that lead to precise reasoning, logical thinking, and most of all, how to apply these acquired facts to everyday life. In Algebra I and 2, Freshmen are battled by unconquerable story problems. Juniors can't forget that quadratic formula, and Seniors find that solid geometry and trigonometry require much effort for success.

Kimball also offers general math and various honor courses in mathematics. In General Math, students learn the basic functions. Among these functions are fractions, percentages, and some algebra. In the honors courses, students develop their ability by studying with other students close to their ability. No matter what level a student is involved in, he learns the most important factor: applying the learned skills to everyday life.

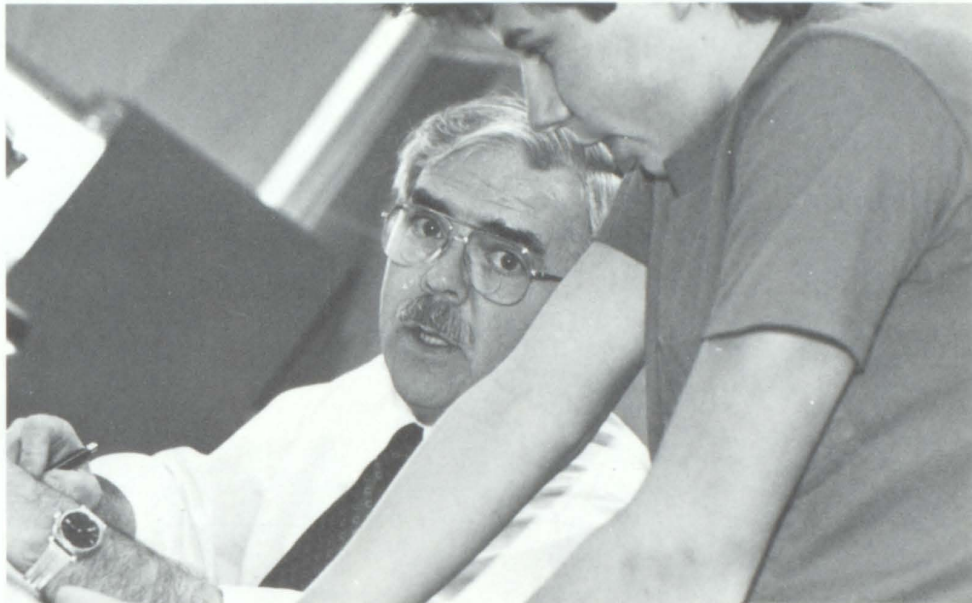

Jason Gnatek drifts off into the fantasy world of story problems.

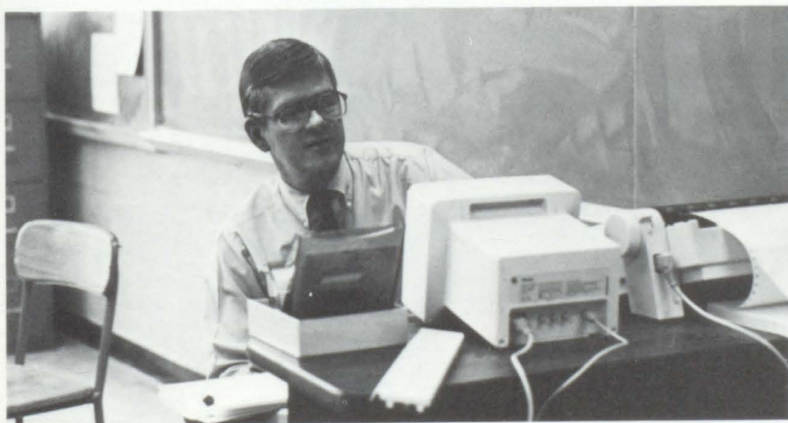

Dmitri Dent takes time out from doing his math to smile for the camera.

Don Downie listens intently as Mr. Richards explains a Honors Algebra problem.

MATH

Mr. Briercheck takes a break from teaching to work at his computer.

After receiving her Algebra test results, Wendy Wedepohl smiles in relief.

Rebecca Amell and Ann Madigan decide that doing math isn't fun and discuss the latest gossip instead.

Debbie Yontz tackles a problem on the board for all to admire.

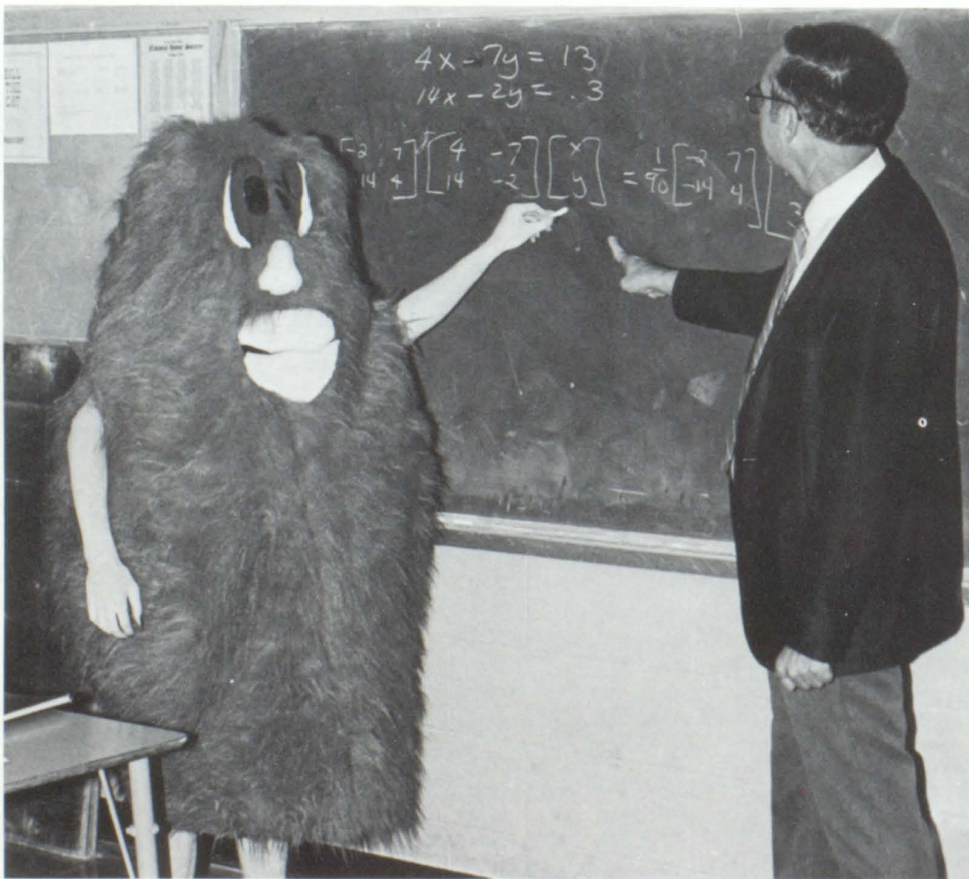

Bob Reid and Pat Landreth study the board intensely.

Ms. Barth, why are you frowning at those math quizzes?

Krystal Hall inspects her math paper for any mistakes.

Mr. Pedrick will teach anything Advanced Algebra.

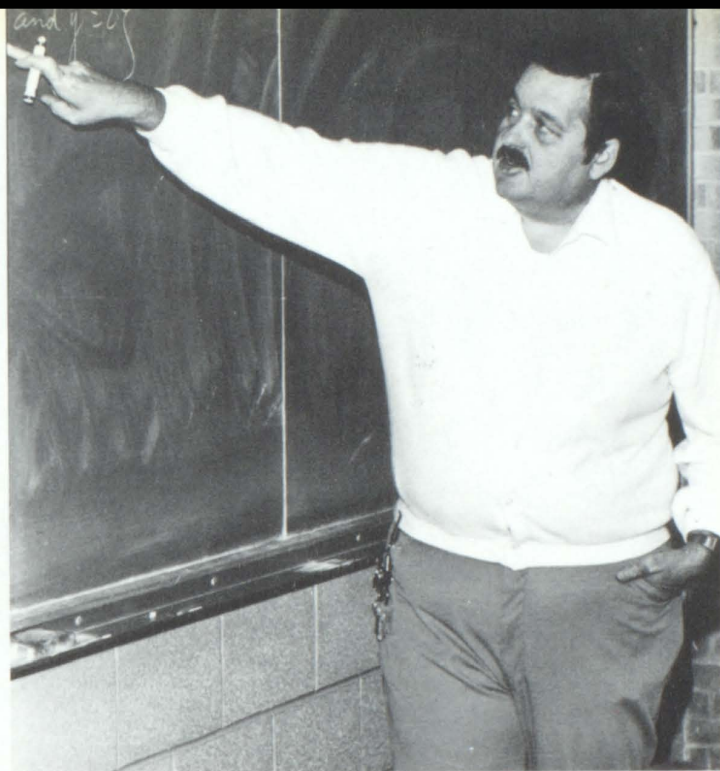

Michelle Weiss finds chewing her pencil more interesting than mathematics.

Bill Hynes and Jeanette Kemble work diligently on their assignment.

Mr. Clark explains the mysteries of Algebra to his class.

Nicole Remick pays rapt attention to the mathematical lecture.

Aaron Simpkins and Bill Doetze are heavily involved in the Algebra lecture.

Carrie Hottman takes on mathematics with a smile.

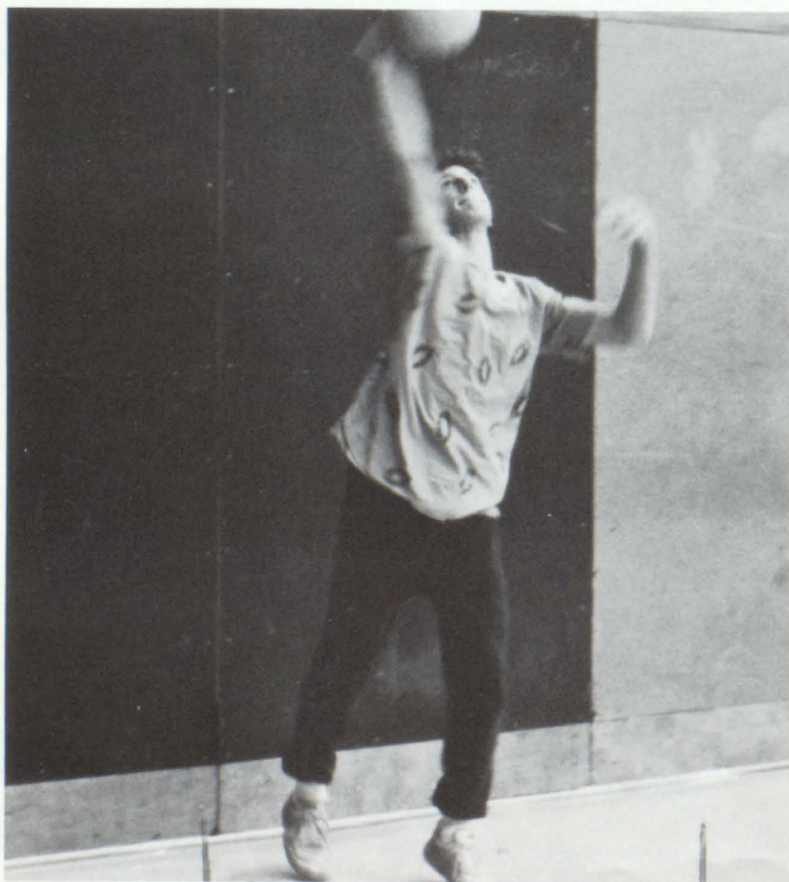

Tom MacKay are you paying attention?

Kristin Crossland smiles as she tosses the ball to her team-mate.

Being in good health is quite important, so it's no wonder that Physical Education plays such an important role in the Kimball program. Often known as gym, Physical Education gives students the chance to practice their skill coordination. Some of the many sports played in gym class are: softball, football, volley ball, basketball, floor hockey, swimming, track, aerobics, and weight-lifting. Gym class is a one year graduation requirement that is usually taken freshman year. There are other classes interested students can take. For example, Body and Weight Training is available. Physical Education is a pleasant change from the sitting-down, all-hour classes and is a great chance to keep in shape.

Jason Tillery makes the final winning point with one of his famous volleyball spikes.

Health teacher, Mrs. Tobias, explains the day's assignment to the class.

Rob Dickinson nails the ball into centerfield.

An injured Paul Smith sadly watches his class play volleyball.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Josh Millar watches the volleyball soar over the net.

Stop! Drop! and roll.

"What's up?" wonders Butch Sink.

Rochelle Tong and Kris Cauley work hard at their science lab.

The scientific world is studied at Kimball in many different ways. In biology we begin to study about animal and plant life. Laboratory studies are done with diagrams and careful observations. We begin to understand the scientific world by studying the mysteries in chemistry. Elements and compounds are analyzed both in the classroom and in the laboratory.

Mr. Gasiorowski takes time out to explain cell structures to some of his students.

Left: Steve Paull makes a splash in the water while cleaning out equipment used in an experiment.

Above: Lisa Pickard and Debbie Yontz concentrate to the fullest to get the correct weight for their lab.

SCIENCE

Below: Mr. Poznick works hard grading his students' papers, wishing they would work as hard as he.

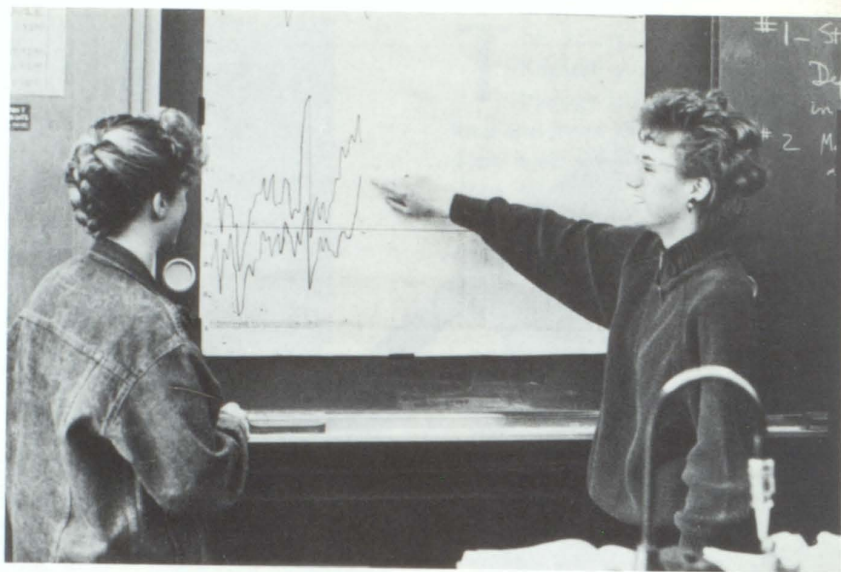

Right: Mr. McLead stops talking to Jeff Flore to flash a smile for the camera.

Dan Padget is pointing out the anatomy of a grasshopper during class.

Deanna Chambers is showing Tracy Engelberts how to read the weather chart.

SCIENCE

Lisa Pink and Mr. Gasiorowski fish around the courtyard pond for frogs.

Doug Brecht tries to net a few butterflies, which rest unsuspectingly on a low branch.

Tiffany Smith cautiously pets Mr. Hansen's ferocious guinea pig.

Troy Butler leaves class to enjoy the fire drill.

Tracey Graham, a young psychologist at work.

SOCIAL STUDIES

↑ Dawn Forgie, Jolanda Kleinovermeer, Robin Sheridan, and Jeni Foss represent Kimball in an Intercity Anti-Drug Seminar.

↑ Allison Reynolds uses both hands to get her teacher's attention.

↑ Jennifer Neally, meanwhile, uses the half hand method.

← Mr. Nash and Rob Martin joke about schoolwork.

→ Mr. Stange tips his chair back and smiles at his favorite class.

Colleen Kavanagh wonders in history, "Where is Curtis?"

Curtis Yenshaw in government remarks, "Where is Colleen?"

Are you geographically lost? Politically baffled? Psychologically confused? Socially misled? Or even historically unaware? Perhaps one of our Social Studies courses here at Kimball can help answer any doubts in your mind.

Besides the two required classes, U.S. History and American Government, there are a number of other enlightening classes. Just to name a few: Psychology, Survey of Our Social World, World Geography, Futuristics, and Asian history. With these courses, your Social Studies knowledge will increase and your future will broaden.

Barb Hall peeks up from her history book to give us a smile.

Pam Shook takes a break from history during a fire drill.

Mr. Ashley, content as usual.

Obviously, geography is a laughing matter to Jeri Hier.

Donna Sweet lectures to the class about the Southern Colonies.

Kenny Roskelly smiles about the grade on his psychology test.

Mr. Bush is caught skipping his Futuristics class.

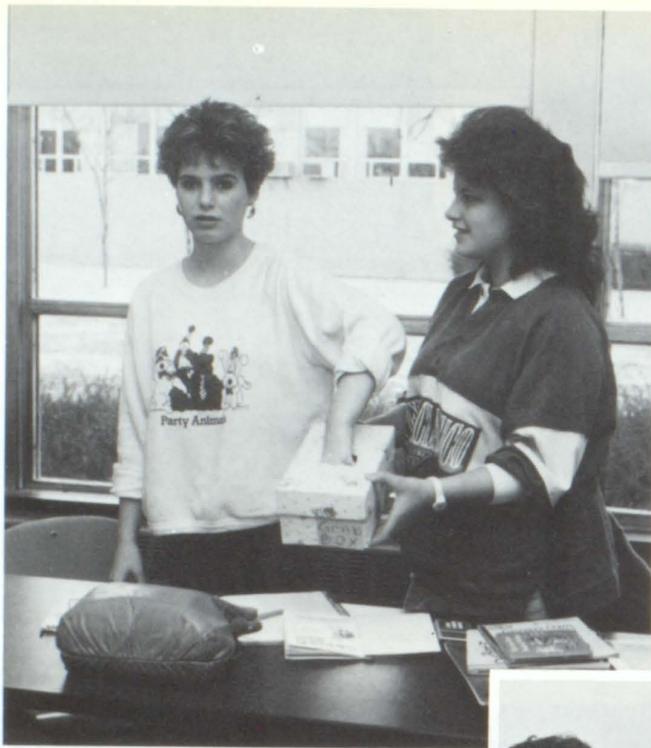

Dave Lance takes a glance at the students in his World History class.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Julie Konsek smirks about Mr. Nash's comment.

Christine Breisch draws something from the grab box while Susan Belasco assists her by holding the box.

Kim Crowe and Lori Hockstad create an interesting picture on the felt board.

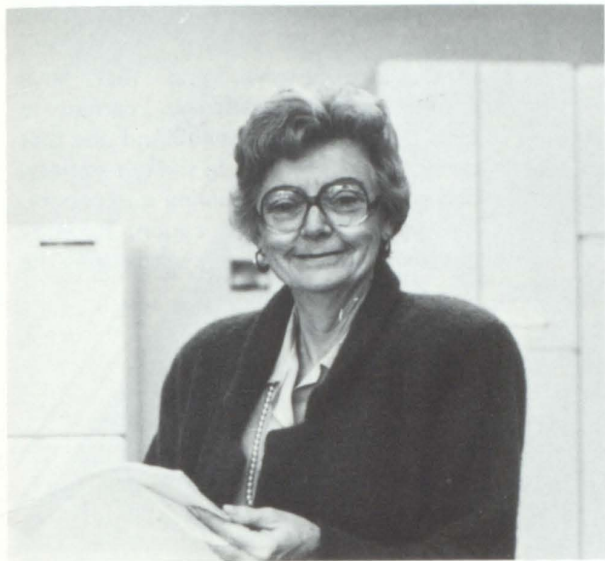

Sean Hampson smiles to himself as he cuts a pattern for his sewing class.

Mike Belasco concentrates on his complicated sewing assignment.

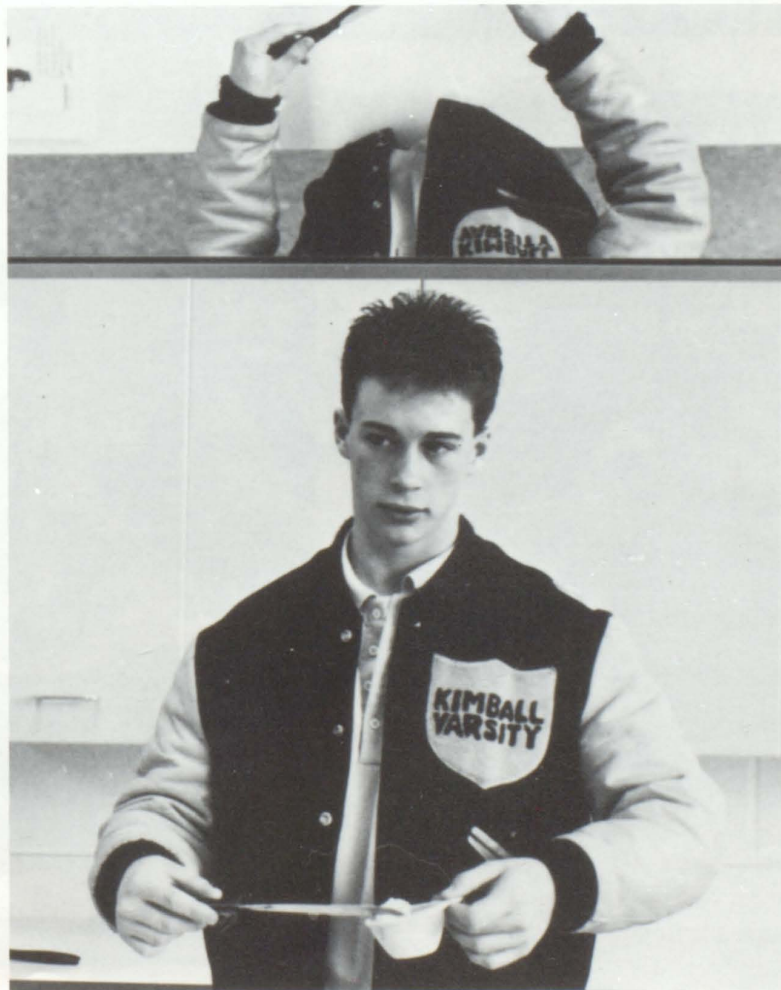

Mrs. Connell puts on a pleasant smile for the camera.

Tracy Smith works with care on cutting the fabric for her skirt.

HOME ECONOMICS

Rick Allmen measures out the butter for his cookies.

Mary Sullivan smiles gratefully at Ms. Williams for helping her fit her new coat.

Mr. Kettenbeil holds the door for the student.

Tina Ronan takes to the road.

Dean Fertita, Pat Landreth, and Andrea Comeau are fascinated by the making of a Drivers' Ed book.

Drivers' Education takes the pressure off nervous parents by teaching their children how to drive. Drivers' Education consists of bookwork, movies, range-work, and that final frightening step, roadwork. Learning to drive is a big responsibility and one that many look forward to. In today's society, driving is quickly becoming a necessity. By taking Drivers' Education, students gain experience that they will be using the rest of their lives.

Andrea Comeau looks only too anxious to drive.

Doug Brecht is working diligently on his assignment.

DRIVERS' EDUCATION

Instructor, Mr. Freeman, directs traffic.

This is just a sign to remind us of who we are.

Students feel at home on the range.

Stanley F. Harris, Treasurer, listens to a presentation.

Royal Oak Superintendent of Schools, Larry Nichols, and President, Kent Schultz, consult privately over a question.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

President Kent Schultz takes a moment to analyze the situation.

The Board of Education of the 1986-87 school year consists of the following: (from l to r): Robert D. Morrison, Vice-President; Kent D. Schultz, President; Stanley F. Harris, Treasurer; Stephen L. Weber, Trustee; Gloria E. Kremer, Secretary; Kaye Brooks, Trustee; and Kathryn E. Ogger, Trustee.

K. Hallberg, T. Wiseman, and R. Foster discuss the score.

Mrs. Greco smiles despite the disruption.

Mr. Richards explains how easy math can be.

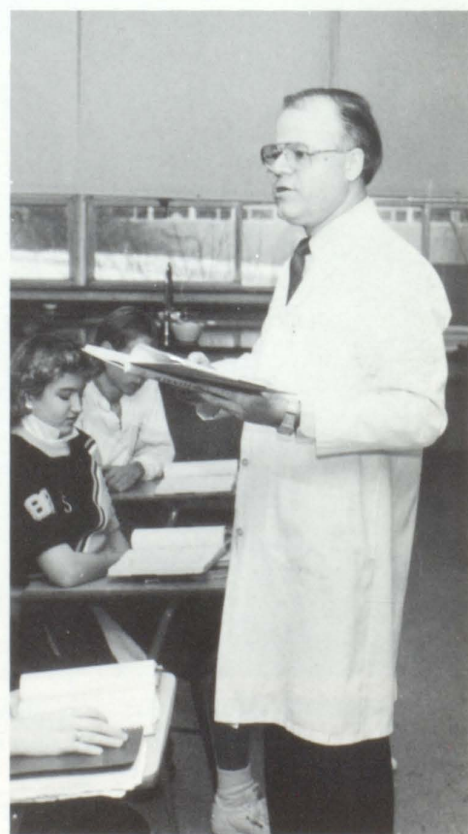

Mrs. Hirst's relief person expresses the joy of being on the front line. Mr. Welsh greets a student with an urgent problem.

Susan Paree demonstrates a smooth conductor's technique.

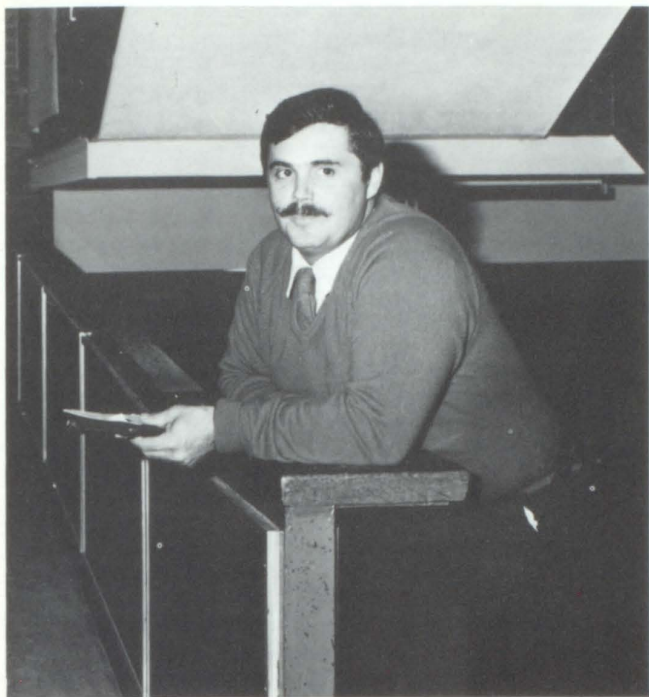

Mr. Light, Dan Ferns, Chris Folgson, Bruce Germund, Mr. Bush, and Jay Welch tell Santa (Mr. Borowski) what they want.

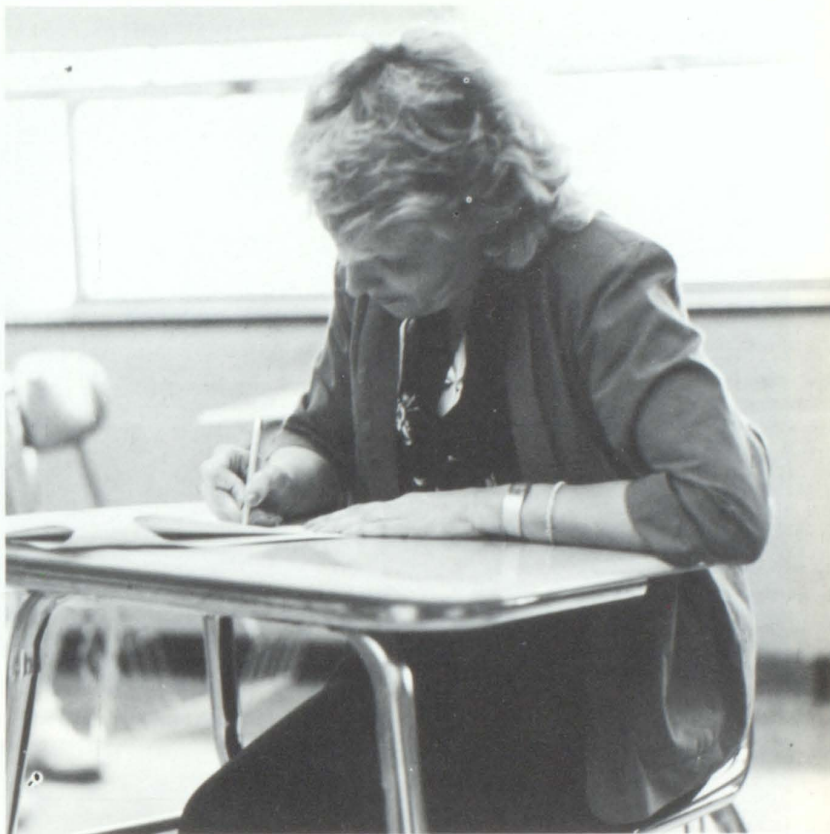

Mr. Heald sings the glory of "better living through chemistry."

John Giordano pauses for fresh air before checking under the ramp.

Mrs. Warren shows the correct posture for composition editing.

Mr. Armstrong welcomes all with a cheerful grin.

Mr. Freeman explains the finer points of business education.

Mr. Norsworthy never minds helping students with their German.

Here is a look at Mr. Stephan's day-to-day, busy schedule. You can usually see him with teachers, students, his assistant principals, or maybe alone.

This picture should remind most teachers of those memorable Tuesdays in the cafeteria.

Mr. Stephan has been involved with schools and teaching for the past 34 years. All of these years have been spent in Royal Oak, except for 3½ years he spent in the service.

Beginning his career at Mary Lyon Junior High, he taught only briefly before coming to Kimball in February of 1956.

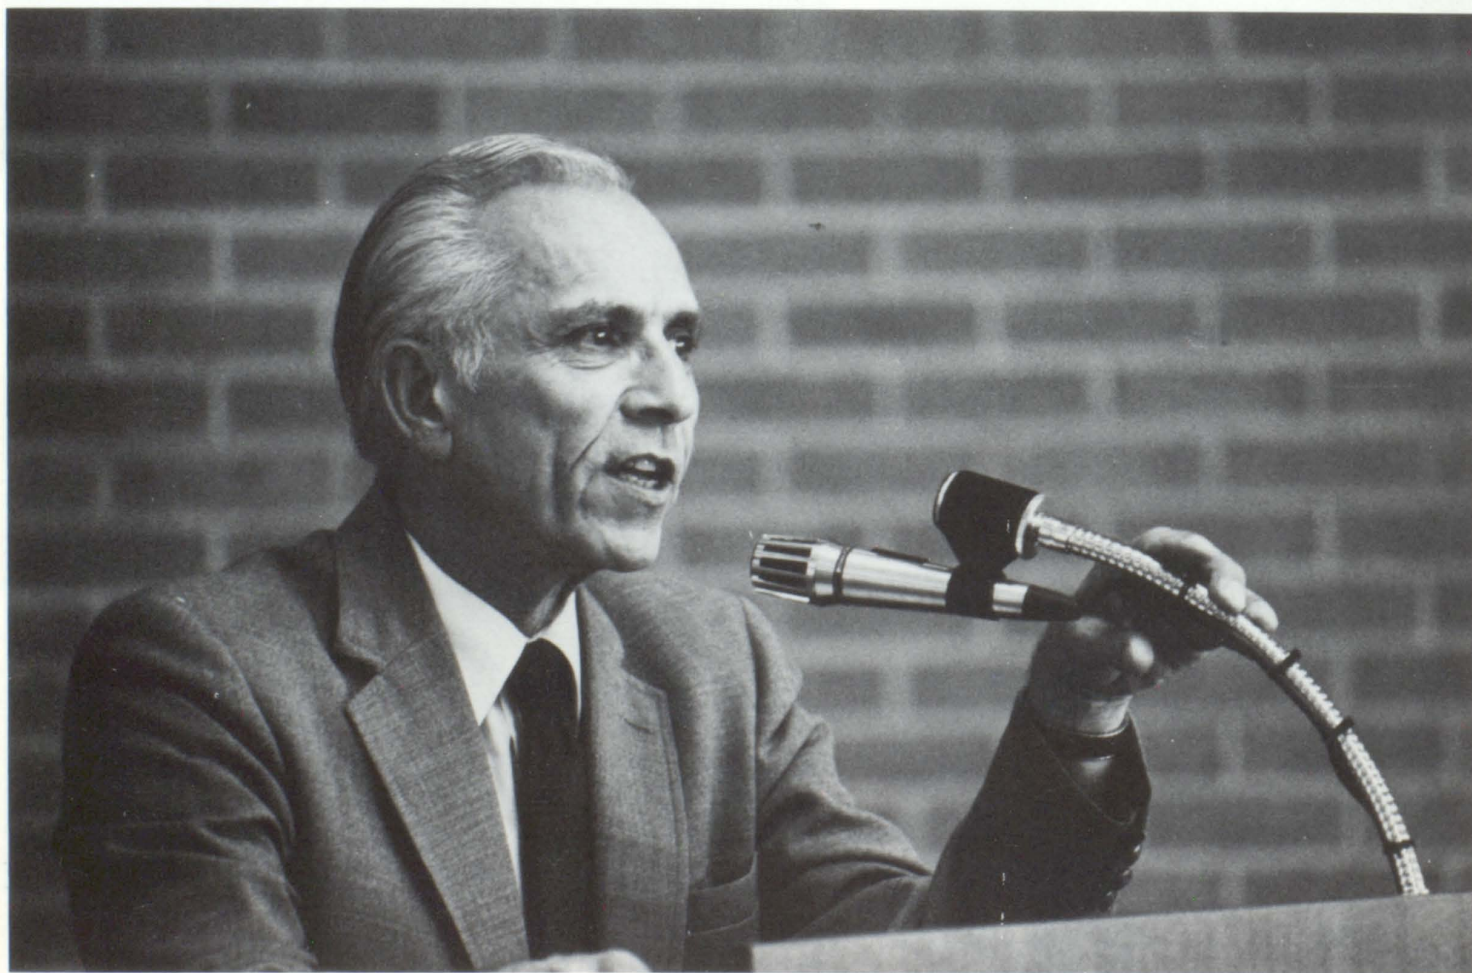

When asked what his most memorable experience was, he replied: "The most memorable, and most difficult era, was during the years 1968-1972. Memories of this time are very fond and pleasant because of the students and the community. Kimball enjoyed an exceptional reputation both academically and athletically, and we were very large, the largest outside of Detroit in enrollment. There were 3400 students enrolled here then, as opposed to only 1500 now."

Mr. Stephan was then asked: "If you were to give the graduating class one piece of advice, what would it be?"

There was no hesitation preceding his answer, "I would tell them to establish goals, and to develop and maintain stable relationships with others, family, friends, and colleagues. Also, I would advise them to develop a plan to achieve those things that will be rewarding and offer happiness."

With the time running short, and the interview drawing to a close, I asked him my final question, "How would you like the exiting class of 1987 to remember you?"

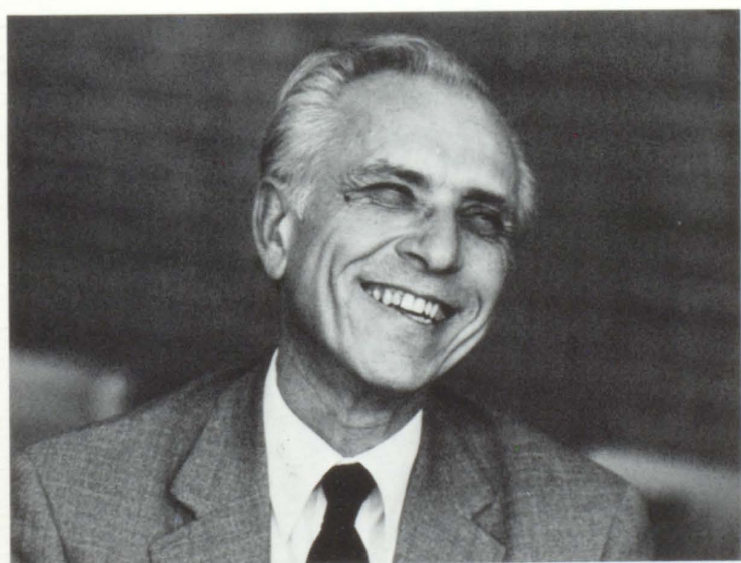

"I would like to be remembered as a person who cared about the best for everyone who has attended and will attend Royal Oak Kimball socially and academically. And (pause) as someone who has done all he can do to insure quality in the school environment."

DEDICATION

PRINCIPAL STEPHAN

Yes, it is the Drivers' Education Range. Don't you wish this car were still there.

Thirty years ago in 1957 Royal Oak Kimball opened its doors. It welcomed an eager nine hundred students and fifty-one teachers. The 4.5 million dollar school was not quite finished that opening day but classes began for the start of the second semester. There was no graduating class from Kimball that year because the seniors at Dondero stayed to finish out the year. Just as the traditional thirtieth anniversary has changed from pearl to diamonds, Kimball has done some changing, too.

At one time Kimball had around 2500 students. Now, we have around 1400. There are many more classes to choose from and many more activities to participate in, also.

A look of Kimball from a different view. The doors leading into the forever-remembered glass hall.

Who is this man? It is Mr. Clarence M. Kimball.

POWDER PUFF

The Senior Terminators are, (from top left) Martha Kozak, Kathy Steele, Melanie Strohm, Beth McClure, Nicole Remick, Laura Wolf, Pam Howe, Michelle Fox, Tracey Bera, Becki Nemeth, Gina Holly, Brian Grow, Tracey Graham, Sally Hill, Jeri Arnold, Heather Mobley, Colleen Johnson, Christ Matheny, Mary Sullivan, Eric Sargent, Mike Coyne, and Butch Sink.

A few of our Junior players take a break during practice.

A little push never hurt anyone!!

Our Kimball Senior men show us their more feminine side for the evening.

Pam Howe shows her stuff by going in for a touchdown during practice.

The Kimball Powder Puff teams try to get the plays just right!

Shelly Barlow, Sheri Simmons, and Martha Kozak discuss their next play with the rest of the terminators.

Erin McKinley is feeling a little out of it as the game seems to continue forever.

In this year's Powder Puff game the Junior Massacres lost to the Senior Terminators. In the first quarter, the seniors scored the first touchdown of the game. On the return kick, Michelle Weiss caught the ball and ran for the first Junior touchdown to even out the score. In the fourth quarter, the Seniors scored again with a final touchdown. The Seniors won the game with a 12 to 6 victory.

The Junior Massacres are from (Top Left): D. Dwyer, J. Quick, M. Cook, K. May, R. Hayden, K. Foss, D. Grenier, J. Graham, P. Link, J. Jewell, K. Cauley, M. Probe, M. Weiss, M. Keinath, M. Ralko, S. # THE BAD SEED

Rhoda (Allison Reynolds) listens intently as her mother tells her a story.

Reginald Tasker (Rich Patterson) spins a yarn about murder and deception.

Christine Penmark (Laura Crandall) gasps as she realizes that her daughter is the murderer.

Monica Breedlove (Deborah Hayes) scolds Leroy (Jim Braun) after he spills water on Rhoda's (Allison Reynolds) shoes.

The cast (back row, ltoR) B. Major, D. Lantz, P. Ensley, M. Hizer, T. Hittie, J. Payne, (on couch) R. Patterson, L. Crandall, A. Reynolds, A. Gardner, P. Howe, (in front) J. Braun, D. Hayes.

The 1986 Fall Play was THE BAD SEED. The story was about a young girl who murdered innocent people who didn't allow her to have her way. Her mother realized that she was the killer after she murdered a young boy over a penmanship medal that he had received instead of her. At the end of the play, her mother took drastic actions to prevent Rhoda from hurting anyone else. As it turned out, Rhoda got her own way and her mother died.

Col. Kenneth Penmark (Paul Ensley) says goodbye to his little girl.

Emory, Monica, Christine, and Reginald discuss murder over a cup of tea.

Mrs. Daigle (Annette Gardner) speaks with Miss Fern (Pam Howe) about her murdered son.

ROUNDTABLE

The Senior class Roundtable Representatives are, (LtoR): Matt Marino, Jay Welch, Mike Coyne, Michelle Fox, and Sheri Simmons.

Matt Marino, Jay Welch, and Mike Coyne work hard, as usual.

The Sophomore class Roundtable Representatives are, (LtoR): John Haack, Cody Henderson, Jeanette Kemble, Jeff Doyle, Jackie Herrin, Katy Gentile, and Christa Wheaton.

The Junior class Roundtable Representatives are (LtoR) John Stromberg, Rich Kysia, Marty Conseyea, Karey Cauley, Jenny Jewell, and Stephanie McGuire.

The class officers (LtoR) Secretary - Tammy Jordan, Treasurer - Matt Godlewski, Advisor - Mr. Popovecz, Vice President - Michele Weiss, President - Shelly Woll.

Roundtable Reps. work on posters for the Halloween dance.

Our Student Government program is very impressive. Students are elected by other classmates to work on Roundtable. It is their job to represent the school. They plan several school activities, fundraisers, and events that everyone is encouraged to participate in. A few of the things that they have organized are: dances, the canned food drive, Spirit Week, and Field Day. As you can see, Roundtable is a very important part of our school. They do their best to represent all of the students at Kimball.

The freshman class Roundtable Reps. are (LtoR) Linda Day, Sarah Hodgins, Nicole Keisoglou, Diana Hafterhoft, Michael Fox, and Jenny Streigh.

LANCER

Liesl Large uses the sunlight as her aid in creating our fabulous cover.

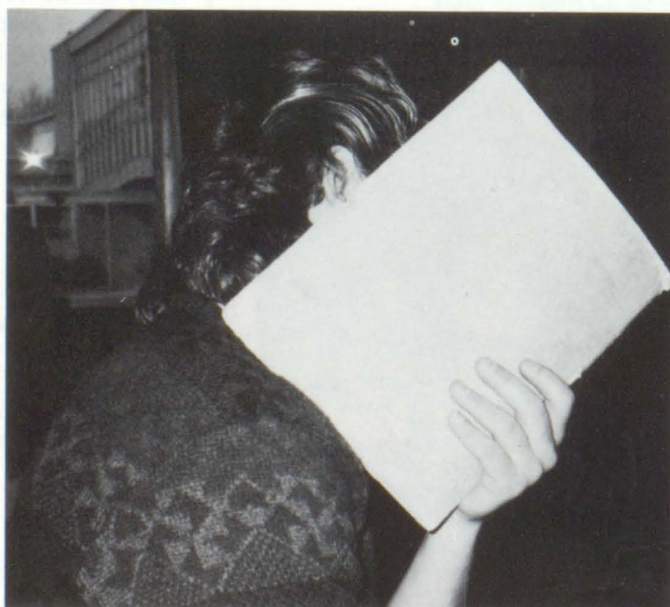

Kim Ardison was at Close-Up in Washington, D.C. when the group picture was taken.

Amy Papernik limps her way through the alley between Avante Garb and Noir Leather in downtown Royal Oak.

Colleen Kavanagh and Cody Henderson chuckle over funny photos taken here at Kimball High.

Joe Floyd hides his face in shame . . . of being the only male in the class.

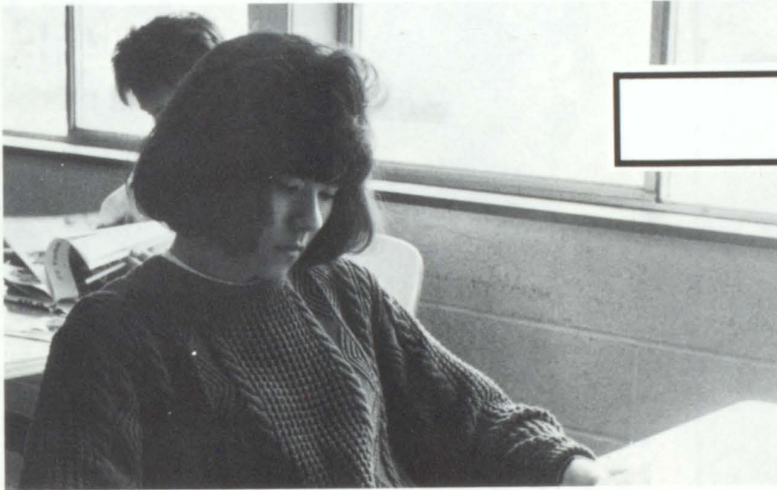

Heather Fassett and Jenny Snell leaf through the filing cabinets looking for photos.

Lisa Guccini watches Heather Haack do her work.

Mary Allen searches for the type of printing she will use.

Monica Segal concentrates on her layout.

“A deadline next Monday!” is a cry often heard drifting out of room 153. Every day massive amounts of work must be started and completed. This year we got off to a rocky start trying to decide what theme would suit the Lancer this year. The Lancer staff’s final decision was, “Out of the Blue and into the Gold.” We chose this theme because we felt as though Kimball High School stands above the rest. The 1987 Lancer staff would like to thank Ms. Benita Fell for sticking with us when times were tough.

Barb Monaco puts great effort into her work.

Chip Donlin and Eric Sargent spend most of their class hour in the darkroom . . . developing photographs.

Sean Scully, Ugh . . . We love you!!!

The Herald staff has rejuvenated Kimball's publications. By quintupling the number of pages, adding the exciting Funpage, and breaking sales records of every kind, the Herald has exceeded all of our expectations. Mainly responsible for this is a crack team of daring journalists, and the daring, and quickwitted editing of Sean Scully, assisted by that flame haired, dependable Mary Ellen Chisholm. In the fore-front though, is the one woman strong enough to accept the challenge of advising The Herald, Gail Bennett. With a flaming heart, and a soul burning for excellence, she has driven The Herald to the cutting edge of high school journalism. Sigourney Weaver is being considered to star in a film about Mrs. Bennett's life. The staff itself is a slice of the best writers and controversial figures in Kimball. From Rich Patterson's world, to Erin McKinley's fashionably vague articles, the staff knows what it's doing. Even Jerry "Ratt Video" Hier leads the intellectual pack with his hard-hitting Metallica reviews. From Jeff Payne's views of movies, to Liz Dimitry's view of the world, we have it ALL! In a world of tabloid candles, The Herald is a literary sun.

Bently, D. Wiles, B. Fredrickson, and A. Nims. Row 4: B. Martin, P. Vertrees, J. Starns, M. Shuten, D. Knowlton, and T. Russell.

This year's Marching, Symphony, and Concert Bands have worked extra hard to sharpen their music talents. The Marching Band gives students a chance to learn professional music skills and participate in a memorable activity. Through rain, snow, sleet, or hail, Mr. Conaton marches on to perfect the promising and talented musicians belonging to Kimball.

This year, the Concert Band participated in the District Band and Orchestra Festival on March 14, 1987. They received a two rating and will receive medals for their outstanding performance. The Marching Band was invited to and performed at the Thanksgiving Day Parade and The Auto Show. The Symphony Band attended Festival and received a one, or superior, rating for their wonderful show.

Ann Marie Holas, this year's senior drum major, leads the Marching Band in a song.

Being a part of any musical group is both rewarding and fun. Whether it's producing beautiful harmony with eighty students or exhibiting perfect tone in a solo piece, music is a universal language. In choir, all students are part of the entire group. Their responsibility is to know their own section of the piece and to portray their best work in class and at concerts.

All of the music courses are open to anyone who has a little bit of talent and a lot of interest. Promotion to a higher choir is usually accomplished by auditions. In any case, being a member of these groups shows school spirit and dedication.

Each Fall, Dance Club members look forward to a long nine months of planning and rehearsals. Members work very hard to put on a successful performance each spring. The Orchesis members choreograph the numbers themselves, then put many hours of practice in to perfect them.

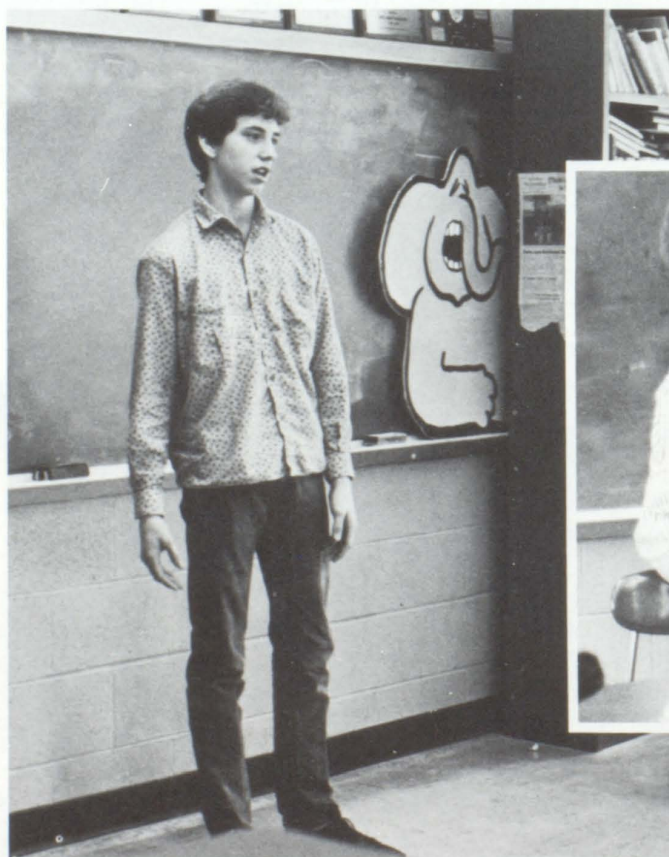

Each year, the number of dances the members are in increases. First year members are in one, second year are in two, third year are in three, and so on. The dancers are full of energy at show time, and their energy is expressed in their dancing, resulting in an exciting show each year.

DEBATE

Darren King thinks diligently for his next words of motivation.

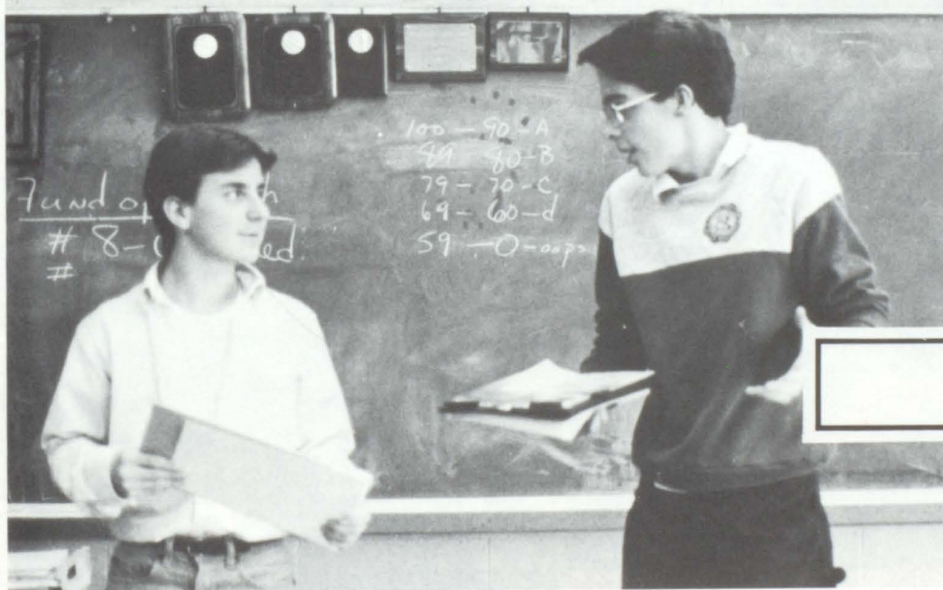

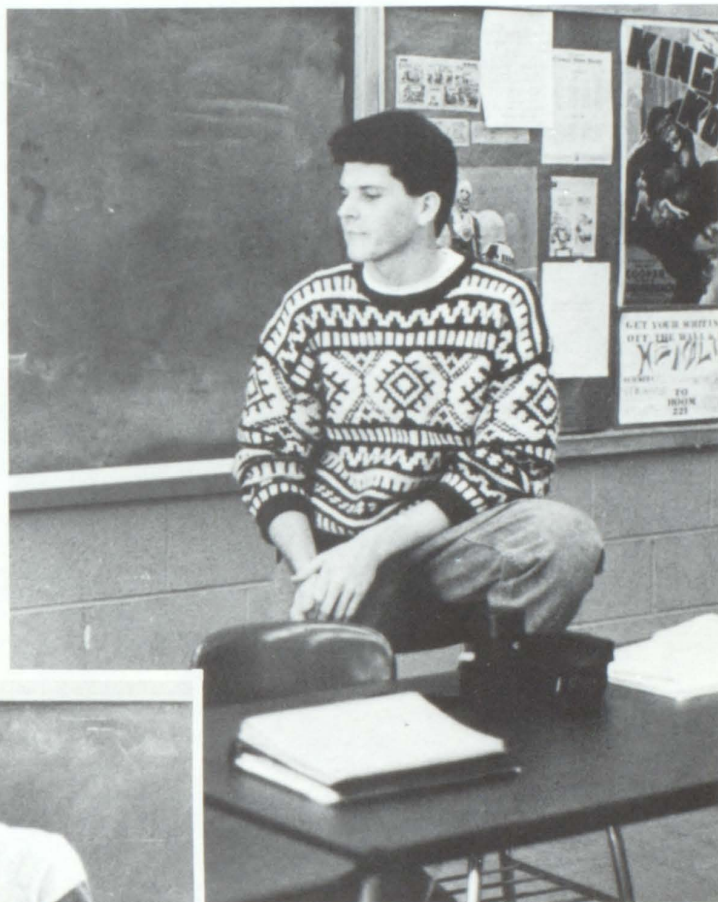

Bob Bryant asks Steve Williams, "What happened to your hair?"

Chip Joyce, John Clark, and Andy Mossoff discuss their views on Central America.

Bob Bryant ponders his opponent's views.

Andy Mossoff and Carter Dougherty go one-on-one during his discussion.

Amy Ryan adds a bite of sunshine to her discussion with a smile.

Mrs. Greco, the debate coach has provided plenty of inspiration for her students, to do their best. The debate trophies displayed in room 115 are evidence of this. Because of the debaters' successful talents and hard work, they have brought recognition to Kimball through awards for academic competition.

For many years, Kimball's debate teams have achieved the goals they sought. This year Kimball Debaters scored high in the recent John S. Knight Debate Contest, Senior Steve Williams capturing first place, and Bob Bryant not too far behind in third. That's just part of this year's successes. Steve Williams and Bill Ziegelmueller, a team of great achievements, were one of only two teams in the state to qualify for the nationals in June. Steve and Bill also captured top speaker titles in three tournaments.

Overall, the debate team's achievements were met. Winning three state-wide tournaments, and placing second in two others.

Forensics is a class of high goals and wonderful talents. Students acquire experience by giving many different types of speeches. They include extemporaneous, oratory, impromptu, serious, humorous, poetry, and duo.

This class combines the talents of acting, speech techniques, and a lot of concentration. Using these abilities, students attend selected tournaments, on Saturdays, in which they compete for titles. This year they placed first in their district. Also, eleven speakers qualified for the regionals in June. They are looking forward to many more glorious years.

In the spring of 1986 the Thespian Drama Club presented the musical South Pacific. It takes place on an island in the South Pacific during World War II. The story is about Emile de Becque (Timo Kurvi) and Ensign Nellie Forbush (Amy Gore), who fall in love with each other. It featured conflicts between American values and those of the island natives. The musical also starred Ted Wilks (Lt. Joseph Cable) and Kyla Boyse as Bloody Mary.

(LtoR) Deanne Lewis, Lynette Kerr, Julie Burry, Charlene Kremer, Sandy Stacey, and Ann Glasschroeder are the American nurses stationed in the South Pacific.

A rowdy Trevor Neumann shows his class spirit for the 1986 Field Day.

Kimball's 5th year of competition between the classes continued with the Seniors walking away with a triumphant 1st place. The other classes offered stiff competition in such events as the raw egg swallow, the tug-of-war, and the flipper race. The class of 1987 placed 2nd, followed by the newcomers, the class of 1989. The class of 1988, placed 4th, but in the end winning isn't all that counts. Field Day offers the student body of Kimball a day to get rid of the old routine and have some friendly competition.

Outstanding is an appropriate adjective to describe the 1986, Kimball Girls' Soccer team. Their confidence in each other and their positive attitude helped them break all kinds of Kimball records on the way to four state tournament victories. No other Kimball team has been able to get that far along in state competition. The team reaped the rewards for all of their hard work and effort when they placed second in the S.M.A. Their overall record was fourteen wins, three loses, and three ties. The 1986-87 Wrestling Team had an outstanding season, both Varsity and J.V. Varsity was 11-3 over all and 6-2 in the S.M.A. The team placed second in the S.M.A. league meet, tying for second over all with Troy. Coach Greg Castle feels that the J.V. and Varsity Teams did quite well. "Since we are still young we can all come back and do it again." There are three seniors that won't be back, Cecil Sherman, and the captains, Mark Sawicki, and Curtis Yenshaw.

Captain Sawicki exclaims, "I was supreme and everyone else followed. Curt, my understudy, had an excellent season due to my presence." Captain Yenshaw states that, "I had a great season and my other 'little' co-captain had an okay season, too."

↑ Coach Fralick frantically frets, while tapping his teeth awaiting the team's foul shot.

The 1987 Varsity Basketball team worked hard all season. They had an overall record of 5 and 17 and in the SMA they had a record of 1 and 13. Towards the end of the season, the team tried to make a comeback in a MSAA/SMA tournament. The coaches, Gary Fralick and Mike Heist, felt the team kept up spirit despite their record. This year's captains were Scott Hodgins and Phil Musick. The J.V. team had a 9 and 11 overall record. They were 4 and 10 in the SMA. The Freshman team's overall record was 10 and 11. In the SMA their record was 4 and 8. All in all, the teams did quite well. We'll get 'em next year.

Get your nose out of that newspaper, Laural

The crowd goes mad after a Kimball touch-down.

Rex Boyce is caught redhanded reading the Herald.

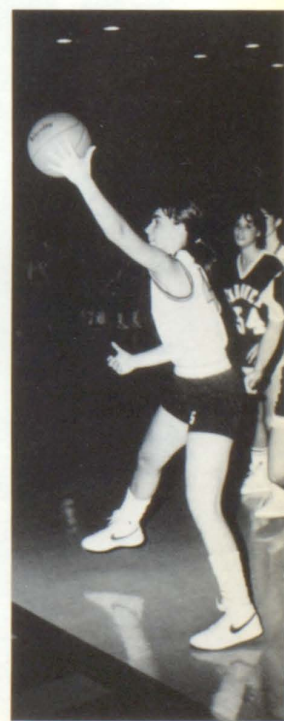

Aaron Ludwig, Doug Brecht, Kelly Wilamowski, and Jason Hill flash their sunny smiles in the famous glass hall.

Hal Do you really think I'm going to fall for that trick?

Cody Henderson, Donna Kenan, and Kristy Bera smile for the birdy.

"The Animal" once again dominates the courts.

Joe Guettler nods off to sleep during homeroom.

Charlene Kremer and Jill Kovacs enjoy the Herald.

Kara Van Leuven, Chris Kuhlman, Mike Welch, and Greg Hartner agree that sitting in the glass hall is a barrel of laughs.

Jim Petts II and Brendan Benson take a break from school to lounge around at Somerset.

Leslie Cole and Dave Miller dream of a better place.

Jim Work finds a sunny place to study.

Alas, another class of seniors is making their exodus from the hallowed halls of Kimball High.

Speaking here as a senior, for the seniors, we've spent some of the best and worst times of our lives within these scholarly walls. So much of the past few years of our lives has taken place here . . . We've laughed, cried, shared each other's dreams, and felt each other's pain, or joined in each other's happiness. We hated each other, we loved each other. Experiencing things for the very first time, we grew up together.

And now, as our last year here dwindles to a close, we're seeing each other for, perhaps, the last time in our lives. We are leaving our closest and dearest friends, whom we've spent so much time with, and shared so much with, to pursue our own lives.

Before now, it was always, "I'll see you next year . . ." "Next year we'll . . ." Well . . . There is no next year for us, class of '87, this is it. It's time to leave, and we can't look back. All we can take is our knowledge and our memories. Good or bad, they remain, and they'll linger on for years to come, long after our paper diplomas yellow on the wall, and our niches in life are filled.

Farewell class of 1987, may you find the best of luck always.

Seniors. Seniors. Seniors. Seniors. Seniors.

Seniors.

THE WORDS WE SAY

Seniors have a language all of their own. The words they use express their inner-most feelings and desires.

sweet (sa - weet) - good that's gay - that's stupid
psych - just kidding scam - to steal or to take away
dude - person or a friend

rad - best yeah - yes
bash - party
dork - someone who's not aware of what's going on around them

MOCK ELECTIONS

Mock Elections is an honor given to a group of seniors by their peers, for outstanding characteristics shown throughout the year.

Seniors cast ballots to decide which members of their class, who dramatize these characteristics, are to be awarded the prestigious honors.

The categories describe what the individual's possess. For some: it's their smile, eyes, or bodies; for others, it's their academics or athletics, for others still, a nose for news, taste for clothes, hairstyles, an ability to make us laugh and have a good time with their zany personalities and good spirits, love for one another, bashfulness, or being the class favorites.

In the years to come, the Seniors of 1987 will look back and remember those who were chosen for these qualities.

Love is sweet, as sweet as candy, but it doesn't take sweets to keep these two together. JERI ARNOLD and TROY DECKEBACH will stay together because, like diamonds, love is forever. That's why they are the "CUTEST COUPLE."

Hey, they've got that personality plus, walk personality plus, talk personality plus, smile personality, style personality ... you get the idea. By this modified jingle know that SYLVIA VIVANCO and JIM KEMP have that "PERSONALITY PLUS."

If the eyes have it then TRACY BERA and KEN ROSKELLY are voted in for "NICEST EYES." Their eyes twinkle and sparkle and light up the school to make a gloomy day, shiny and bright.

This dapper duo is always wearing their best no matter what season it is. If clothes make the person, then clothes make NICOLE FOURNIER and JEFF PAYNE "BEST DRESSED."

"Hair - it's political." That describes JESSICA INGOLIA and TIMO KURVI'S hairstyles which are surely not "to protect the skull." While you are walking down the street or down the hall you can tell them by their "DISTINCTIVE HAIR."

Teachers have one in every class, although they deny it. We unanimously agree that these two little angels, ANN MARIE HOLAS and MATT GODLEWSKI, are at the top of the list of "TEACHERS' PETS."

1 The craze of the 80's is fitness and exercise which is so well demonstrated by LAURA WOLF and CURTIS YEN-SHAW. It is obvious that their hard workouts have paid off because they have the "BEST BODS."

2 For the latest news and updates don't watch News 4 — just call ERIN MCKINLEY. Peanut butter is to jelly as Erin is to "MOST LIKELY TO SPREAD GOSSIP."

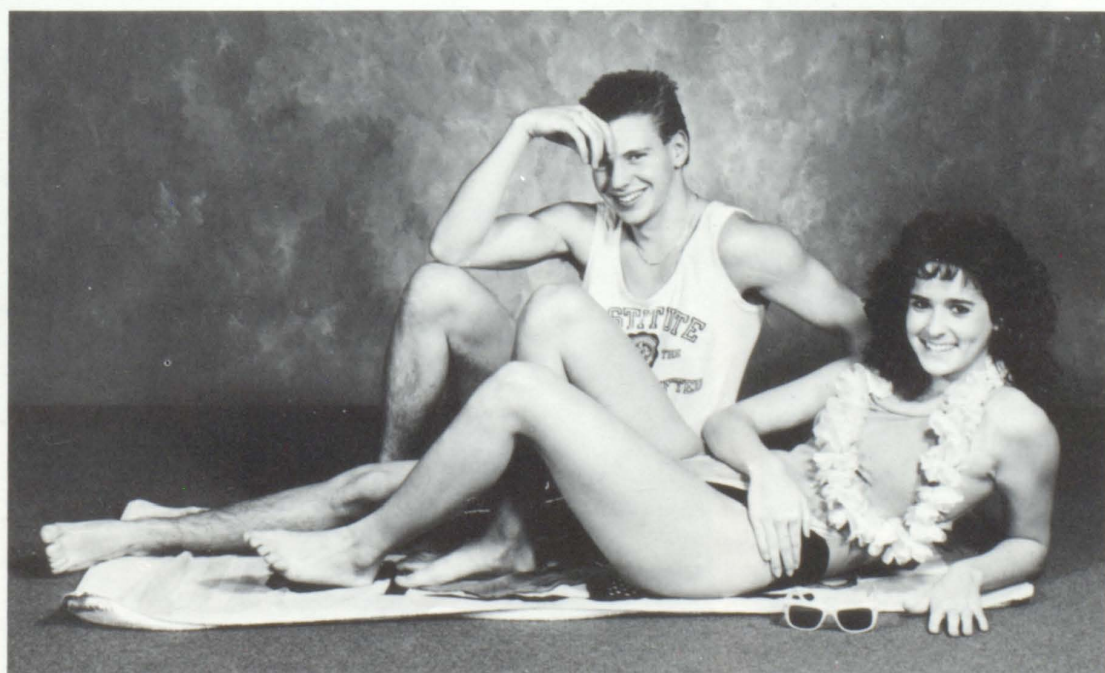

3 If you hear yelling, screaming, cheering, and rallies you can bet it is PAM HOWE and JAY WELCH proving that they truly have "THE MOST SCHOOL SPIRIT."

1 Webster defined a flirt as a person who is warmly affectionate, but in Kimball's dictionary you'll find DENA VALKO and CRAIG VINCENT as "BIGGEST FLIRTS."

2 At almost any sporting event you will see either SHANNON NICHOLS or SCOTT HODGIN showing their love of athletics. This desire to play is what makes them "THE MOST ATHLETIC."

3 Four out of five seniors when asked who they would want on a desert island chose NICOLE REMICK and BRIAN GROW. They certainly are "MOST WANTED ON A DESERT ISLAND."

SENIORS

MOCK ELECTIONS

1 On a cloudy day when you need a little sunshien look for STACEY WEISS and MATT BIENEMAN to pick you up with their "SUNNY SMILES."

2 JEFF (DANKE) HUGHES and SHERI (SUPER SPAZ) SIMMONS show just how zany they can be. They truly deserve "CLASS CLOWN" by keeping everyone laughing.

3 BETH HEMMILA and NEIL MUCCI have what it takes to be "MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED." In fact it appears that their future is so bright they've got to wear shades.

1 and 2 Obviously these two truly deserve the title of "MOST SHY." Their bashfulness led them to separate pictures and helped NADIA DINNO and BOB McCORMICK to earn this honor.

3 You know that a party's a party and that it is going to be a success when you open the door and find SARAH YOCKEY and DOUG KELLEY standing there. They are always the first to arrive and the last to leave and are bound and determined to be "HARDIEST PARTIERS."

4 If you are in a crowd and you happen to hear a loud roar, it has to be either TAMMY JORDEN or BUD SEERY. They surely have the "MOST DISTINCTIVE LAUGH."

KNOTABLE KNIGHTS

Knotable Knights are chosen by their teachers and coaches to be honored for their outstanding abilities in their chosen fields.

(1) BRYAN MAJOR has performed in seven Drama Club major productions and has directed and performed in five workshop plays. He was secretary in 1987 and has been in Drama Club for four years. CHUCK FLOOD has been involved in Choir for four years. He has served as president and was a Madrigal in the 1986-87 school year.

JERI ARNOLD has been on Volleyball for three years. This year she was captain and had an All-League Honorable mention. BRUCE FALCON has been on Golf for two years and was a SMA qualifier. (2)

(4) BOB BRYANT placed first at the Wayne State Tournament and CMU's for Debate. He was a State qualifier in 1986-87. BILL ZIEGELMUELLER was the top speaker at the U of M institute, Stevenson, Mona Shores, and first place at Wayne State for the Debate team. STEVE WILLIAMS placed first at CMU and was the first place speaker in Marquette and Marshall for debate. He qualified for state in '85, '86, '87 and made it to the semi-finals in 1986. MIKE CHOWNING placed fourth in state in '85 and district first place in '85 and '86.

(3) Co-Captain MIKE COYNE was a 3-year Varsity Tennis player and was the 1986 Warren Mott doubles champ. He was rookie of the year in 1985. DAVE WROBEL was elected rookie of the year in 1986. He was a four-year Varsity Tennis player and served as Co-Captain in 1987. Two-year Varsity Tennis player GAIL MANDERFIELD was Co-Captain in 1987 and the #1 doubles champ this year.

(5) LORI EDWARDS has been captain of the Gymnastics team for two years. She also qualified twice to compete in regional competition. STEPHANIE WEISS has been a Cheerleader for four years, two on JV, and two on Varsity. She was all SMA for football and captain for three years.

(6) VERN MOREHOUSE, captain of the Boys' Cross Country, was all league, all SMA, and a state qualifier. HOLLI ZWAR was co-captain for Track and her best event was the high jump, where she is the best in the League. She qualified to the State Championship this year.

Captain of Girls' Varsity Basketball, SHANNON NICHOLS, won all SMA and was Varsity MVP for the 1987 season. SCOTT HODGIN was on the basketball team for four years. He took all SMA his junior year and has been a great leading captain. WENDY HOCKSTAD was captain of the Girls' Softball team this year. She was all SMA and was on the Warren Tournament team.

Stephanie Wiess enjoys being a Keystone Cop for a day.

Well Seniors, we've almost made it! The day we've been waiting for. Four long years of waiting. No, it's not graduation day it's the Senior Costume Day! We've watched all the past seniors dress-up and it was finally our chance. The day began with the annual senior breakfast and continued with the seniors wearing their Halloween costumes throughout the day. Senior Costume Day has been a tradition at Kimball during Spirit Week and a day that all the Seniors look forward to.

Jenny Fick looks at the future in her crystal ball.

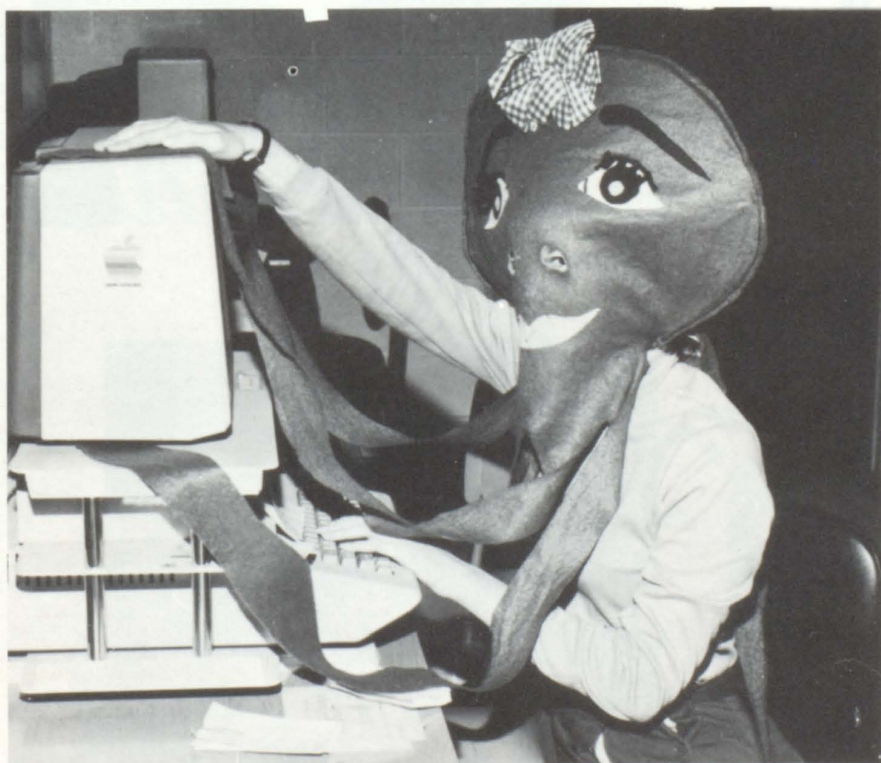

Kimball represents a variety of people.

Clowning around in school are Kim Dorich and Nadia Dino.

AS THE RAIN FALLS DOWN UPON THE
LAND . . . ALL MY MEMORIES SEEM TO DIS-
SOLVE INTO GRANUALS OF SAND.
YESTERDAY IS GONE, AND YET TOMOR-ROW SEEMS SO FAR AWAY.
IN TIME THE SUN WILL SHINE . . . AND THAT
SAND WILL TURN INTO GLASS.
ONLY AT THAT TIME WILL I BE ABLE TO RE-FLECT UPON MY PAST.

IN CLOSING, I WOULD LIKE TO THANK THE
MANY PEOPLE WHO CONTRIBUTED TIME
AND EFFORT TO THE 1987 LANCER. LOR-
RAINE MILLER, OUR PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE,
FOR HELPING US GET THE BOOK
TOGETHER. DOUGLAS ASHLEY AND BRUCE
McLAUCHLAN FOR THEIR CONTRIBUTION
OF OUTSTANDING PHOTOGRAPHY. A SPE-CIAL THANK YOU GOES TO OUR HARD-
WORKING STAFF AND MS. BENITA FELL. IF IT WASN'T FOR THEM, WE WOULDN'T HAVE A YEARBOOK LIKE THIS ONE!
