Matt Kant '01 and Jenny McFadden '01 look forward to their last homecoming.

Ben Bowdon '02, Pat O'Leary '02, Pat Taylor '02, Kevin Hnatiuk '02, and Sean Perkins '02 are cheering on the Knights football team.

The Many Faces of Kimball

As we walked through the doors of Kimball High School many opportunities came to us. Through athletics, academics, clubs and other activities, we started to meet new lifelong friends and became comfortable with Kimball's environment. The school that we as eighth graders were deathly afraid of, was starting to become a place full of memories and tears of laughter. Throughout the years, we have stood by our school, whether it was by attending Friday night football games, going to every school dance, or just by making it to class on time with our homework partially done. We have all blended together, as we try to make it through this time in our lives, with no regrets. With each other's help, we came, we saw and we conquered the best times in our lives. "Take advantage of all of the opportunities you have here at Kimball, if not for the awards and recognition, then for the skills and experience that will help you later on in life," declared senior Matt Schoch. You will only be able to enjoy the high school years once in your life. Cherish each moment and take as much experience as you can from Kimball High School, 2001

"Joining clubs at Kimball gave me the opportunity to get involved with our school and make new friends," said Joe Kohler '01.

What a day for a Picnic!

Every year Kimball kicks off the new year with the All-School-Picnic. It's a chance for students, parents, and teachers to get better acquainted with what our high school has to offer. This fun-filled day provides opportunities to sign up for clubs, buy year-books, and back the football team at their home opener that follows. "It's nice to have the support of the whole school," confesses senior captain Mike Neville.

All of this enthusiastic support and the incredible turnout of fans were undoubtedly a huge help in encouraging the players and allowing them to triumph over Lake Orion. Directly following the game, the students rushed over to the cafeteria to dance the night away at our annual "victory dance". "This year was the best turn out we've ever had," Erica VandenBerg, the president of Roundtable, said. The entire day is a celebration of our school and its many spirited activities. So get involved, get involved, get involved.

Rain, Rain Go Away...

With the 60's era as their theme, the juniors built a third place float.

The prediction was snow, the result- a few sprinkles and some cold winds. Despite the chilly weather, Homecoming was a huge success. For weeks, students worked hard on floats that were shown off during the parade and displayed at the game. Once again, the freshmen were victorious. The sophomores gave the freshmen a run for their money coming in a close second. The juniors and the seniors followed with respectable floats of their own. "The float parade was a lot of fun. We got the chance to let everyone see our first place float," said freshman Kyle Russell.

Following the parade, our Varsity Football team battled the Chargers of Southfield Lathrup. Kimball took an early lead scoring the first touchdown of the game. "We scored first and took the momentum of the game," reminisced junior Brandon Kowalski. Unfortunately, luck was not on Kimball's side that day. Southfield scored later on and was successful on the two-point conversion attempt. Even a loss could not dampen our spirits.

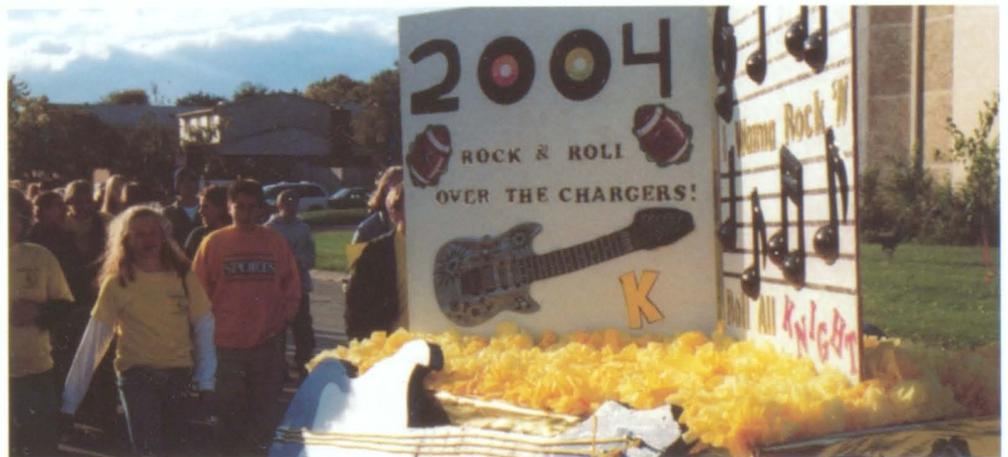

The Knights lost a close battle with a final score of 7-8. Although the Knights were disappointed by their loss, they quickly focused on the future and became pumped up for the dance on Saturday night. "The Homecoming game was exciting. Although we didn't come out with a win it was very memorable. The dance was a success though!" commented Ross McMackin. Altogether, the 2000 Homecoming Football game and parade was an experience enjoyed by all.

"Walking in the parade was a blast! You could tell we put a lot of hard work into our float," jokes Jeb Metzger.

The sophomore's disco inferno float was a huge hit at the parade.

Freshman students walk proudly behind their first place float while the seniors get excited about their own float.

Justin Franks and Jessi Blonski are excited to make their appearance for Homecoming court.

David Gedert and Amy Watts walk across the stage when they are introduced.

Haley McEwen and Brandon Knight smile at each other as they slow dance.

Homecoming 2000

“Time of Your Life”

Mary Drinkwine and Matt Itami leave the crowd in suspense as they prepare to reveal the 2000 Homecoming court.

This year’s Homecoming theme was “Time of Your Life,” and as it turned out, the theme definitely fit the evening. The gym was decked in a bright balloned arc in the spectrum of colors, disco balls, and swinging music for this memorable night.

The dance was a hit, especially for the freshman who had their first Homecoming celebration. “Homecoming was a blast!” Glynis Adams laughed. Cameron Francek agreed, “I had such a great time, I didn’t want the night to end.” Others such as James Coakley were just as excited. James added, “The music was awesome. I never wanted to leave the dance floor!”

Homecoming was especially memorable for the Seniors. “I can’t believe this was my last Homecoming, I’m going to miss all the preparations and excitement for this big night,” commented Jenny Chencharick. “Homecoming was incredible. It was fun being an escort too. I’m going to miss this,” said Paul Falcon.

The suspense peaked as the Homecoming Court was about to be presented. Finally Jonathan Latella and Jenny McFadden were crowned the 2000 Homecoming King and Queen. “I was really glad that these two were recognized for their involvement and school spirit,” Andrew Dec shared. For those who attended the dance it is hoped you had the “Time of Your Life.”

“I had a wonderful time at Homecoming, especially getting to be on court. It will definitely be one of my most memorable moments this year.”

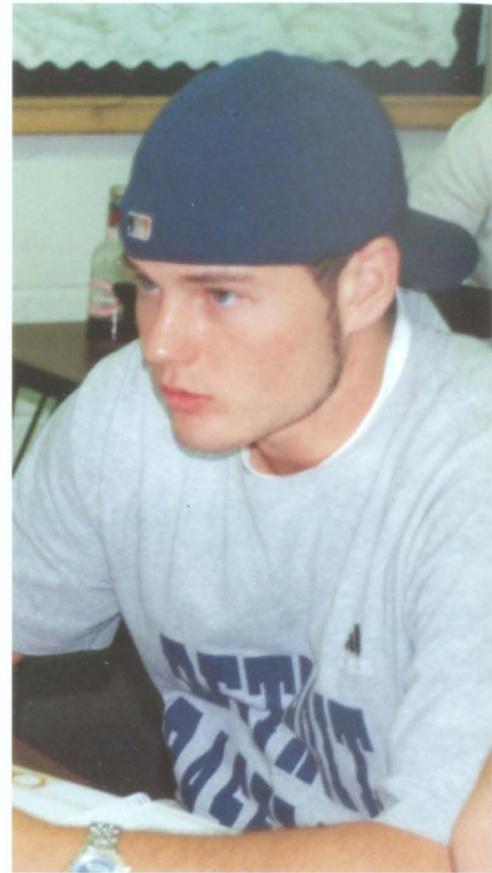

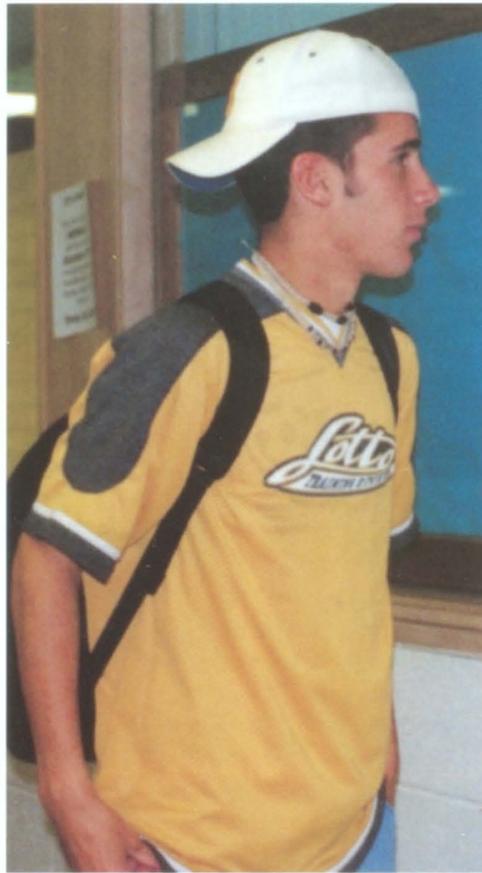

-Katie Craft

Senior Kiel McIntosh worked diligently in Pre-Calculus.

Until We Meet Again

These last four years have gone by fast. We started forming bonds, friendships, and memories the moment we walked in as Freshmen. Now that we are Seniors "we had one last year to spend time with our friends," stated Mike Rickstad. Throughout the years we have grown and learned together as a class. "We've worked our whole lives to get to this point and it's everything I expected and more!" commented Senior Class President Matt Schoch.

"This year's Senior Class has accomplished many things because we had an outstanding class with great spirit," expressed Roundtable president Erica Vandenberg. Through participation in clubs, after school activities, and sports events we became united.

This year we sent in college applications, made future plans, reflected on the past, and said good-bye. As we start our new lives and fulfill our dreams, we must remember that, "change is the only consistency in life, and leaving high school is just another change," exclaimed Sara Kucyk. "Make as many memories as you can before the end, for you will never forget them," advised Jacki Schulte. Good luck in the future Class of 2001.

Song: In My Life
by The Beatles

There are places I remember

All my life, though some have changed

Some forever not for better

Some have gone and some remain

All these places had their moments

With lover and friends

I still can recall

Some are dead and some are living

But of all these friends and lovers

there is no one compares with you

And these memories lose their meaning

When I think of love as something new

Though I know I'll never lose affection

For people and things that went before

I know I'll often stop and think about them

In my life I love you more

Though I know I'll never lose affection

For people and things that went before

I know I'll often stop and think about them

In my life I love you more

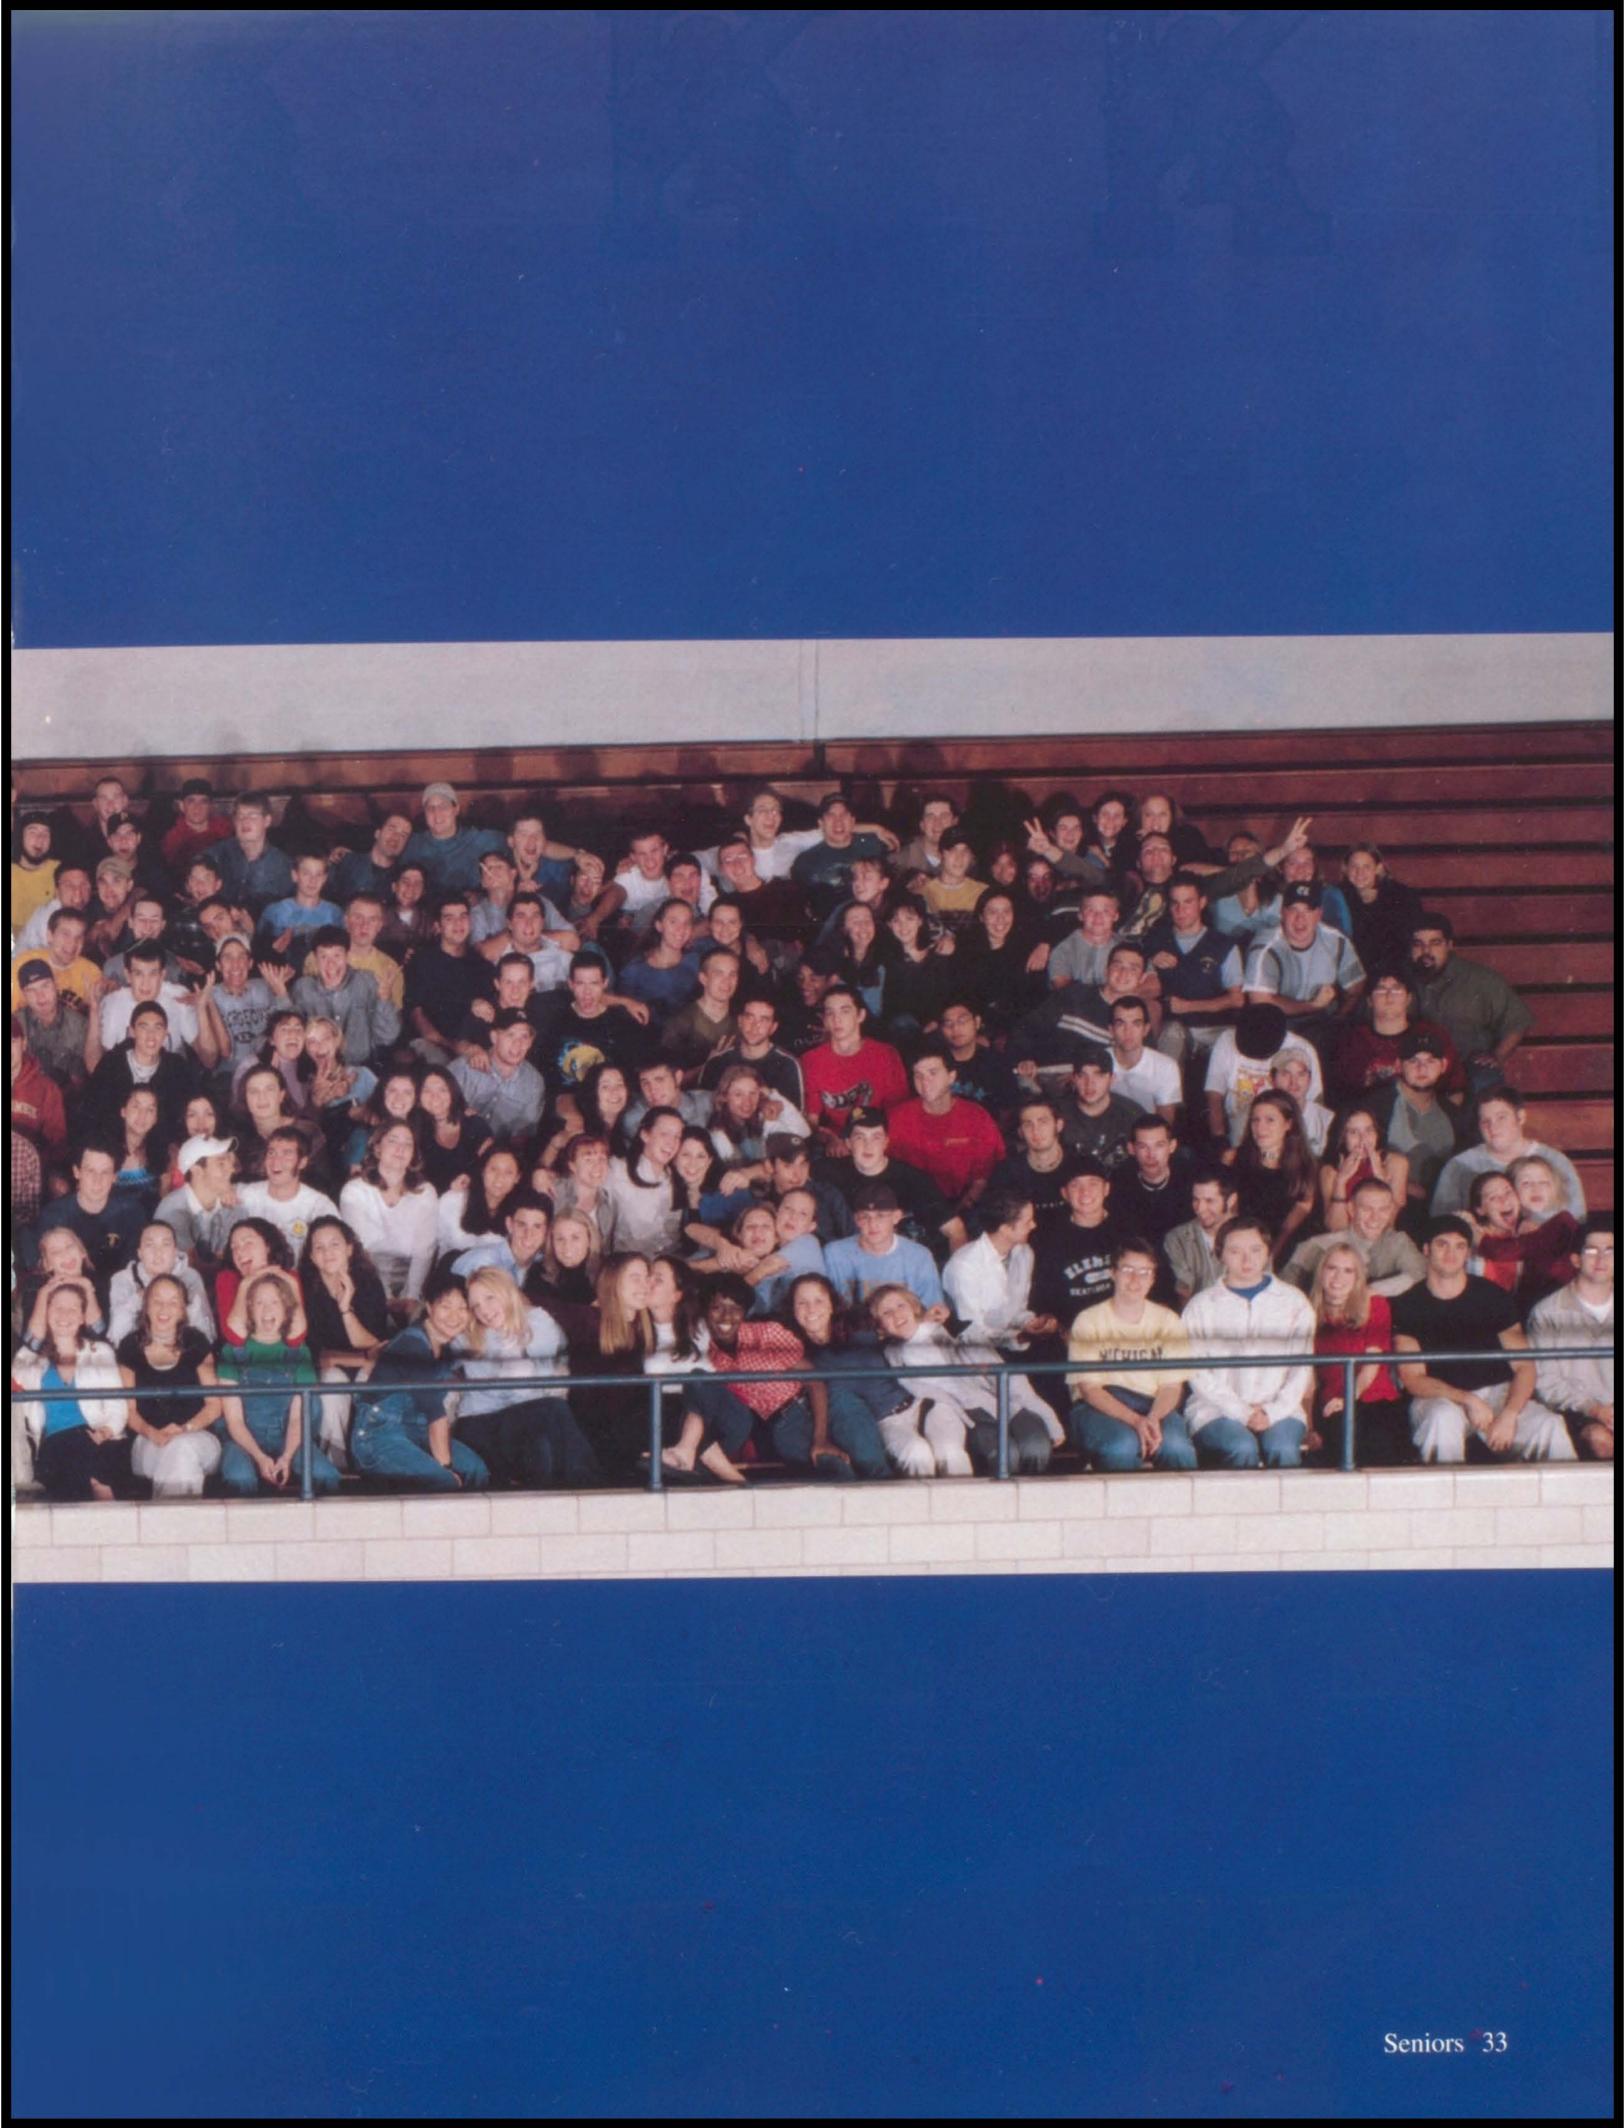

In my life I love you more

SENIOR EXPRESSIONS

Lynn Orser designed her tattoo which covers almost her entire back. It took six hours to complete.

Jessica Blonsky got her tattoo, which was designed by her brother, when she was fifteen years old.

The heart, angel wings, and birth and death dates on Jamie Freeman's lower back are in memory of her mother.

Sarah Phillips and Elizabeth Carter-Penney proudly show their tongue-rings.

The Chinese symbol on David Levy's upper back stands for courage and always reminds him to be strong.

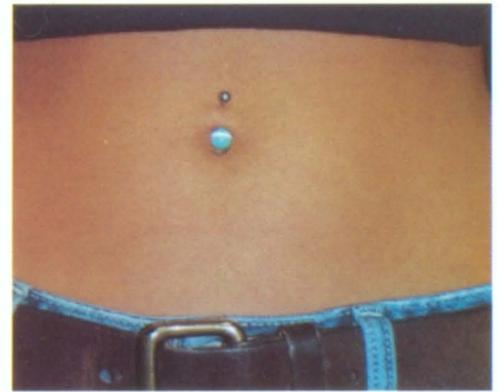

Eddie Gonzales designed his tattoo in memory of his brother, David A. Gonzales.

Eryn Hanlon wears unique belly-button rings to add to her style.

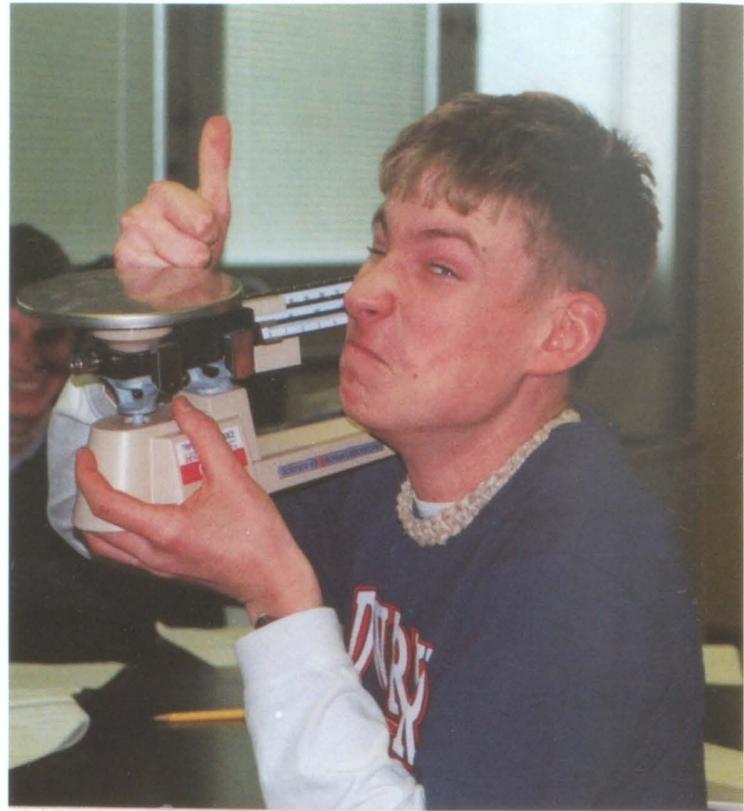

"My piercing adds character to my look, especially in the summer," says Danielle Hobrow.

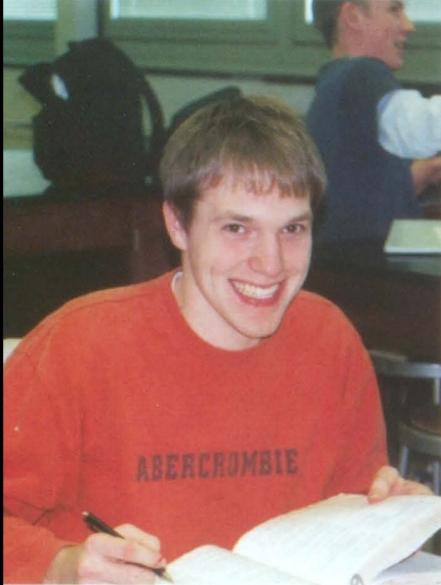

Jessica Webster thinks of her belly-button ring as just another way to express herself.

Traveling Incognito

Halloween is a very exciting time for the seniors! It's a time to sport their school spirit and dress in costumes of their choice. Whether they were scary, funny, or just plain cute, seniors came into school October 31 ready to have some fun! To name only a few of the creative outfits, Megan Duff exclaims, "The best costumes were the Chip and Dale Dancers, the Devils and the Umpa Lumpa were my absolute favorite!"

The senior reception at 7:30 that same morning made the day even more exciting! "We ate food and took pictures, which was cool because we got to see everyone all together!" said senior Ross McMackin. There was also a costume contest, in which many of the seniors got recognition for their wonderful and clever costumes. There was many categories, some being for best group costumes, funniest costume, and best girls and best guys costumes. The energy level was through the roof of Kimball High School, which made it a day that seniors will never forget!

Sugar and Spice...

The night was cold and the girls were ready. After weeks of vigorous practices it was finally time for the long awaited Powder Puff game. With painted faces and blue and gold jerseys and mouth-guards in tact, the girls took the field. The opening play pretty much set the tone for the rest of the evening... After receiving the ball, some seniors were tackled by juniors who were being "unnecessarily rough." There were great efforts made by both teams, on and off the field, throughout the course of the night. After an hour and a half of blood, sweat and tears, the score was final and the Juniors were victorious. Although there was talk of unfair play, all and all, the night was a huge success. We all must remember that this is

Winter Blues

Gray skies, icy roads and bitter cold weather make winter especially dreary, and give Kimball students the blues. The unbearable unpredictability of Michigan weather, combined with the dreaded mid-term exams make for a long and hard winter. Freshman Jerek Lampinen screamed, "Six tests that count for 25% of my final grade is just outrageous! I don't know how the upperclassmen have gone through it so many times." Luckily, this winter, the relentless stress-filled school days were briefly interrupted by much needed snow days.

In addition to cabin fever, the upperclassmen suffered the additional burden of car ownership. "My car never starts in the cold!" exclaimed Lillian Wilson. Jenny Chencherick complained that "my windshield is always frozen from the inside, and it takes forever to thaw!" Pot holes, icy roads, early morning window scraping, and accidents strike fear in the hearts of all those who faced driving to school in the winter.

"January exams are the worst time of the year."

Hard Work Pays Off

Sophomores Katie Pierce, Alan Pecora, Jennifer Greig, Emily Renkert and Trestin Bradley worked on their assignment in Mrs. Burnett's Math class.

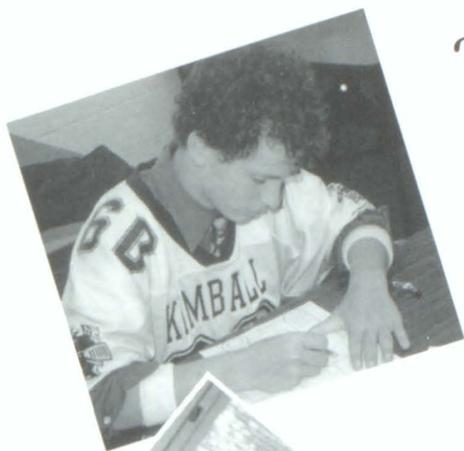

The Classes Downunder

Each year the underclassmen grow, change and look forward to their turn to be seniors. High school is a process in which students progress through important life experiences. Freshmen enter into a new world. During their first year, freshmen become involved in sports, clubs and many activities that Kimball offers. For freshmen, high school starts out as a foreign place where they soon learn to fit in and become independent. "I couldn't wait to be a freshman, so I could begin Drivers' Ed," stated David Salvati.

By the time students reach sophomore year they have a grasp on life in high school.

Sophomores are not yet considered upperclassman, but they continue to participate in activities and to show their school spirit. The second year in high school students bond with many people and strengthen friendships. Sophomore year is exciting, as students conquer the road when they receive their driver's license. Some are even privileged to own a car.

Juniors began to find themselves even more independent. They left campus for lunch, looked at colleges, filled out applications and took the ACT's or SAT's. We're always surprised at how quickly these years fly by.

Underclassmen Unite

Underclassmen came together as they walked to their next class.

Embarrassing Moments

Last year Nathan Mueller pulled a chair out from under me. How embarrassing!" joked Laura Brown.

Students experience embarrassing moments throughout high school, and these kids remember theirs. "During a performance of The Legend Of Robin Hood Sort Of... my sophomore year, I put a hole in the stage wall of the auditorium," laughed Brian Moultrup. Heather Gonzales confessed "One time my sophomore year I came out of the bathroom with toilet paper on the bottom of my shoe." Tony Jewett blushed, when he revealed his embarrassing moment, "While playing the name game at dramathon I was called 'Teeny Weeny Tony.' I was mortified."

Cruisin' Kids

“My car is definitely one of a kind! Look out when number 27 is coming your way!”
-Jon Slavik

“Freedom at last!” many Juniors exclaimed when asked about their first cars. A first car is one of the biggest events in the life of a teenager. All three Kimball lots were full to the max with Juniors’ cars ranging from Jenny Mangold’s 2000 silver BMW z3 to Jamie Glassford’s 1987 white Celebrity. Mike Foshia boasted “My truck is awesome too, for off-roading.” Chris Fraga shared Mike’s love for his own car when he exclaimed, “The ladies love my yellow Cadillac!” Some Juniors, like Matina Legakis were not so lucky. She stated “I’m going to get a car as soon as I’m tall enough to reach the clutch!”

Juniors Emily Schafer, Elynnor Pavlovics, Lindsey Pawlowski and Carey Cauty work hard in 6th hour Spanish.

Fastfood Freedom

"I love going out with John Dolbee at lunch, but everyone better watch out when he's on the road!"
-Adam Briggs

This year's Juniors loved the idea of finally having an open lunch. Fast food restaurants seem to be the hot spots this year. Catherine Dildilian loved going out to lunch with her friends to Wendy's, "because they have the best Frostys!" But, while others liked going out, Scott Cassidy begged to differ. "Eating at home rules. I don't like spending money on fast food," commented Scott.

Going out to lunch is a privilege most Juniors take advantage of. Although some students are upset about our shortened lunch period. Merry Gavin exclaimed, "By the time I actually get home, I barely have time to eat!" Spotted at Taco Bell, Brad Watson sees classmate Joe Leibold to "Eat it!" as they hurry and get back to school.

Juniors Join the Work Force

"I love having a job because it makes me feel more responsible!" -Joe Liebold

Now that they're getting older and more independent, Juniors at Kimball are beginning to earn an income. Since sixteen is the most common age required to get a job, these determined sixteen year olds want to make money. Transportation, money, and good hours are all factors that students look at. Larry Quigg said, "I work with my parents, and it's great because I get really good money and flexible hours!" Mike Kennedy exclaimed, "Val's Pet Supplies is great because I get to play with pets!" Good jobs for young adults are hard to find, but it can be done!

Thomas Rutledge is concentrating on his school work. He knows he has to finish his math before he goes to work.

"Choose or Lose 2000"

"I liked the special Al Gore did on Mtv's 'Choose or Lose 2000.'" - Kyle Lang

Out of all the events that the year 2000 has brought with it, none is more debatable than the presidential election. even though many juniors can't vote for another four years, they still have very strong opinions on who they'd vote for. Some people, like Jessica Sczempek, had some convincing reasons why Al Gore is better. "I'd vote for Gore because Bush has an annoying voice." Still others like Greg Orr, seemed to lean the other way; "I'd vote for Bush because Republicans have better ideas that will help America." After a history-making election, Bush finally won.

Sophomore Soul

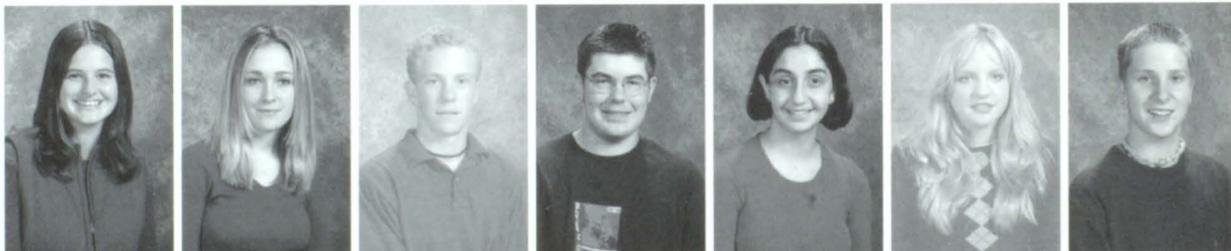

With all the different clubs around school, students found it easy to get involved. Sophomore Christine Acker, along with the rest of Marching Band, showed her school spirit. "It makes me feel special knowing I represent Kimball," she commented proudly. According to Campus Life member Rachel Masen, representing Kimball wasn't the only important reason to get involved. "I didn't know anyone who shared my faith and it was encouraging to know there are others who believe the way I do." Sophomores seem to agree that being active in high school has created many memorable moments.

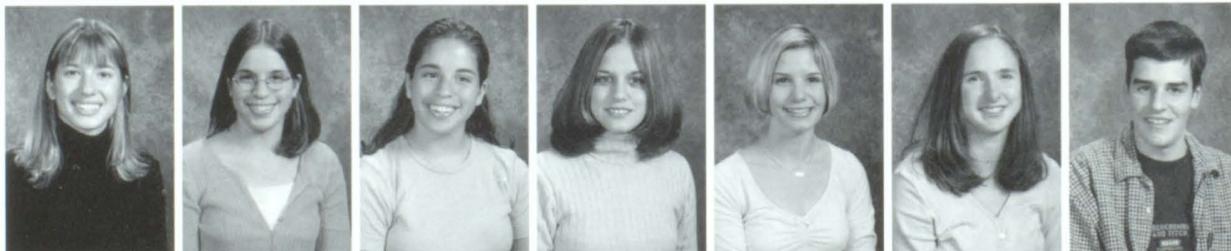

Sophomore Andi Redmond catches up on her reading in American Literature and Arts.

"Being in Drama Club has helped me get to know people of all grades," stated Kyle Heythaler.

Sophomores had a year of beginnings. Some got their licenses, while others had their curfews extended. Some enjoyed the excitement of no longer being a freshman. Becca Trojan said, "I like not being the youngest kid in the hallway anymore."

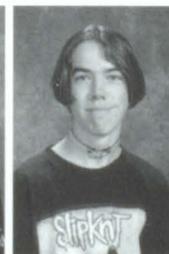

Sophomores looked forward to becoming upperclassmen so they could leave campus at lunch. Many looked forward to driving, although Julia Greenway said, "I won't have a car unless I have the money for one." With all the excitement of new jobs, longer curfews and driving, sophomores kept busy all year.

Sophomore Shoppers

When the weather outside is crummy, and staying at home is looking just as bad, what do you decide to do? Shop! So, all you stylin' sophomores out there, what store would you most likely find yourself browsing in? "I only shop at Structure," replied Ryan Groh, and Charlie Banyai agrees, adding, "Old Navy is cool, too." The girls all agreed on Gap, Express, and Old Navy, as well. Lakeesha Emerson commented, "Hot Topics is good, too." Whatever these sophomores decided to wear showed just how much creativity and individuality they all really had.

Sophomore Christina Stewart, struts her stuff wearing a Kimball sweatshirt from our very own Knight's Den.

"I shop mostly at the Gap, Nordstrom, and 5,7,9. I'm always looking for cute shirts," states Jamie Segel.

New Kids On the Block

Most sophomores were glad to start off this year already acquainted with this school. But, some were not as lucky. This year, we have over 50 new members of the sophomore class. "Most of my friends go here and that makes coming to school a lot easier," commented Cameron Webster on why he likes Kimball so much.

"I like how friendly the people are and I love the football program," explained Troy Hardiman who has joined the JV football team. Many other students came to Kimball for a simple reason; it was their School of Choice.

Sophomore Stars

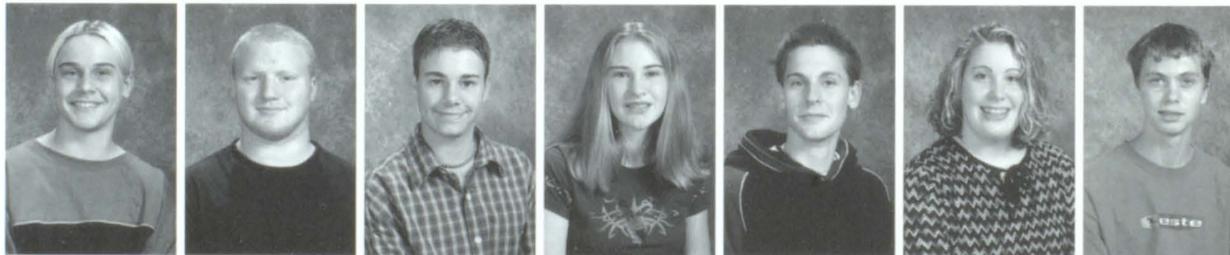

Part of growing up involves thinking more about the future, especially career plans. When asked, "What do you want to do when you grow up?" there was a difference in the responses from when the sophomores were little kids until now. Kari Acton said, "I wanted to be a teacher when I was younger, and although I still want to work with kids I'd like to do something else." Henry Wilson laughed, "When I was little I wanted to work at McDonald's for free Happy Meal toys, but now I actually would like to be Ronald McDonald!" Whatever careers these sophomores land we hope they are very successful.

Meaningful Moments

Throughout the year, Sophomores formed friendships with their classmates. They created memories that will last them a lifetime. High school events gave Sophomores a chance to be with their friends. "Getting ready for the first football game was so much fun," stated Ian Emerson. "Yeah, and I liked the school dances and meeting new girls," added Eric Therkalsen.

"I'm looking forward to making many more memories, that's what makes high school fun," exclaimed Steven Cole. These are just a few of the many meaningful moments that the Sophomore Class has experienced.

Dream Vacations

“My idea of a dream vacation is a month’s stay in Kauai.”
- Dustin Walker

Whether it was Cancun, Fort Lauderdale, or an African safari in Kenya, many freshmen had several ideas as to what their dream vacation was. Mark Messing dreamed of going to Germany, while Carolyn Manasseh’s wish was to go to Niagara Falls. Still others, like Chelsea Gibson, had their own.....unique ideas. “My idea of a dream vacation is on a deserted island with my two favorite things; food and Freddie Prinze Jr!” All in all many freshmen agree on one thing for their dream vacation; they “wanna have fun in the sun!”

Fashionable Frosh

"Leather clothing is hip this year," Christina DePassio informed.

The first day of school can be hectic for many incoming freshmen. A question on their minds usually is, "What am I going to wear?" The freshmen this year responded with what's in style and what is totally out of style. Erin Brasseur informed, "Jean jackets are all the rage, but tapered pants are definitely out!" Glynis Adams agreed and added, "Jean skirts are cool to wear, too." From a guy's point of view Jeremy Cooper said, "Visors are real popular." It's obvious these freshmen have excellent fashion sense!

Freshman Fans

"I like being at the same school as Julia, because I have met a lot of cool people thanks to her," Jessica Farber commented.

Some freshmen don't like going to school with their older sibs, but these students enjoy being with their older brothers and sisters. Christina DePassio revealed, "It's cool, because a lot of the teachers already know who I am because of Sue." James Campbell stated, "I like being able to talk to Joy about things that we can't talk about with our parents." Carrie Fritsch added, "Andrea gives me good advice, and she's always there to help me out at school." These freshmen looked forward to the advantages and support they'd be getting from their older siblings.

Frosh Bite

"The cafeteria is a great place to eat and relax during a rough day at school." Jerek Lampinen

As the lunchtime bell rings, freshmen rush to the cafeteria to get a good spot in line. "I buy everyday" said Aaron Pedraza. Most freshmen spend about $5.00 per day on lunch. Some of their favorite foods are subs, frozen cherry Cokes, bagels and pizza. "I love the curley fries," said Cam Francek. Although the majority of the foods are tasty, some are not as enticing. Ashley Brunell describes the hamburgers as "the last thing I would want to eat. The freshmen agree that the cafeteria is an added bonus to attending Kimball.

Freshman Firsts

"It's a toss up between the ladies and sports," Daniel Jewett laughed.

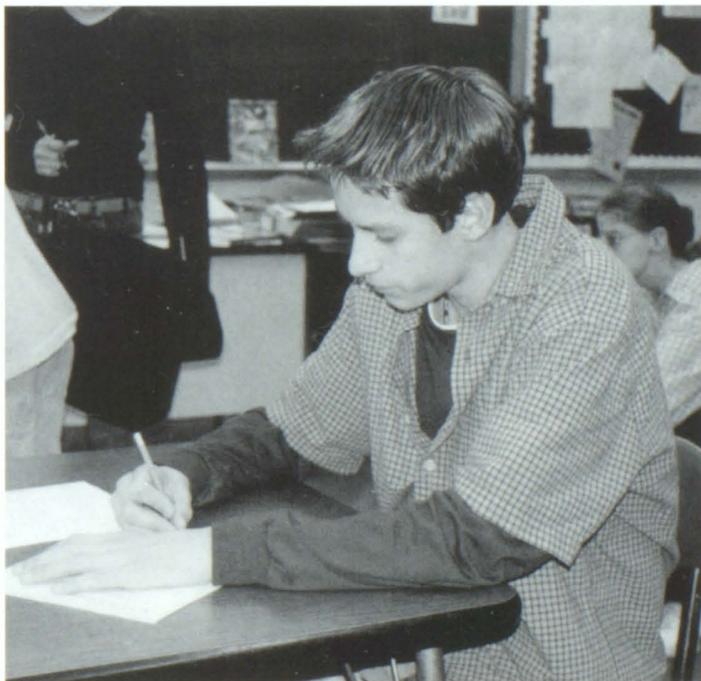

We've entered the threshold of what are supposed to be the best four years of our lives. As a freshman we experience new ways of life each day. "The best part about being a freshman is all of the new people you meet and become friends with," Carrie Fritsch commented. "I like how here we have more freedom than what we did in middle school," said Tom Ivinson. Freshman Elizabeth Wanston expressed, "The academics, life achievements, and social reasoning we learn are what make high school fun." This is only the beginning for these freshmen, with more memories in their futures.

Adam Judge '03 agreed and added, "I procrastinate my homework, especially." Knowledgeable Knights

The Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals named Mr. Neville the 2000-01 High School Principal of the Year which reflects the rigorous academics that we have at Kimball High School. Mr. Neville has an open door policy, where he listens to anyone's ideas and his leadership comes from the heart. "It isn't about what we teach," he explains, "It's about what students learn." Education is the foundation for the future and students take advantage of the excellent teaching staff at Kimball. As Mr. Neville stated, "I couldn't have done it without the 100 teachers who work for me."

High school students learn many skills that will aid them in college and beyond. Heather Docter commented, "Kimball has given me the education I need to succeed in life; the challenging classes have prepared me for my future."

Every year students strive for excellence. This year Kimball offered "Engineers Teaching Algebra" to the math classes. The program challenged students to think for themselves and develop hands-on problem solving skills.

For the past two years the state has offered a $2500 scholarship for those who scored a 1 or 2 on the MEAP tests. Kimball students scored in the upper range of students in the state on the standardized tests. 68% of our students attended a four year college and over one-million dollars in scholarships were awarded to seniors. Kimball offers a diversity of classes to satisfy our students needs. From Specialized programs to AP classes the students learn to prepare for the real world. The advanced classes give students the opportunity to earn college credit while enrolled at Kimball and pursue further education after high school.

The staff at Kimball has shown the students the value that education has in their lives. "My four years at Kimball have given me the responsibility I need to succeed in life," stated Lyndsay Davis. Kimball High School gives students the opportunity to achieve independence and success.

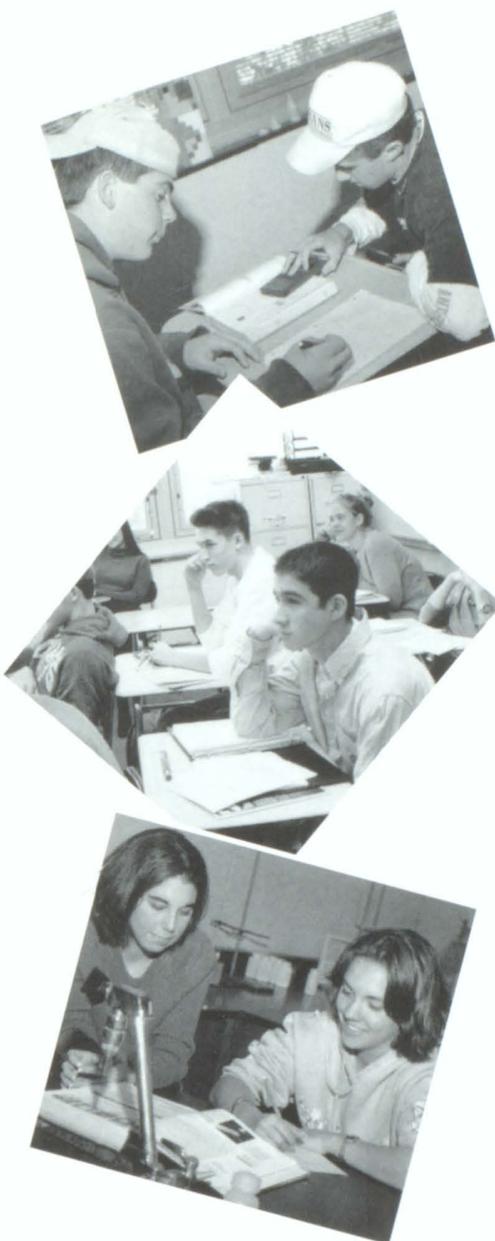

The Administration

Our Caring Staff

Not many people can say that they have changed someone's life. One of our counselors here at Kimball, Kathy Knapp, is one of them who has. Every day, Mrs. Knapp makes a profound difference in the KHS students' lives. Mrs. Knapp has worked in the Royal Oak School District for many years. Before becoming a counselor here at Kimball she worked at Keller Jr. High and Addams Jr. High. Mrs. Knapp helps the students with scheduling and personal issues. She is also very busy being involved with Peer Mediation, Xcalibur and running many different mini-courses for the students. Mrs. Knapp has dedicated herself to the students and for that we thank her.

"I don't think I'd ever want to leave highschool kids, I love them!"

Guardian Angels

For the past 15 years the Royal Oak Schools have been blessed with the work Pauline Drury has done for them. Unfortunately, this year was her last. She has been a hall guard here at Kimball for 13 of those years. Pauline provided discipline and justice with a loving hand. Pauline states, "I'm really going to miss this school and the kids, but it is time for me to move on."

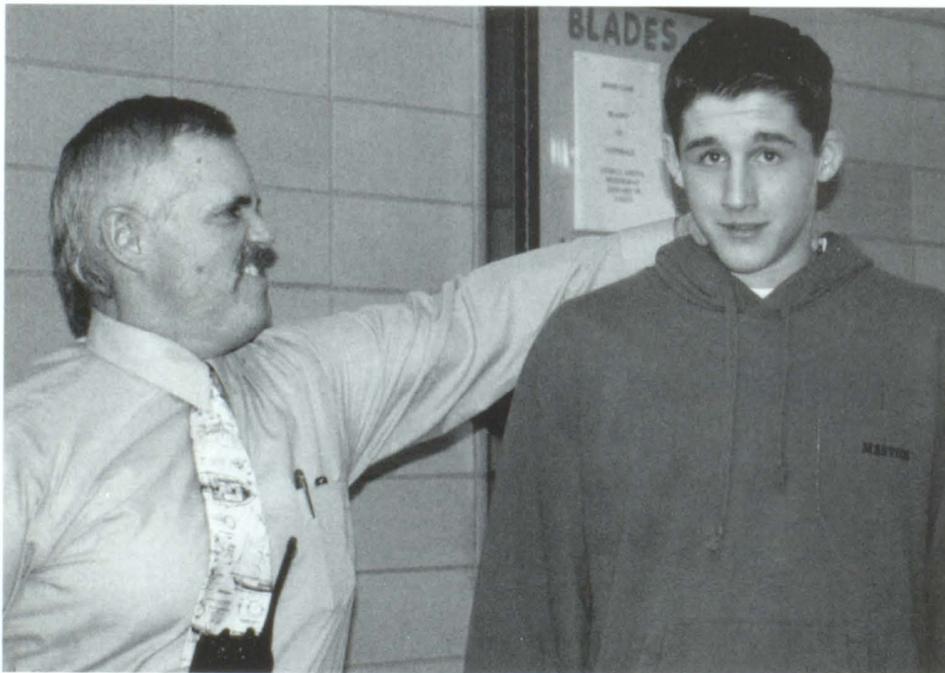

Pauline isn't the only one who is going to be missing something. The students and faculty at Kimball will miss her tremendously. Sara Kucyk commented, "Pauline is such a sweet woman, but I think she deserves to get out of here and relax." Jon Latella agreed, "Yeah, she's a totally groovy chick!" We'd like to thank Pauline for her outstanding work as we say good-bye to Kimball's Guardian Angel.

With a smile, Pauline threatens a penalty hour.

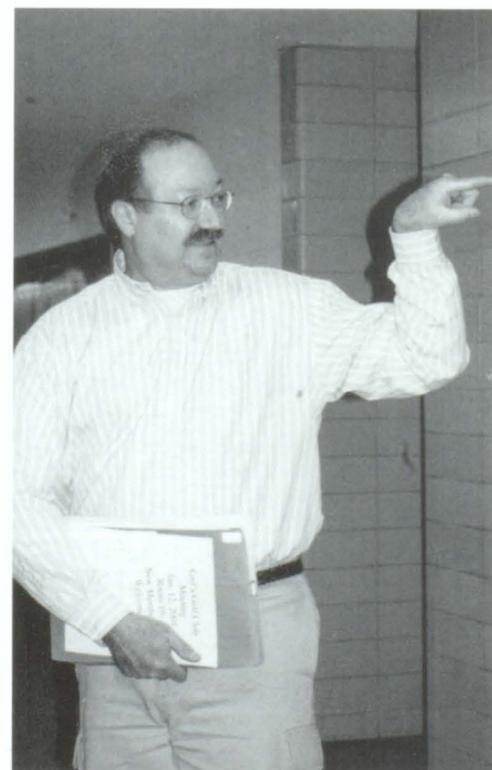

"I'll really miss Pauline, but I hope she enjoys the fun, the sun and being out of the halls!"

WHO'S THE BOSS?

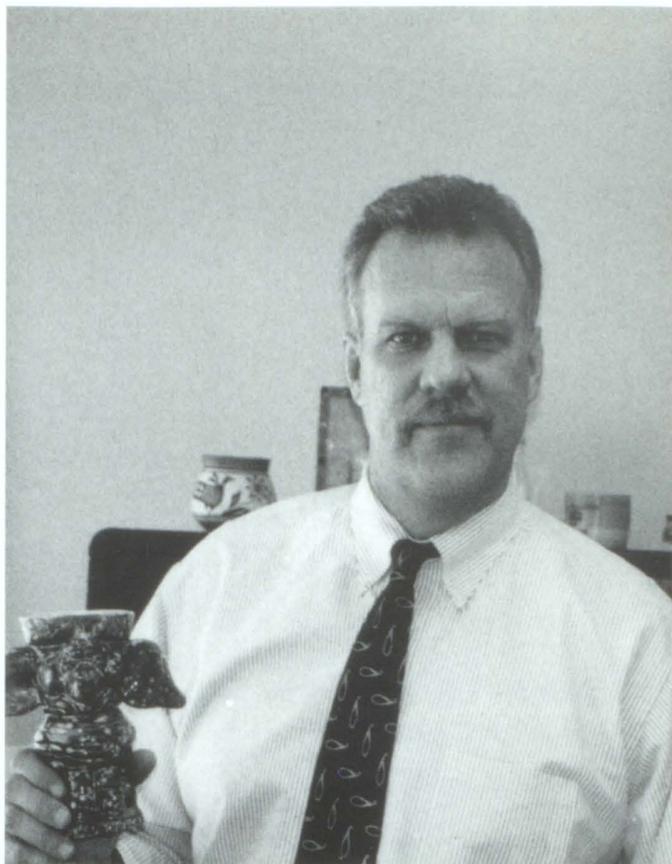

The school year was not only an important year for the students and staff of Kimball High School, but it was also an important year for Principal Mr. Neville. Mr. Neville was named the 2000-2001 Principal of the Year by the Michigan Association of Secondary Schools. His hard work and dedication towards the students was highly recognized among sixteen finalists chosen in the State of Michigan. Along with assistant principals Mr. Dexel and Ms. Browne, Mr. Neville works hard everyday to make sure Kimball students receive the best education possible.

Along with his hard work, Mr. Neville also gives back to the community. This year, Mr. Neville was "arrested" and put in jail for a day to raise money to help fight Musclar Dystrophy.

There are also many other secretaries who work in the main office that help make our principals' jobs easier. Without the help from Mrs. O'Rourke, Mr. Neville's secretary, Ms. Brown, Ms. Browne's secretary, Mrs. Barnhart, Mr. Dexel's secretary, and Mrs. Shand, our building would suffer.

This year marks the retirement of Mrs. Barnhart who has worked for the Royal Oak Public School District for sixteen years. Her dedication to her job makes Mr. Dexel's job less stressful. From schedules to meetings Mrs. Barnhart helps Mr. Dexel stay on track. Good luck to her and her future, whatever it may hold!

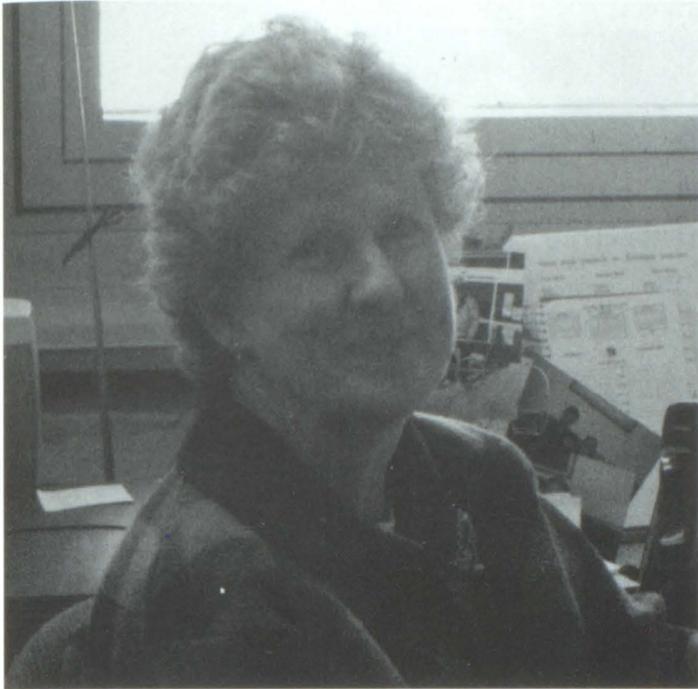

Pauline Drury has been a great supporter of the administration during her years as a hallguard. We wish her luck on her retirement.

IT'S THE LAW

Their hardwork and dedication has made Kimball a better and safer place to attend; the hall guards, cafeteria staff, and paraprofessionals come to school everyday just like students, and work even harder at times. "These kids are great. It's so special to me to be here for them, and for help,"

Pauline Drury, a hall guard, commented. Pauline has been at Kimball for several years, and has plans of retiring. She will be missed greatly in and out of school. "This job has brought me so close to the students, I will never forget any of them." We appreciate the hard work of the support staff.

Students find it easy to concentrate in the Media Center. “Many kids come in for the quiet. It is a great place to get some homework done,” said Mrs. LaFond. It’s where minds meet.

“There is so much to do, whether it’s homework or just browsing for some reading material. The Media Center is the place to be.”- Michael McCrary

CONJUNCTION JUNCTION,

What's your function? The past year has been an exciting one in the English department. Students in all classes studied the forms and technicalities of English. The thirsting students eagerly consumed the literature given to them throughout the year. Andrew Dec, an Advanced English student said, "The study of literature has given me a greater understanding of our culture." The study of English is beneficial in a complete education.

LANCER: MORE THAN JUST A BOOK

Lancer takes a lot of hard work, dedication, commitment, and responsibility. This year's Lancer had eight editors: Megan Duff, Aubri Teeley, Sue DePassio, Paul Falcon, Nancy Farhat, Jamie Freeman, Karly Peet and Jessica Webster. To them, the Lancer isn't just a book. "We tried to make this year's the best yet," remarked Karly Peet. Under the guidance of advisor Beverly Wine, the staff worked together to meet deadlines, to produce the book, fill it with excitement, and write many stories to remember the valuable times spent at KHS.

"Being new to the Lancer staff exposed me to a different environment; it was fun and I am proud to have contributed to the finished product."

-Haley McEwen.

Mike Neville has nothing but great things to say about Herald.

Got Herald?

Kimball's school newspaper, The Herald, was once again a success this year with their seven issues published.

Herald has been hot off the press since Kimball first opened its doors in 1957. For only one dollar, students can purchase the newspaper to see familiar faces and to catch up on the latest school news.

Gail Bennett, who has been Herald's supervisor for the past sixteen years, believes the staff is a "very diverse group of people...everyone is a great writer."

This year, Herald had a unique member involved in the press. Shakespeare, the class hamper, seemed to provide inspiration to writers. "He really seemed to cheer us up whenever we were under stress. It's just another thing that makes Herald so unique!" commented Rachel Short.

Along with being exposed to animals, Herald also exposed students to unfamiliar people. Senior Elizabeth Webb recalls her thoughts from the start of the year. "In the beginning, it was difficult because every person on the staff was from a different group. Now, we've come together to put a well-rounded publication out to the student body."

Herald contained a wide variety of columns written by the staff. Between game highlights, horoscopes, and love advice, Herald was a hit.

Due to its hard working staff, Herald proved to entertain as well as inform Kimball students throughout the school year.

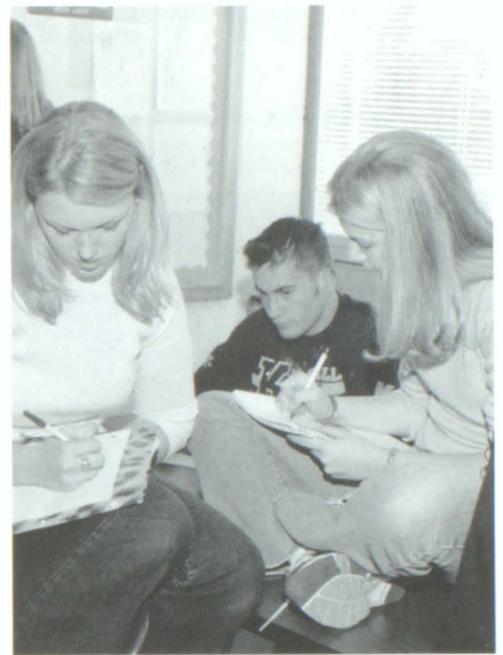

Ryan Stennett and Jon Latella look for inspiration from Shakespeare.

"We have a significant amount of wildlife this year which goes to show the friendly good nature of the staff," commented Bill Begeny.

KIMBALL'S CREATIVE ARTS MAGAZINE

The Xenolith staff led by: Lindsey Charette, Editor-in-Chief; Bill Begeny, Art Director; Lynn Orser, Associate Editor and Sam Butler, Assistant Art Director, worked hard to put out the best magazine yet. "Our class is like a family because we spend so much time together during class and before and after school," said Lindsey Charette. Students submitted stories, poetry, drawing, painting, and photography. "We tried to include the best student efforts as well as a good representation of the student body. We are very proud of our product," she concluded.

"Xenolith is a nationally-acclaimed creative magazine that gives students a chance to show off their writing and artwork."

A WHOLE NEW WORLD

“World languages open doors to cultures around the world while letting students gain knowledge of the actual language,” commented Madame Hern. World languages offered are Spanish, French, and German. “I decided to take French because I thought it sounded interesting- it’s the romance language!” said Lyndsay Davis. There is a required two years of a foreign language, but some students take it for all four. “I’m in fourth year French and all I learned was ‘Je voudrais un Coca,’ ” joked Kyle Belton.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING

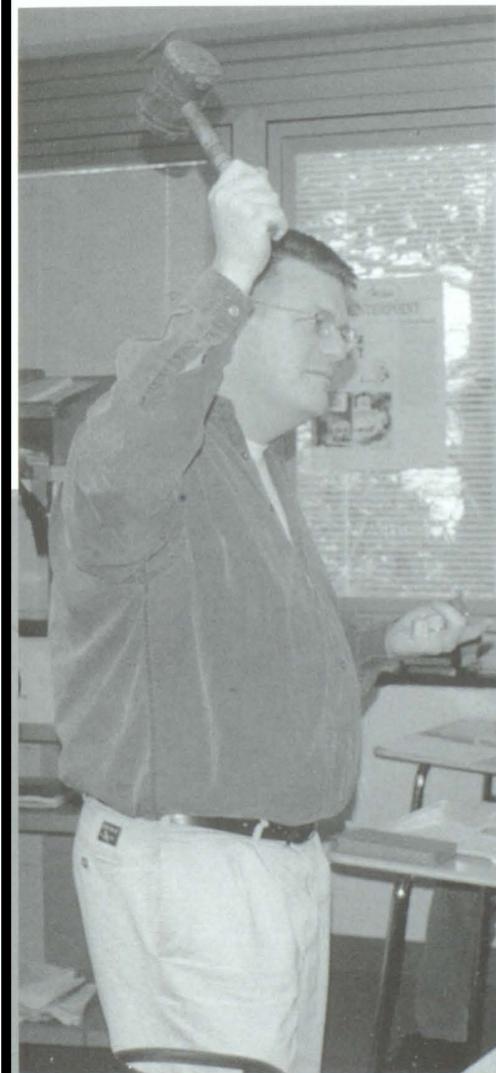

Whether it's history, economics, government, or even psychology, students have found themselves fascinated with all of the useful information they're learning. "I feel history is important, because it's what shaped our nation," Liz Gregory stated.

Teachers not only strive to educate students, but also to make learning as enjoyable as possible. Laura Brown agreed by saying, "Mr. Robbins is so entertaining, and he definitely makes my history class interesting." Mike Kennedy added, "Even though the work is hard, Mr. Charette makes it exciting to learn." "Mr. Fitz is an excellent teacher, and he's always enthusiastic," commented Jamie Glassford. "I like to make learning fun for my students, so I have my economic classes sing about the circular flow, not just read about it," laughed Mr. Bowker.

"There is nothing like teaching history- It's where we've been, how we've lived, and who we are."

- Michael Greening

Mr. Greening instructs his excited American Government class.

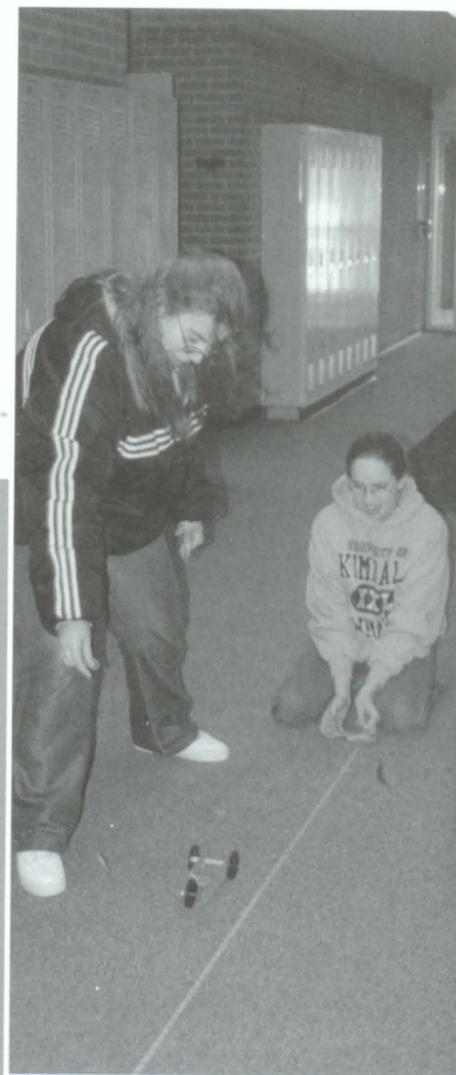

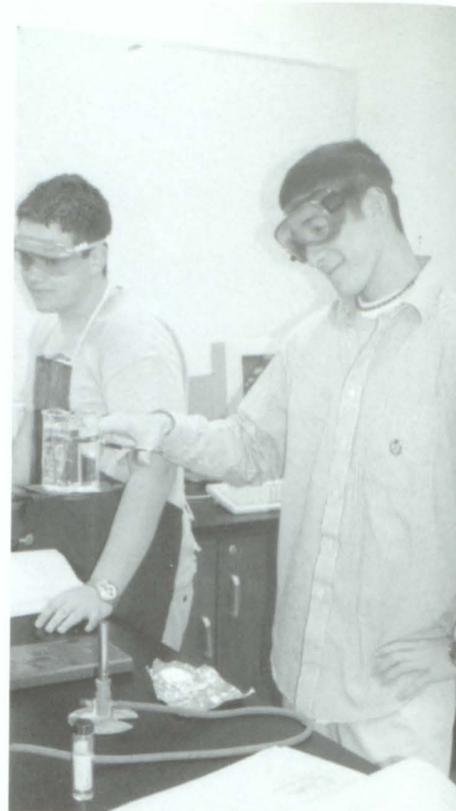

NEW CHALLENGES

Our science program improves every year. This year, the Science Department added an AP Physics class to go along with AP Biology and AP Chemistry. "My Chemistry class is preparing me for the pre-engineering courses I will be taking at MSU next year," said Amy Watts. The department acquired new laptops and equipment to further the students' learning.

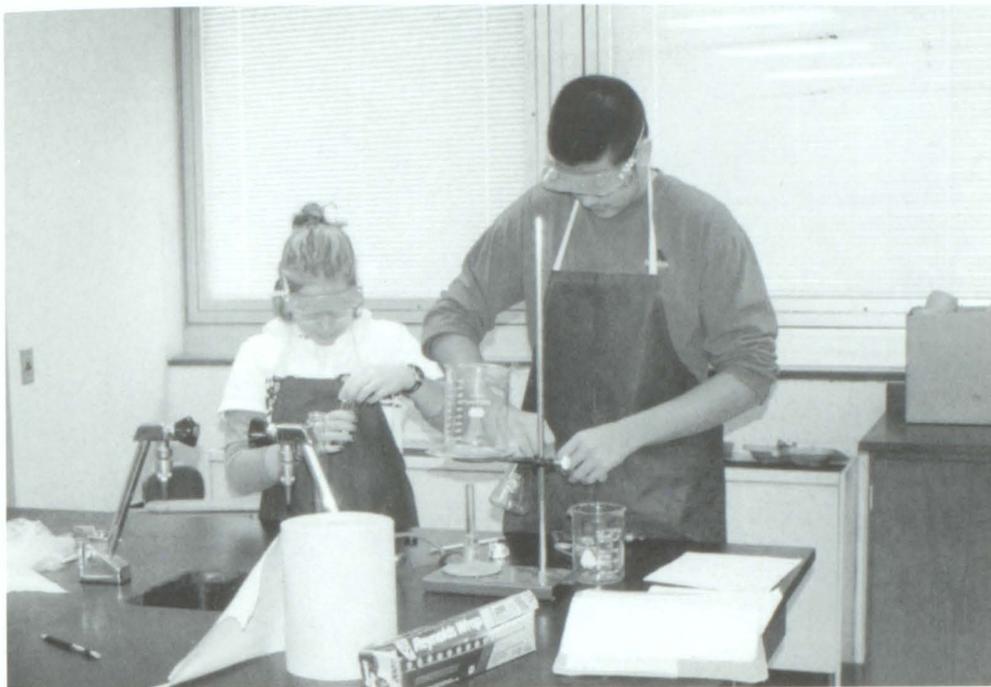

"The science program is continuing to get stronger, and we are strengthening the program to meet state objectives."

Our Math Department classes vary from Extended to Honors. “Math doesn’t teach you math, it teaches you how to think,” said Ross McMackin. With the increase in technology, math is becoming even more important in people’s lives. “My Informal Geometry class helps me maintain the skills necessary for my goal of becoming an engineer,” added Mike Bianchette. Math challenges us to grow.

“2nd Hour math with Mr. Castle is crazy,”

KNIGHTS DEN GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

Under the leadership of Mrs. Northey, the Knight's Den flourished this year. A new line of merchandise brought a positive attitude. The student retailers sold candy, Kimball shirts, sweatshirts, caps, cups and cards. "Jammin' to the Oak Ridge Boys and selling stuffed reindeers were the highlights of my year," stated Knights Den student Anthony McBrien. Besides Marketing, the Business Department taught business management skills for careers. "My Accounting class helps me with the paperwork at my job," said Chris Walus. "My job at the school credit union uses my accounting skills, too," added Jenny Kruckenberg. The Business Dept. adds much more than snacks to our lives.

"Working in the Knight's Den was one of my favorite things to do this year," stated Knight's Den student Jenny Edwards.

ART SMART

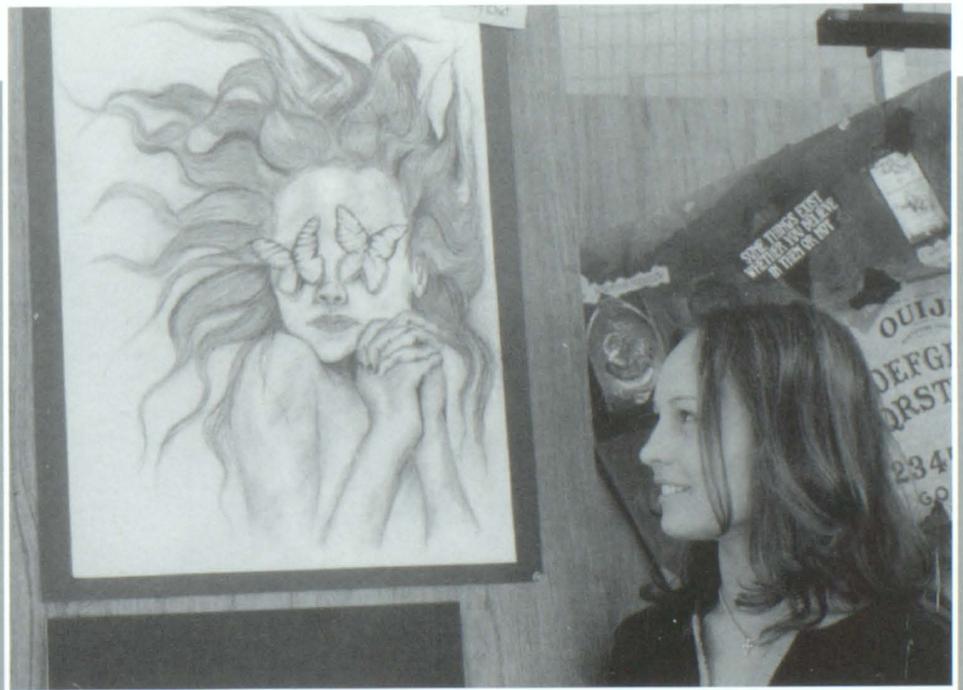

Mr. Powers teaches Kristy Ketcherside how to sculpt her clay.

Many fabulous artists are hidden here in the hallways of Kimball. These talented people can express and show their abilities in the art classes offered. This year the art class held an art show, where the students sold their own art work to other students. The money made went entirely to the students, and gave them a chance to show off their beautiful and original artwork. James Trumble felt that "Honors art was an excellent way to prepare me for college." Mr. Rice and Mr. Powers gave the students a relaxed and enjoyable environment to create.

This year, Medical Skills sponsored the annual blood drive, and raised 110 pints of blood. Students also lead the Great American Smokeout and had a bowl-a-thon for Cystic Fibrosis. Besides learning about the systems of the human body and first aid, students studied areas of medicine for a future career. "Medical Skills showed me all the different opportunities available to me in the medical profession," said Sarah Whitkopf. We prepare future professionals!

FESTA'S FRIENDS

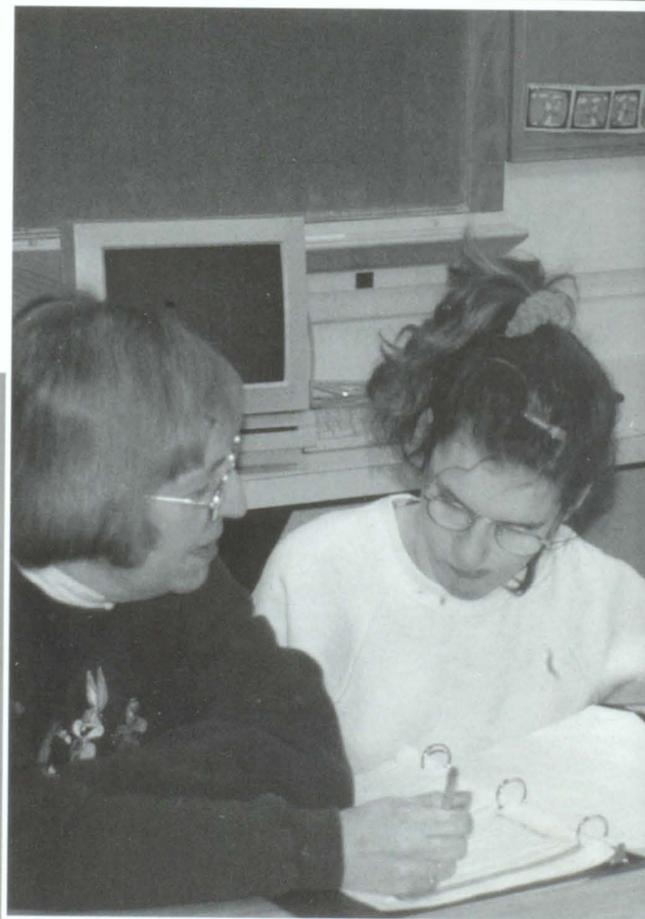

Our Special Education program is by far one of the best in the state of Michigan. From Oxford, to Southfield, Special Education students come from all over Southeast Michigan to learn right here at Kimball High School.

Ms. Festa, who is in charge of the POHI program, was very pleased with this year's group of fine young students. "They're a fantastic group. They are all individuals and they have minds of their own,"

Special Education students learn everything at Kimball, from math, to history, to foreign language. Their busy day may also include physical therapy, occupational therapy and classes in independent living. This year's students were a very determined group of individuals. "They are all hard workers and I am very proud of the accomplishments and goals they have achieved over the past year," replied Ms. Festa, "I love them all to death." If these students achieve what they plan to do, they will all

RESPONSIBLE ROAD RULES

Most students look forward to taking Driver's Education. It is a big step toward jumping an important hurdle in an adolescent's life. In order for someone to get a license, it is important to pass Driver's Education. This six-week class is one hour before or after school, five days a week. After the book work, kids must do road work where they drive on the course and then go out onto the big, scary road!

Once a student gets on the road, as exciting as it may be, it can be very scary, too. "New rules, things to learn, and lots of cars are scary," said Ian Sherman '02. But practice makes perfect and the more you drive, the more experience you get. Brian Beard '03 said, "The first day I almost rear-ended someone, by the end of the week I was cruisin'." Even though Driver's Education can be tedious, it does allow students to learn and start to relax behind the wheel. Obtaining a license is a big deal, but it is fun and gives more responsibility! "I am worried about making a mistake, but I am really excited about starting to drive," said Jason Thompson '03.

"I get so scared on the road, but I think it's better that way because then I am more cautious!"

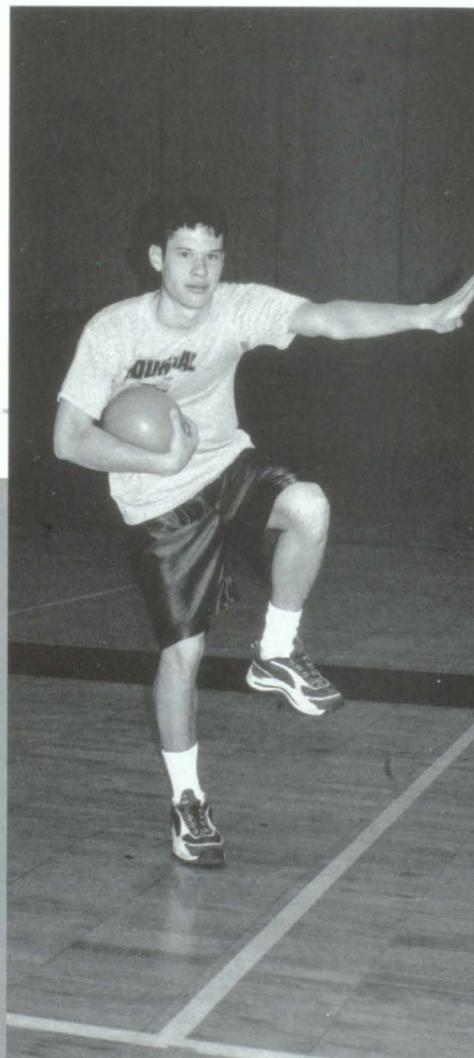

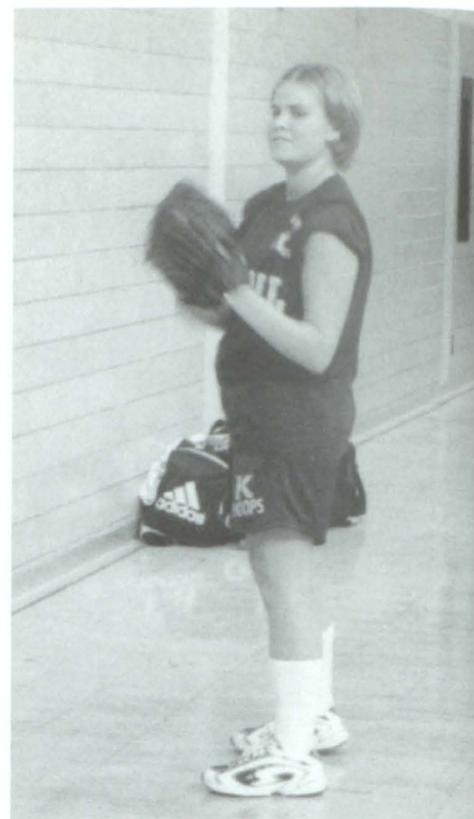

—Dan Morton '03.

A NEW DEFINITION FOR PHYSICAL EDUCATION

According to Webster, physical education is defined as “the instruction in the development of the body;” but to the students of Kimball High School it’s much more. The classes are a fun way of learning about taking care of taking of your body by being active and enjoying various physical activities such as team sports, weight-lifting, swimming, and more. “Gym is great! It’s the only class that is not based on studying and homework,” states senior Sean McDaniel.

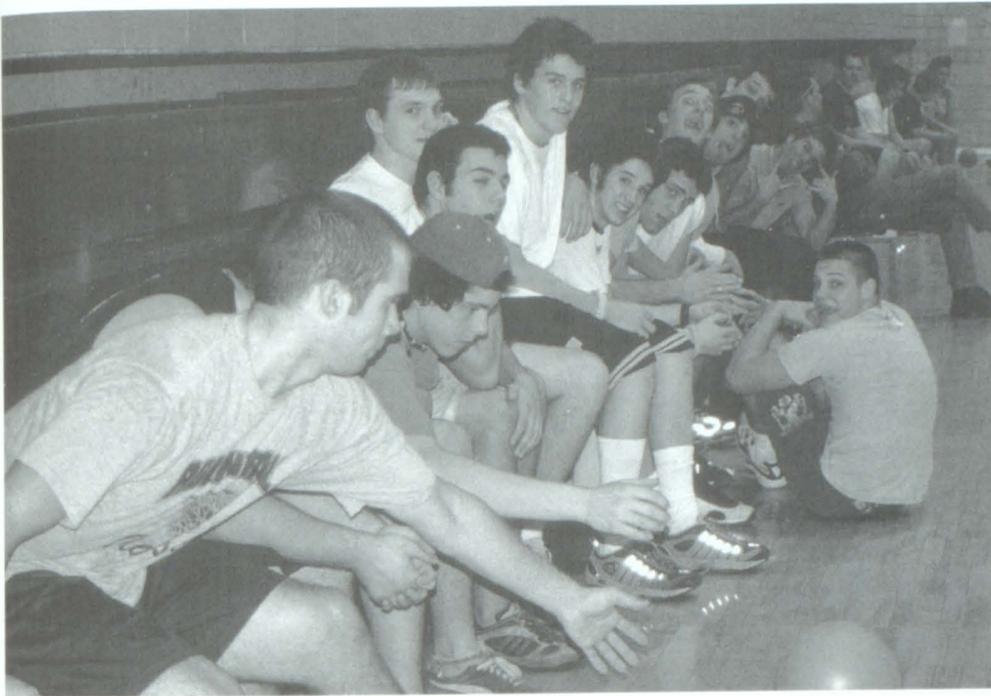

– “Physical Education is a great way for students to come and get their frustrations out in a positive way,” comments Physical Education teacher Ms McLellan.

OTC: PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

Oakland Technical Center, better known as OTC or O-Tech, is the high school away from Kimball High School. OTC teaches students about specific career opportunities and gives them the chance to get some hands-on experience with that particular job. "I learned how to prepare food in a real restaurant atmosphere," said Terry Tristani '01. Courses range from Culinary Arts to Agriculture Science to Cosmetology, to suit many interests.

Christopher Buddrius '01 carefully cuts the proper piece of wood for his project.

ROUNDTABLE: REPEATS THE REPUTATION

This year's Roundtable members have been busy keeping up our school's reputation of raising money as well as school spirit. They started the year out with a Bang focusing on the All School Picnic and Homecoming, which were both huge successes. The rest of the year was full of planning for several charity events such as Penny Wars, the annual volleyball charity event and also a dance which raised money for Potter's Kids. This year's student government leaders admirably continued our fine traditions.

"This year has been so eventful. The second we end one event we are already planning another. It keeps us really busy," commented Roundtable President Erica Vandenberg '01.

Freshman Representatives: Neil Hagen, Ken Koshorek, Laura Farhat, Cameron Francek, Ashley MacKinnon, Dustin Walker, and Kyle Russell.

SINGING THEIR HEARTS OUT

The 2000-2001 Kimball Choirs were not only successful for the new school year, but they also learned to become a better choir by learning to blend together and work on the quality of their tone.

Everyone knows that Choir is not only a fun and learning experience, but it also gives students a chance to travel around North America and learn about different cultures and different types of music. This year the Concert Choir and Women's Ensemble traveled to Chicago on a three-day weekend while the A cappella Choir took a four-day tour to Florida. The trip included performances at Universal Studios as well as on a cruise ship on its way to the Bahamas. These performances gave the A cappella Choir more experience, bringing their talents to different parts of the globe.

Choir Director Deborah Buffa worked hard to improve the quality and tones of all her students so that they would sound the best they could. With that amount of hard work and dedication to her students, it's easy to see why the Kimball High School Choirs are quickly becoming ranked among the best choirs in the state.

and I am so proud of every one of them." The annual Autumn and Holiday Concerts, the Chamber Orchestra Festival, and the Cabaret Concert, all led by Mr. Peter Tolias, performed for school and community. Both the Symphony and Concert Orchestras played exceptionally well. "I loved the variety of the pieces we played," said Vice President Christine Maten.

Mr. Tolias conducts his Symphony Orchestra class.

"This year's orchestras have been comprised of fine young musicians. It has been a joy to work with them every day."

For the Love of the Game

Kimball's athletic program gives students a chance to become part of a team. While learning how to work well with others, they also have a fun way to stay healthy and in shape. Many students choose to participate in Kimball's athletic program because of the positive support of the coaching staff and the entire student body.

A new cheering section called "Gal's Pals" was added to Kimball's stands this year. Mike Rickstad formed this organization. He wanted the students who weren't involved in the basketball program to be able to participate and support the team.

With the help of Athletic Director Greg Castle, he created "Gal's Pals," named after the Varsity Basketball's head coach, Paul "Gal" Galbenski. "I am really proud of the unity that Gal's Pals has created and I hope it continues for years to come," commented Mike Rickstad. The student section promoted school spirit. Whether cheering in the stands, or playing on the team, all students were able to be involved in the athletic program. The money "Gal's Pals" made from selling T-shirts went to Potter's Kids and Sweet Dreams, a school in Detroit. So support your Kimball Knights!

“United in 2000”

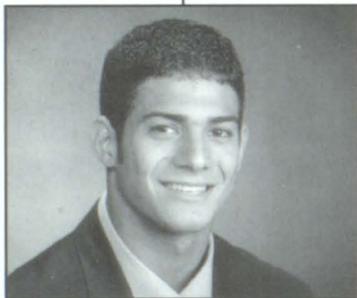

The Varsity Football Team put a lot of focus on teamwork and togetherness. The Knights’ focus was led by four captains: Eddie Gonzales, Jason Rushton, Mike Neville, and Greg Sheldon. Dedication is mandatory for football. The team was together lifting weights practically the whole year. While everyone else was partying or sleeping away the summer days, these boys were hard at work from 8 to 4.

“We really concentrated on having no cliques on our team this year. If we stuck together we knew we could accomplish a lot,” said quarterback Mike Rickstad. The season was full of high points. “Beating Lake Orion and Troy Athens were the most memorable points of our season,” stated senior Justin Evoe. “We knew we had to play well against the Division 1 teams and we worked hard and came away with two wins.”

The team’s motto “United in 2000” proved to be a great motivator during the entire season. The team finished the season 4-5 and is looking forward to challenging Division 2 football in 2001.

A Fun Season For the JV and Freshman Teams

Football Fun

This year's JV Football Team came together for the 2000 season under the leadership of Jeff Dinkelman, Lewis Groves, and Derek Adams. Their record doesn't reflect it, but the quality and talent of the team was outstanding. JV player Charlie Banyai stated that, "The coaches were an inspiration to all of us and Dink is the man." The Freshman Team had a similar season. Coach VanRaaphorst said that she "Enjoyed working with a talented group of young men; they should have bright futures." The team worked well together and had a lot of fun doing so. Coach Chapman and Coach Brewster agreed that, "It was a fun learning experience for us as well as the team." Despite the Freshman and JV Teams' records their team spirit and talent worked hand in hand to produce a winning season for them both.

Character

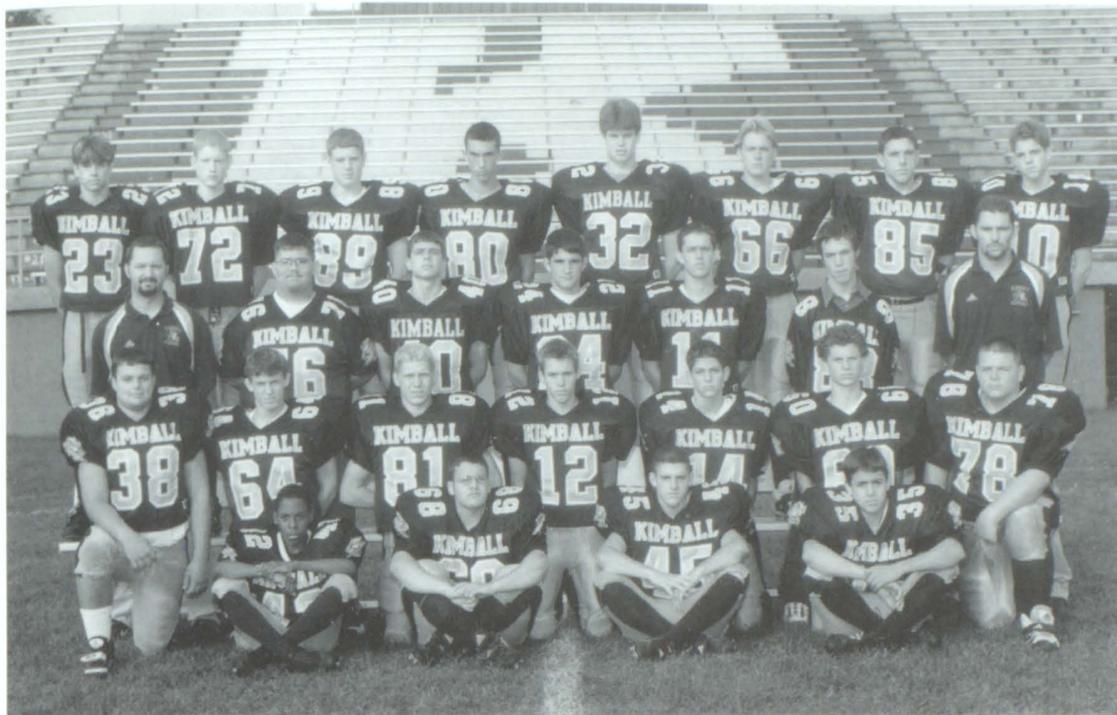

"Coaches have the job of receiving players to mold and to guide. We as a group learn to stand together in all of the very best and worst of times. But that is when we become a family. At the end of the season, when you look back to see the character and to be apart of this family, it is a blessing." -Lewis Groves

The Varsity team fought for victory

Varsity Victory

The Girls' Varsity Basketball Team had many upsets but still set their goals high. "Our goals were to be better than last year; to be no lower than 5 wins and 16 losses and to win league, district and state championships," stated coach Andre Harding. The team's goals were met with few disappointments. The lost games were the hardest to deal with, but the team still kept their heads high. "We all have a lot of talent, we all clicked right away and we still had a fun season," stated Jillian Hawkins '01

Unity was probably the easiest thing for the team to achieve. Since the girls had all gone to EMU team camp, the girls were like a family. Four newcomers added to the ranks of underclassmen. Jillian Hawkins was the only senior on the team. On the court, all were equal.

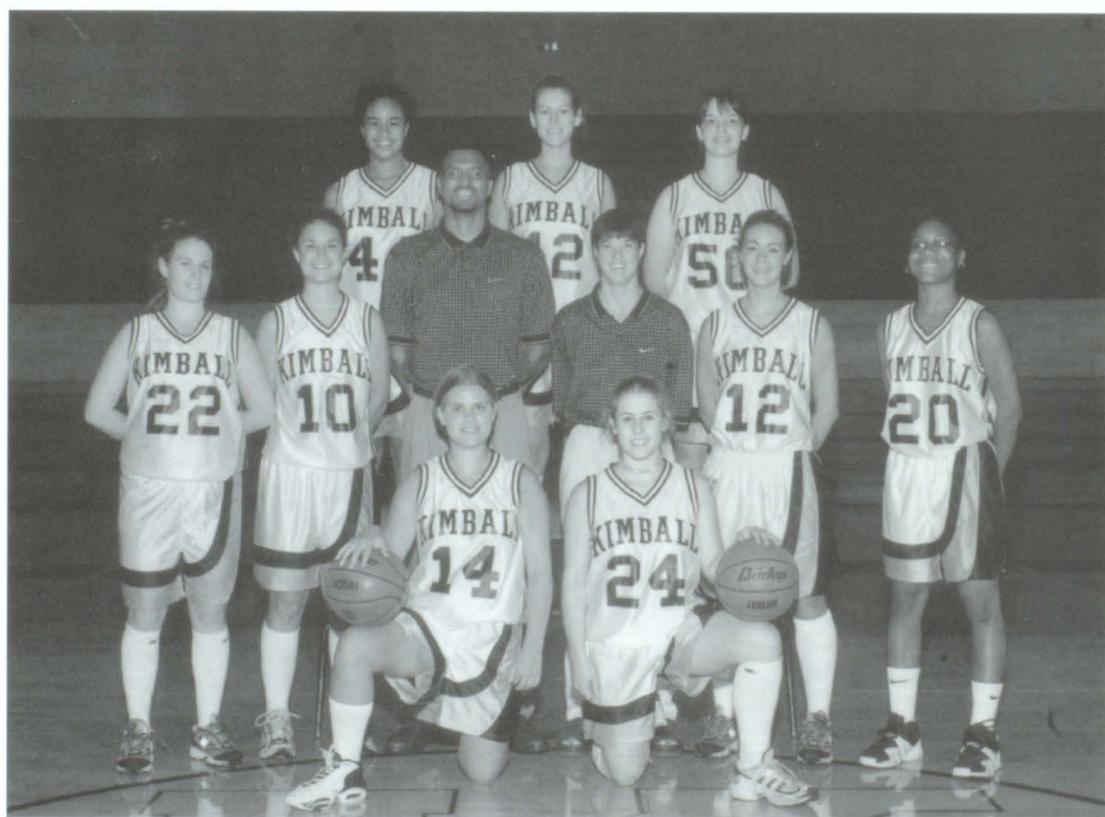

The year ended on a strong note of team unity. The younger teammates look forward to playing together in the future. As for the one older teammate who will be graduating, she looks forward to coming to future games to root on her younger friends.

Success for All

"Becoming a team and having a good winning season was the Junior Varsity Basketball Team's goal," stated captains Mallory Kollins '03 and Jennifer Weeks '03. The team had a good start and whether they won or lost, their heart was always in the right spot. The JV Team prided itself on its determination and dedication.

"We went 500 last year in a tough league; this year we dropped a league, so we were ready to take it all baby!!!" cheerfully replied coach Amy Forti when asked how the team ended up this year.

The Freshman Team had a successful season, as well. Members had high goals and they were met as best as possible. "Our goals were to win every game and to beat the team by at least fifty points," stated Alecia Belanger '04. The girls played their hearts out for an overall winning season. Good job to our freshman and junior varsity teams.

Going For The Goal

Kickin' Off A Good Season

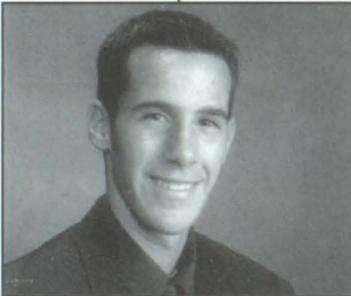

Coaches Demir Muftari and Mark Fresch had big plans for the team. "They made us practice for every possible situation. For example in the Troy-Athens game we used the ball drill to run out time by kicking to the corner. That was one of our biggest wins of the season," stated Blake Richards. Team members agreed that the past season was a great success. "I love the intensity and how much skill was involved," said Niall Beere. Jon Latella said, "We were at the top of division two. It's great - I hope it stays that way."

The Boy's Varsity Soccer Team achieved many of their goals, including becoming very close to each other and sticking together through good and bad. "We are very unified and everyone always picks each other up when they are down. This is an important quality for a good team," said Matt Schoch.

This year's Kimball Varsity Soccer Team won most of their important games and had a successful season. "I am very happy with my last year on the Varsity Soccer Team" said Alex Craft.

J.V. And Freshman Soccer

Heading For Victory

The Boys JV/Freshman Soccer teams had a successful year once again. Both of the teams worked hard this year and grew very close. The Freshman team had a successful first season. With all of their good work, they should have many more successful games ahead of them. The senior year is quickly approaching for the JV players and their skills are improving each day. Hard work and dedication will bring them to the Varsity Team. "My favorite thing about playing was getting to know everyone and becoming good friends," said Scott Jones '04, a member of the freshman team. Bonding with the teammates is an important part of a good team. To be a successful team there must be teamwork and cooperation which comes from unified teammates. Being on the soccer team means hard work, and respect from teammates and opponents. There is also a lot of fun involved with playing on the team. "By being a team captain there is a lot of responsibility included," said Dan Edick '02. The Junior Varsity and Freshman Soccer Teams have had a good 2000 season. Keep up the good work!

PULLING PRANKS

There's no doubt about it, these girls just want to have fun. The Girls Cross Country Team is notorious for their sense of humor and practical jokes.

These girls were always ready to pull a prank on the Boys Cross Country Team. "When the boys were out running, we took all their shirts and tied them to the baseball fence," boasted Merry Gavin '02. "We were always doing things like that to them."

Although the team loved pulling pranks, the girls were seriously competitive on the field. "My teammates are very dedicated to this sport.

I can't tell you how many of the girls have come up to me and told me that they've beaten their personal best!" team captain Kristen Carroll '01 said proudly.

The Girls Cross Country Team also knew how to treat a fan. "There was this old man who came to every Cross Country meet we had and cheered for the team. Before the very last meet, we all pitched in money to buy a Kimball sweater for him. It felt great to give something back to a dedicated fan," exclaimed team captain Sarah Schultz '01. Start the Day off Right

Ask any girl on the Kimball Girls' Swimming team and they'll tell you that the hardest part of being on the team isn't swimming endless laps around the pool, the tiring workouts, or the constant pressure to be faster than your opponent. The hardest part of being on the Girls' Swimming team is getting up for the early morning practice.

"I had a very hard time getting up for the practices," commented Julia Greenway '03. "I'd wake up five minutes before practice and go in my jammies."

Holi Patrick on the other hand had very little trouble getting up for the early morning exercise. "I liked the practices, they woke me up for school and made me alert for my classes," exclaimed Holi.

Laura Salvati '01 joked, "We do more before seven then most people do all day."

Knights Make it Interesting

Knights Court

“The strong sense of teamwork and everyone willing to help each other out,” is what kept Mike Sheldon motivated throughout the season. The 2001 Varsity Basketball team kept a close bond both on and off the court. On most weekends during the season, the team could be found not only practicing for the upcoming game, but volunteering and fundraising. Brandon Knight '01 commented “The team grew closer with each event we participated in.”

The team also shared great moments this season. Captain Jason Rushton '01 said that one of his favorite memories was “When Mike Sheldon broke the desk and had to apologize to the whole team.” The leadership of captains Ryan Stennett '01 and Jason Rushton '01 led the team through an exciting and memorable season.

Tennis Team Works Well Together

Tennis is Terrific

"Dedicated" is a good word to describe this year's Girls' Tennis Team. The try-outs began in August and brought out around 40 girls to the courts. Although the girls started out slowly, by the end of the season they all felt successful. They started out with spirits high, and rackets ready to go. Coach Paul Surdenik was satisfied with the team's hard work. "The girls had a lot of fun, and improved so much this season." The girls had a lot of team spirit and had faith in each other all season.

Hannah Carter-Penny expressed that "We started out slowly, but once we started to work together and doing well we had so much fun!"

Captains Nancy Farhat and Amy Lampinen had been on Varsity for four years. They are going to miss playing for Kimball, and cherish the memories they made. Nancy commented, "The best part of the season was winning leagues with my little sister Laura." This year's Girls' Tennis Team showed that they loved the game, worked well together, and thrived on challenging competition.

BOYS JUST WANNA PLAY BALL.

Go ahead and ask any of the Kimball JV or Freshman basketball players why they play basketball for Kimball. Chances are they'll reply "I just like to play basketball."

Although these boys don't elaborate, you can tell that they're dedicated to this sport.

"I don't care who's on the team or who coaches it. Playing on a high school team is a big deal for me. Commented John Long '04. Other benefits of playing this sport are illustrated by team captain, Thomas Rutledge '02.

"Playing basketball is a great way to exercise, escape pressures from school, and a great way to meet girls," he teased. These teams have played like true knights, braving the good and bad times.

"We've been through a lot of rough times, but we still manage to have a lot of fun when we play together," exclaimed team captain, Ryan Groh '03.

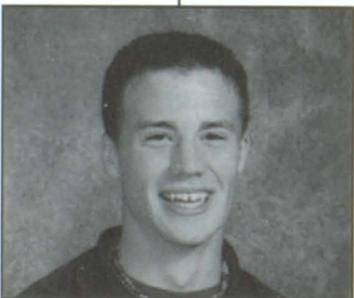

These teams played well and proved to the fans every game that they "just like to play basketball."

Cheerleading

Bring in da noise, bring in da funk

Kimball's JV and Varsity Cheerleaders created a lot of noise this year at sporting events. Their voices helped inspire our teams to victory, and provided a positive attitude for everyone. As a player, Senior Dan Malley appreciated the girls' support. "The cheerleaders are a group of synchronized girls who unite with each other to motivate the crowd as they cheer Kimball Knights towards glorious victories. Go Knights!" Kimball's cheerleaders were supportive this year off the field, also. Senior Greg Sheldon thinks back upon the night before the homecoming football game. "The girls came out and toilet-papered all the players' houses."

Cheerleading wasn't all fun and games, though. The teams had many practices to improve their skills. "Having the strength to stunt is the hardest because it takes a lot of work and practice," said Kristine Crook. The time spent in rigorous training and performing gave Cheerleading the status of any sport. The cheerleaders proved that focus and dedication produces leaders.

Dance Team competed at Bowling State University in Ohio, which qualified them a spot for nationals in Orlando, Florida. Other competitions they participated in throughout the year took place at the Michigan State Fair, Palace of Auburn Hills, as well as their very own competition they hosted here at Kimball..

Junior Joy Campbell replied, "For this being my third year on the team, I've noticed that each year we've grown not only as dancers but as leaders in the school. I'm honored to be a part of the Lady Knights Dance Team." Team dedication paid off .

Being part of the team and beating someone is a positive side to the team but having to make my weight class and practicing really drains a lot out of me". Wrestling is a very challenging sport but those involved in it are not regretting it. "Wrestling is the most challenging sport that I have ever been involved in, its a fun and rewarding sport." commented Greg Sheldon '01. Many if not all the team members were pumped for the season and when it ended they all were proud of what they had accomplished. "This sport definitely gets you into shape, Wres-tle-ing-team!!!!"says captain Justin Evoe '01. There is definitely a lot of talent on the team, from freshman to seniors they were all winners this season. A lot of blood, sweat and tears went into this team and there is not one team member who could say that the season wasn't rewarding. Better Late Than Never

The girls Varsity Volleyball team was led this year by senior captains, Sarah Giffin, Jillian Hawkins and Nancy Farhat.

The girls had a fun, successful season under new head coach Paul Surdenik. "It was such a rewarding experience to work with these wonderful young ladies," he said.

With a regular season record of 4 wins 8 loses, the numbers didn't reflect the tremendous strides the team made. "We've all come a long way since the first day of practice," commented junior Lyndsay Richards. Even though it took a while for the team to gel, the Knights ended their season on a good note. They had to overcome a tough Ferndale team in order to reach State Regionals. Just like the saying goes...better late than never!

The freshman team is coached by Marcie McLellan. The captains this year were Ashley Brosious and Eily Clemens. "We made great progress daily," commented Coach McLellan. The freshman team had a winning record.

The JV team also made great progress this year. They were coached by Barb Bentley and the JV team also had a winning record. The captains were Tara Wesley, Julia Greenway, and Nichole Villerot. The team this year was joined by five freshmen.

"Our team went great. We all got along well and this was a great learning experience for everyone," said JV player Megan Ferber.

The Kimball Gymnastics Team had a rough season, but the girls were dedicated and enjoyed the experience. The team started out with 8 members, and ended the season strong, with 5 hard working girls. The team was very young, consisting of a number of newcomers. It was a very good learning experience for the girls. Freshman Megan Canty felt that, "I learned a lot about the sport of gymnastics, and I had so much fun!"

Although gymnastics looks very graceful and easy, it is an extremely grueling sport. The girls put hard work into perfecting every movement. Freshman Kirsten Leestma explained, "Every day is tough, but the work pays off when you do well in the meets." Twice a week that is a typical morning for the 20 Kimball and 1 Dondero students who compose The Blades, Kimball's Hockey team. The team is together practically the entire year practicing for the regular season. Dedication is a must and these boys have it.

The team finished with another successful season in Division 1 of the OAA. The Blades beat four state ranked teams including Division 1 rival

Clarkston which the team went undefeated against this season. "High school hockey is so exciting," stated first year player Chad McWilliams. "Nothing can beat running through the bench with Matt Itami after a big goal when the stands are packed!"

Oh What A Year!

Last spring the Varsity Baseball Team won Regionals for the first time in twenty years. With teamwork and determination, they proved to be one of the top eight teams in the state. "Although we were disappointed for the loss in the semi's, it was hard not to be proud of how far we got in the playoffs," said Dan Malley '01. The team's overall record for the season was an astonishing 26-8. An addition to an already terrific season was the new baseball diamond the team was able to play on. The dugouts and fences were given a fresh coat of blue paint and the infield had all new grass. "We are really proud of the new field. It makes us look a lot better!" said pitcher Ryan Drews '01. After every game and every practice, the team would rake the field. "A lot of work has gone into the field and it has finally paid off." commented Coach Gordon. Jason Sullivan '01 had high hopes for the team next year. "I hope we can do even better next season. We have a good group of returning players and it will be interesting to see how far we go in the state tournament."

Field Of Dreams

Baseball has always been America's favorite pastime. Throughout history, baseball has given many people the chance to bond with teammates, test their own limits, and simply have a lot of fun. This is exactly what this year's JV and Freshman teams had the chance to do.

When asked about the season, Aaron Smith '02 commented, "The talent on this team was tremendous and when we played at the top of our game, we couldn't lose." Greg Orr '02 agreed by saying, "We came together during the season and went on a nine game winning streak."

Aside from what was accomplished as a team, this year's players had many personal accomplishments as well. Brandon Wilson '03, remembered his most memorable moment, "The best part of the season was when I pitched a complete game with eleven strike-outs against Grosse Pointe North."

With all of the friends that were made and all of the pride that was felt, it is obvious that this year's JV and Freshman teams will have lifelong memories and will undoubtedly agree that baseball is rightfully called America's favorite pastime.

Youngsters

Heart and dedication was the motto for the Girls' Varsity Softball Team. Their record was 6 and 28. Instead of being used to losing, they picked their heads up day after day and gave it their all. "Our team was very young this season. We only had 5 seniors, 4 Juniors, 4 sophomores and one lone freshman so we had a lot of big shoes to fill," said Sara Kucyk '01.

"Our team had fun on and off the field. We all got along very well and have had some wonderful bus-time memories that I will never forget. I think something's burning," laughed Sarah Hennard '01. "We always gave it 110% and had fun no matter if we won or lost," said Jenny Mangold '02. Even though the Lady Knights did not have a winning season, they all had a wonderful time and most of them said it was an excellent learning experience. "I hope that next year's team will have as much fun as this year's, and maybe we will add a few more wins to our record," said Jessie Wilcox '02.

Serving up Some Fun

The 2000 Tennis team was one that improved with time. "Every year I have been on the team, we have improved as the season went on," stated senior Nick Moritz. Coached by Peter Riley, the Knights started off the season with a few disappointing losses, but bounced back later on with some strong wins to give the team a winning season. "Last year was the best team we have had in a long time. Kimball is looking forward to another fun season in the upcoming year," said senior Matt Itami.

One man who could bring success to the team was the assistant coach Paul Surdenik. He has been the assistant coach in the years past, but next year he will have the team for himself. "He is an energetic man who likes to work on the fundamentals of the sport, which will lead to success. He is well respected by everyone he's coached, whether it be by the Varsity players or the Junior Varsity," said Nick Moritz. The Knights are looking forward to continuing success in Division II of the OAA league.

Girls Just Wanna Have Fun

The 2000 Varsity Girls' Soccer Team had a goal this season, and it was to work hard, and to have fun in the process. Captain Katie Tourangeau remarked, "Practices were tough. We all worked hard though, and were rewarded at the end of practice with a game of World Cup!"

The season started out with a bang when the Lady Knights pulled off a 1-0 win. "Although each game varied from win to loss, we kept playing our best," Courtney Hancock informed.

New to the team were two sophomores and two freshmen, along with five juniors. "I was intimidated by the upperclassmen, but it was cool. Playing on Varsity was a good experience," Amy Letzgas '03 remarked.

Altogether the 2000 Soccer season was successful, with a 10-7-1 record. The Lady Knights went all the way to the District finals. "I was proud of all the effort made in the final game, it was a struggle," commented Sue DePassio. Nicole Nafso summed up the season best when she said, "We all got along so great that I never wanted it to end."

Building From The Ground up

Tara Wesley '03 shows off the skills that earned her a place on the Junior Varsity Team.

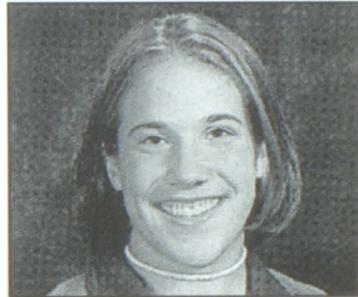

Starting With the Basics

A team must be built from the ground up. Some essential parts of a good team are basic components such as team work, a willingness to learn and a good coach. Tara Wesley '03, a J.V. player, enthusiastically said "It was always important for our team to stick together, so we always played completely as a team." Jennifer Weeks '03 followed with "I learned how to play with everyone. Our coach, Ben Hamilton, taught us to be a team while making it fun." Nichole Villerot commented that coach Hamilton also "encouraged us to try our hardest 100% of the time." Remembering to laugh and learning not to take yourself too seriously is also an important part of being a team player. Tara Wesley '03 said, "It was always fun watching Demir dancing around." All of the hard work pays off in the end, though. A memorable moment for Jennifer Weeks was when the team beat Clarkston 5-0, "It felt so good." All of these components added up for a great Freshman and JV soccer season.

The 2000-2001 Boys' Track Team had a very successful season. They finished off the season with 5 wins and 3 losses. "I was very proud of the guys this year; they were a great group. We're going to miss the seniors," Coach Bowker confessed. When asked about the season, Greg Sheldon laughed, "the best part was beating Lantz in the shot putt." Justin Peart had another take on the season. He commented, "I love how it's one of the only sports where you compete against yourself." Whether it's competing with yourself or with a teammate, there are always exciting breakthroughs with these guys. We're looking forward to another great season!

"It's not about having fun," Kris Crook admits. "It's about competition." The Girls' Track Team had an excellent season this year. "We're like a big happy family. We all get along great." Melissa Crook continued. "We're looking forward to another fun season next year. I like the bonds that the coaches and the kids acquired throughout the season. The best memory of this season was going to Cedar Point," Mrs. Burnett laughed.

"We're also looking forward to some great leadership during the 2001-2002 track season. The captains Sarah Schultz '01, Kristen Carroll '01, Ashley Dutton '01 and Jessie Erickson '01 have great leadership skills," Mr. Ewell said. If you are looking for a group of girls that know how to have fun, come join the Girls' Track Team. It's a sure bet!

Beyond The Classroom

“Participating in extracurricular activities gives me a sense of balance,” stated Holly Clough. Megan Sturner, another member of Dance Company, agreed. “I have to manage my time between practice, my job and homework.” Being involved teaches students to prioritize, organize, and take on additional responsibility. Molly Masen added, “I gained a lot from being a part of a club. NHS was fun to be in and a great learning experience.”

Kimball’s clubs offered students many selections. Drama Club gave students a chance to be in the spotlight by performing and entertaining, Quiz Bowl members expanded their knowledge, SEA members showed pride in their environment, Varsity Club raised money for Special Olympics, Key Club also raised money for good causes, and Tutoring Knights helped kids with their school work.

Some clubs rewarded members at the end of the year for their involvement. International Club went to restaurants and Varsity Club members earned their trip to camp. Other club members were satisfied with the intangible benefits: they met new friends and made memories

Leaders of the Pack

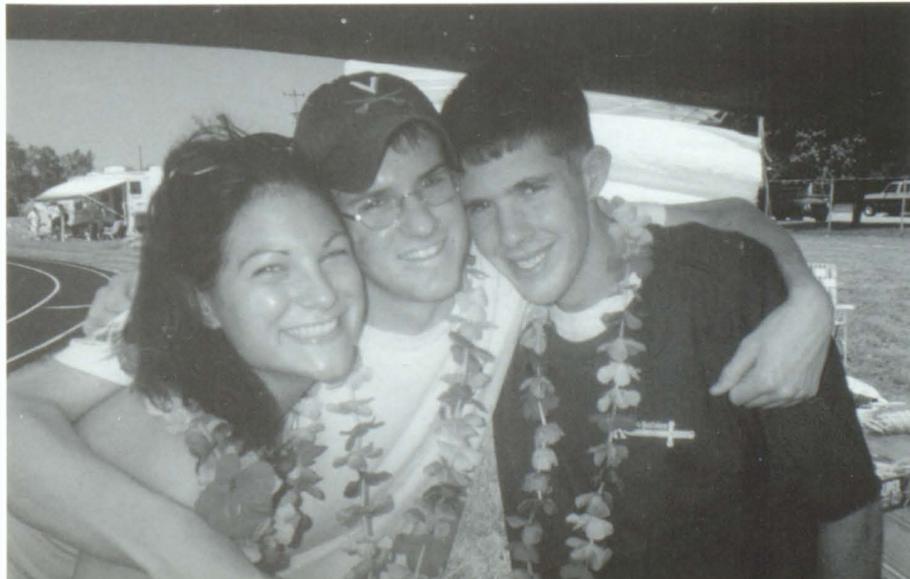

Started last year by counselors Mrs. Knapp and Mr. Spurgeon, Excalibur, also known as the Youth Leadership Academy, has grown a lot over this past year. Led by officers Jessie Blonsky, Matt Shell, Brian Cook, Bill Begeny and Amber Harris, Excalibur was able to participate in the Relay for Life, attend a leadership camp, and put on a bottle drive, as well as several other activities. Towards the middle of the year, outstanding members attended a camp Up North where they participated in several leadership activities, as well as challenged themselves on the treacherous high ropes. Member Bryan Cooley stated, "the different camp activities really helped to build up our trust and leadership abilities as a group."

Always there to lend a hand

If you have a problem there is always somewhere that you can go to talk about it. Peer Mediation is a great organization for Kimball. It is a voluntary and a safe way to resolve your conflicts. "It's cool way to help people with their conflicts, and it gives you a good feeling after the meeting to know that you helped out in the best way possible," stated Jeff Cornillie '02. Many people like the whole idea of your peers being there, as well as an adult so you can express what you are actually feeling and not be nervous or scared. The peers are neutral third parties who are well trained and respected. It's a good thing to get involved in, and you'll help out a lot. "If you join the Peer Mediation team you will learn a lot about yourself just by helping others," exclaimed Richard Guilmet '02.

“Second Star to the Right, and Straight on ‘til Morning”

Kimball High School Drama Club performed the always popular Peter Pan. Peter Pan is about a flying, ten-year old boy who lives in Never Never Land and doesn't want to grow up. Playing the role of Peter Pan was junior Catherine Dildilian and as understudy, sophomore Noor Allos. "Sharing the role of Peter Pan with Catherine was so much fun, especially since I only had to perform once out of the four nights!" Noor stated. Catherine replied, "This was such an unforgettable play, but even more so because, I got to fly!" The production included 59 cast members, 21 pit members, 36 crew members, and 1 laser light (Tinker Bell).

"This was probably the most technically difficult play I have put on in 20 years, but it was the finest, as well," Mr. Kaufman, Kimball's theater teacher and director, stated. Peter Pan had three sold out performances and was, undoubtedly, a huge success.

Peter Pan (Catherine Dildilian) protects Wendy, Michael, John, and the Lost Boys while listening for the outcome of the fight between the Pirates and Indians.

The Pirates present to the audience the greatly feared Captain Hook (Joshua Walbecq).

Peter Pan and lost boy, Nibs (Jon Ellison), happily sing "I won't grow up."

Smee (Eric Hermes) reluctantly agrees with the fact that the Captain's hook is indeed cute.

Kimball Drama Club has dazzled its audience with their talent yet again. Charlie Brown consists of not only 12 cast members, but 6 pit members, and 32 crew members, as well. They have competed in MIFA (Michigan Interscholastic Forensics Association) for the sixth year in a row, and not only ranked first in districts and regionals, but went on and placed sixth at States. "This was one of the most fun shows we have produced...and I got couch!" stated advisor Mr. Kaufman.

A Backstage Pass

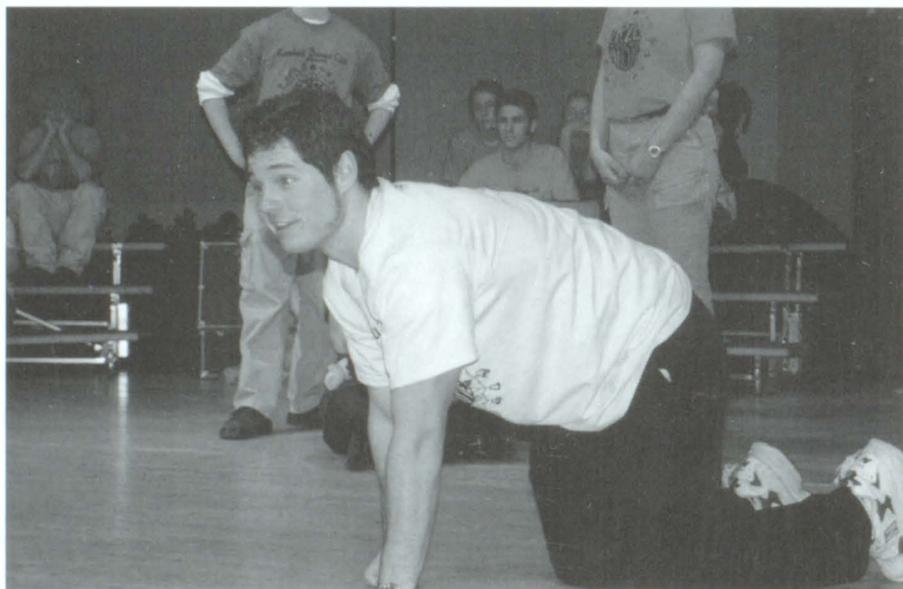

The Drama Club Officers: President Brian Moultrup, Vice-President Kim Yourchock, Secretary Vanessa Dunlop, Treasurer Eric Hermes, and Liaison Elizabeth Webb.

The boys and girls of the Kimball Drama Club had yet another amazing year of productions. They soared through the sky in Peter Pan, taught that everyone is Free to Be... You and Me, entertained the audience with You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown, and ended the year with the dramatic Our Town. "This was such an exciting year. I know I'll never forget my Drama Club memories," Senior Caitlin Norton stated.

Not only did Kimball's Drama Club put on four fantastic plays, but they had a blast while doing so. Vice-President Kim Yourchock added, "This season was incredible. Everyone was so talented and got along great. It was a perfect senior year!"

And as for amusing, you couldn't ask for anything more humorous than what Kimball had to offer. Senior Bill Begey agreed, "Drama is quite possibly the most entertaining thing I have ever done in high school."

Looking back on the year, President Brian Moultrup stated, "Drama Club was amazing. We all went above and beyond our abilities and accomplished so much. I'm definitely looking forward to next year."

A Society of Honor

National Honor Society is an elite organization. Only the students with a 3.3 GPA and who participate in three or more school activities apply. Once accepted, they get involved in March of Dimes, book drives, tutoring, and school bookstore whenever needed.

For the students to be a part of NHS, they must show extreme leadership, character, scholarship and service. "NHS is made up of the 'best of the best' at Kimball. I've worked hard, and it's a privilege to be involved," says Jessica Krebsbach 01'.

The National Honors Society Induction Ceremony was also a hit! The ceremony welcomed all the new members, and recognized the old. Guest speakers spoke, songs were sung, candles were lit, and the welcoming audience cheered for the achievement of these outstanding students. Lyndsay Richards summed it up well saying "This organization is amazing and I admire everyone who's in it."

Everyone in NHS stands on the stage while the last member lights a candle.

Officer Dan Malley lights the fourth candle, recognizing service.

Tutoring Knights: Shaping the Future

"It feels so good to help the young kids with their work," exclaimed sophomore Jackie Smith. "It brings me back to my youth." Tutoring Knights is a group of Kimball students that travels to different elementary schools in the neighborhood to help young kids with their assignments.

The Tutoring Knights advisor Mrs. Giacomini shared that the Tutoring Knights are some of Kimball's finest students and that she was very proud of all they had accomplished this year. One of the officers, sophomore Jenny Holcomb commented, "I've always loved kids. It feels so good to help them out and know you're making a difference in their lives." Tutoring Knights really showed how helping can be fun, too.

When the school looks for spirit in the stands, they look to the Varsity Club members. Wearing their gold shirts with pride, the dedicated members of Varsity Club cheer on every team and have lots of fun doing it.

Along with cheering and working concession stands at the winter sports games, the kids in Varsity Club also work at School District events, host weekend bottle drives, and sell hearts and Christmas trees that are posted in the halls to raise money for Potter's Kids. "Students with the most participation points at the end of the year are rewarded with a long weekend at leadership camp," said Karly Peet.

The Varsity Club officers Karly Peet, Erica Vandenberg, Sara Kucyk, Liz Carter-Penney and Nancy Farhat worked at assigning jobs, setting up events, and making sure everything ran smoothly.

'Round the World We Go

International Club is an organized club where students get together and discuss current world issues. The group celebrates diversity and plans events that center around other countries and their foods, customs, and languages. To get a taste of the many cultures around the world, International Club visited different ethnic restaurants.

"It is such an awesome club. I have a lot of fun learning about all of the different cultures," commented President Brian Cook.

International Club thinks globally but likes to act locally. With only four months into the school year, the club had already had one fund-raiser for Potter's kids. Throughout the year, International Club continued having fun and raising money for good deeds.

Mrs. Bowen listens carefully to the new topics discussed by the students of International Club.

"Lost at Sea"

The theme for the 2001 Dance Company show was "Lost At Sea". The group of 60 girls proved that they can dance and have fun at the same time. All of the hard work and dedication these girls put into their dances really paid off by the talent in the show.

"Although it took lots of preparation for the show, in the end it was all worth it," Megan Sturner commented after the show.

The season began in September and ended in early May when the hard work and long hours of practice paid off.

"This show took a lot of hard work and dedication and the other officers and people in the show made it a success," officer Jennie McFadden added.

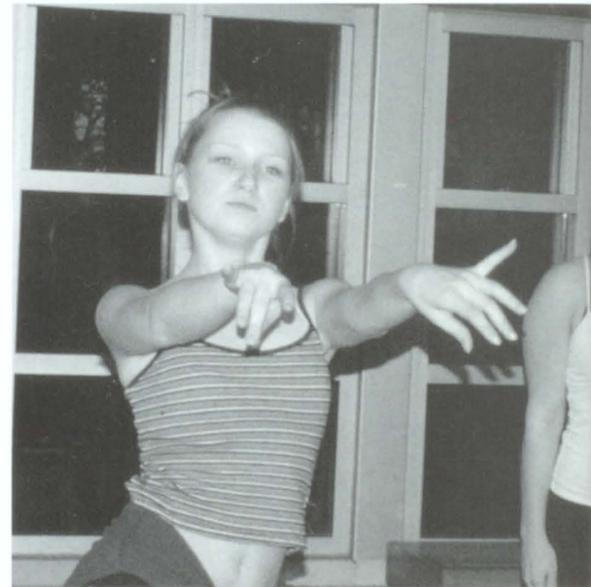

The four talented and committed Dance Company officers this year were Liz Carter-Penney, Sarah Giffin, Lyndsay Davis, and Jennie McFadden. These four worked extremely hard to make sure that the show would be a success.

In the end all the hard work paid off and a fantastic show was produced, as well as many memories for every dancer involved.

Know your facts

Who would have guessed that future Jeopardy contestants may be preparing here at Kimball? Quiz Bowl is a close match to the popular game show where students' knowledge is put to the test. Members practice once a week after school in order to prepare themselves for tournaments. There, they compete against members from various schools. Captains this year included Chris Carvell, Brian Cook, and Cole Kubenez. Senior Quiz Bowl member Justin Bumann enjoyed the afterschool activity because "it was a bit of a challenge and I had a lot of fun." Quiz Bowl members seemed to agree that being involved is not only a unique learning experience, but also a good way to meet new people.

Business Professionals of America is a group of goal and career minded individuals. "Business professionals of America's competitions are the biggest competitions I have ever been involved in. It is a lot of hard work and the people involved are really cool; we all have a lot of fun!" commented president Patrick O' Leary '02. All the people involved in the club enjoy it, especially Benjamin Bowdon '02 who exclaimed "B.P.A is tight! We have a lot of different competitions that we attend. We go to different cities around Michigan to show off business skills." "Our competitions are a lot of fun and they help us learn a lot about the business profession." stated John Dolbee '02. Advisor Ms. Nada Northey directed students toward those skills that will allow them to succeed.

Book Worms

Mrs. Eischeid, the Book Team advisor, participates in the discussion.

"I have wanted to discuss good books I've read, so I decided it was time for action!" joked Book Team President Bill Begeny. Headed by the advisor, Mrs. Eischeid, the book club, otherwise known as the Book Team, has been a big attraction to students of all grades. "I love reading and Book Team lets me discuss my ideas and questions," commented senior Emily Bonner. The books, both fiction and nonfiction, are chosen by the whole club and meetings are held during the course of reading each book.. The members participate in an open discussion format. This year, The Virgin Suicides, High Fidelity and Waiting for Godot were among the favorites. The new club has even inspired teachers to participate, as well. Overall, the Book Team involves a varied group of people at Kimball, and gives students a chance to read inspiring works while having fun. "This club is an ingenious idea, I'm so glad I joined," added Rob Schultz.

Keepin' It Green

"My concern about the environment influenced me to join SEA," said senior member Jillian Hawkins. Students for Environmental Awareness turned over a new leaf this year with the guidance of new advisors, Mr. Robbins and Ms. Lindsey. Along with new advisors, SEA took on more projects and activities. Among them were the cleaning of the courtyards, reinventing the recycling program, and hanging posters in elementary schools to promote environmental awareness. By participating in activities, SEA members gained invaluable experience beneficial to their futures. Sophomore activist, Justin Lampinen learned that "small things do make a difference." By taking action, SEA members have made our school and community a more beautiful place to live.

Pings and Pongs

The Ping Pong Club, started this year by interested students and advised by Mr. Bowker and Mr. Greening, quickly became very popular. "Over sixty students showed up for the first meeting. It was pretty cool," says founder and President Justin Peart. The first tournament drew a crowd of about forty students eager for a little ping pong competition. The final match to decide the championship was between junior Brad Watson and sophomore Bret Burton. Bret came out on top with a two games to none victory. "Overall the club was a huge success. The title match was the most exciting one of them all!" stated Parliamentarian Scott Cassady '02. Along with Peart and Cassady, the other officers were Vice President Thomas Kant '02, Treasurer Andrew Lucarotti '01 and Secretary George Doman '03. The Ping Pong club was a very relaxing club, no laps around the gym...just a little friendly competition. As the members say, "He who hath ping pong, hath pleasure!"

Jamie Freeman and Dan Malley.

SADD: New Beginnings

SADD started brand new this year with all new officers and many new members. "We had a lot of activities scheduled for the year, including a bowl-a-thon and Dead For a Day," said Jamie Freeman. "We attended a lock-in at Lamphere for SADD chapters in Michigan, it was a great opportunity for everyone to have fun and stay safe," said Greg Sheldon. Mrs. Goldberg, the sponsor of SADD, was excited about all of the interest the club received this year. "The attendance at the meetings was significantly higher than last year, which says a lot for the student body of Kimball," said Mrs. Goldberg. Students had fun at the meetings while they planned upcoming events and expressed their concerns about drinking and driving.

Girls Golf Club Breaks Barriers

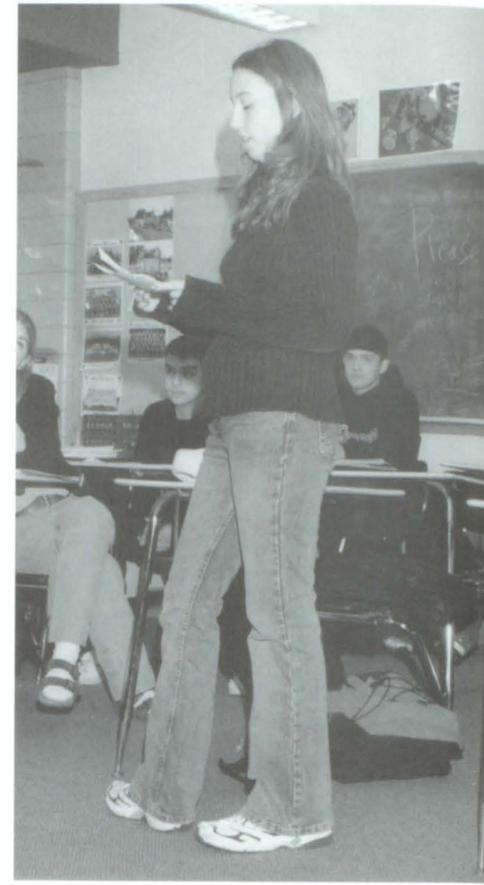

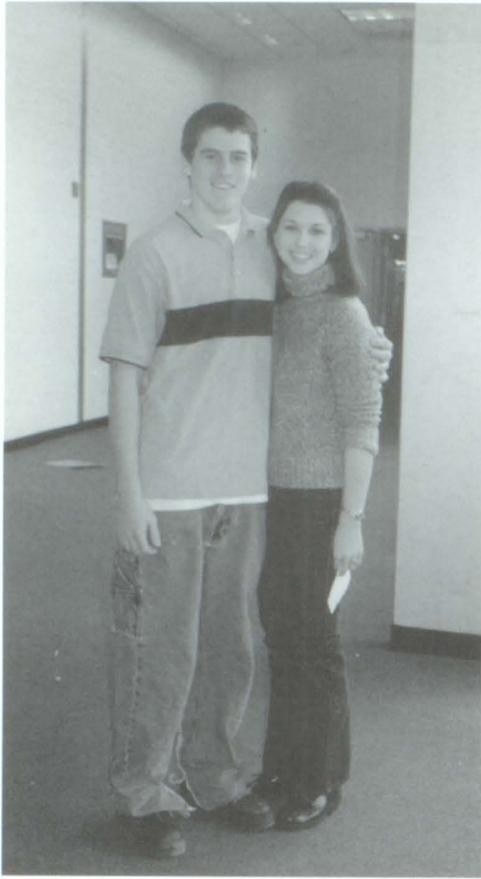

One of our newest clubs is the Girls' Golf Club. The boys' Golf coach, Mr. Caruso, founded this club with much help from the determined members and their parents. Mr. Caruso appreciated the girls' hard work as they did his. One very involved member, Junior Andrea Rachko, commented, "Mr. Caruso has taught us all many aspects about this fabulous sport. Without him there would not even have been a Girls' Golf Club." New to the sport of golf, Kristi Lewis stated "Learning about the game has been a new and exciting experience for me!" Although the club just started, members are involved and active. They practice together regularly and are ready for an early spring. Mr. Caruso has already noticed a difference in each of their games. Junior Kathryn Carroll excitedly summed up their season when she joked, "I like golf, sometimes I even hit the ball!" By learning the basics now, the girls can look forward to a lifetime sport.

Andrea, Chrissy, Emily and Eileen show off their good form before heading out to the links.

Senior Stuff

Goodbye is Not Forever

The time has come to stop and go our separate ways.

If yesterday was ours together why
Must we part today?

We have to think about tomorrow, step up to the ride.

But as we turn and wave goodbye
Brush the tears aside.

Goodbye is just a word we hear when we must go away.

Goodbye is not a word that means
Gone is where we'll stay.

All the memories we have made and tucked within our hearts,

Will give us all the reason more
That we shall never part.

The good, the bad and all the times that we have shared together,

Are what have made us strong and wise
And All For One Forever.

So when the distant Thunder rolls and beckons us to come,

Remember what we've built and shared,
And all that we have done.

Let the laughter ring throughout our hearts
from now until forever,

And remember when the lightning strikes
We'll always be together.

~Sarah Hennard

Senior Officers Lead the Way

Some call them heros. Some call them leaders. We call them Senior Class Officers. They are brilliant, bold, creative, and confident. They are men with attitude.

There was a change this year when all males took up the Senior Class Offices. This year's officers were President Matt Schoch, Vice President Matt Kant, Secretary Greg Sheldon, and Treasurer Joe Deneweth.

"It was such a surprise when I found out that I was chosen as Class President. It was an honor to lead our class. The other officers and I planned to do everything we could to make this year the best," said Matt Schoch.

Led by Ms. Kathy Kampa, the officers took on several tasks throughout the year for the benefit of the senior class. "We had several fundraisers and contributed much of the money to charity. Morley Candy sales and the Powderpuff were the most successful with profits over $4,500," Joe Deneweth informed.

The Senior Class Officers worked extremely hard, and much pressure was put on them. "We had to organize Prom and fundraisers to make this year the best yet,"

Greg Sheldon said, "It was stressful at times, but everything worked out and all the events were successful."

The Senior Class Officers planned other events, such as working at the Silverdome for the High School State Championships, making the Senior shirts, and organizing the All-Knight Party after graduation.

These four guys accomplished much for the class of 2001, and made this year unforgettable. "They did a very responsible job, and managed everything very well. It took a lot of hard work; these guys performed splendidly," commented Ms. Kampa.

"Total control over how senior year works out- a task I'll gladly take on."

Every year the Lancer staff at Kimball is faced with a challenge: to sell ads!

The staff goes around to local businesses in Royal Oak asking them to purchase ads for the yearbook. Businesses are always anxious to support us, and their contributions help pay for the cost of the yearbook. The support from parents, businesses, students, and the Board of Education make the Lancer what it is. Every day students visit the local businesses like Tania's, 7-11, and many others where they are greeted with a smile and hospitality. Mary Drinkwine says, "Grabbing a slurpee after soccer practice is a must!" The Lancer staff thanks everyone for all their support.

Holly Clough buys a pair of roses at Dynamic Flowers.

Sarah Giffin walks out of Changez Salon after getting her hair done.

The members of the Royal Oak Board of Education: President Lynette M. Sisson, Vice-President Jeanne Dolson, Secretary Richard Granke, Treasurer Kevin McLogan, Trustee James Anderson, Trustee Daniel Frohardt-Lane, Trustee Christine Hartwig.

To the fantastic four: Brad, Haley,
Justin, and Jessie

To all of my friends: Josh, Brad, Jessie, Jackle, Niall, Sewell, Rob, Rachel, Jay, Lindsay, Jeff, and Bill

These last four years have made us who we are, and if it wasn't for you four I don't know what I'd do. Thank you for being there. Haley I cherished our conversations on the phone, maybe one of these days we can go to our favorite state, Kansas City. Brad thanks for introducing me to the turquoise sasquatch, Panera, Shuptrine, Franks, Pasquales, and everything else you contributed to. Justin, what else can I say, thanks for putting up with everything I dealt out, sorry for breaking your windshield, and lighting your garage on fire, don't forget a shopping cart is no match for a 93' Escort. Last but not least, Jessie, thanks for your advice, and thanks for always being my dance partner. The tigger dance will not be forgotten, nor the booty. PEACE OUT!!!

Josh "its freon time" Quinn

About four years ago I walked into Kimball a tiny freshman, I may have known some of you to begin with but I had no idea what was ahead. All I've got to say is these last four years have been the best four years of my life. From Josh breaking my windshield, setting my garage on fire, and destroying everything else he touched, to Rachel and I making Ya Ya's jokes, to Jessies constant dancing, and those terrifying nightmares of her booty. It all equals memories. You guys helped me through these four Years and that's what I'll remember the most. I know there will always parties, and we'll still chill together, but this is my goodbye to high school, and hello to the real world. Extra love to my "sister" Jackle, and Josh this makes twelve years of reeking havoc, I'm looking forward to the next twelve. Its been real. PEACE OUT!!!!

Sincerely,
your friend Justin Franks

P.S. I can never forget Nicole Nafso, don't ever change, you're perfect the way you are, you always have been. Sean McDanials if you keep making me laugh, I'll keep throwing peanuts at you.

Erin,

You are the best lil' sister ever!
I miss you bunches! Good Luck!
I love you.

Love,
Becky

In ninth grade, your idea of a good friend was the person who would go to a party thrown by a senior so you wouldn't wind up being the only freshman there.

In tenth grade, your idea of a good friend was the person who changed their schedule so you would have someone to sit with at lunch.

In eleventh grade, your idea of a good friend was the person who gave you rides in their new car, convinced your parents that you shouldn't be grounded, consoled you when you broke up with Nick or Susan, and found you a date to the prom.

In twelfth grade, your idea of a good friend was the person who helped you pick out a college/university, assured you that you would get into that college/university, helped you deal with your parents who were having a hard time adjusting to the idea of letting you go...

At graduation your idea of a good friend was the person who was crying on the inside but managed the biggest smile one could give as they congratulated you.

The summer after twelfth grade your idea of a good friend was the person who helped you clean up the bottles from that party, helped you sneak out of the house when you just couldn't deal with your parents, assured you that now that you and Nick or you and Susan were back together, you could make it through anything, helped you pack up for university and just silently hugged you as you looked through blurry eyes at 18 years of memories you were leaving behind, and finally on those last days of childhood, went out of their way to give you reassurance that you would make it in college as well as you had these past 18 years, and most importantly sent you off to college knowing you were loved.

Lou Gehrig gets Lou Gehrig's disease, don't tell me he didn't see that one comin'!

Mike Neville

Even as a youngster, causin' ruckis on the back of the bus. I was a fool all through high school, kickin' up dust.

Dan Sulich

I still got a lot of growin' up to do. I still got a whole lot of throwin' up to spew.

Kyle Belton

There's two things I have in this world: my word and my twins, I don't break 'em for no one.

Tim DeTavernier

The best time I had at Kimball was throwin' a kid in the pool.

Kevin McPherson

Learn as if you were to live forever; Live as if you were to die tomorrow.

Jason Rushton

The girls recognize, and these brothers do too, I'm the flyest thing walkin' through Kimball High School.

Jon Latella

Scooby Doo can do-do, but Jimmy Carter is smarter. (Tumbleweed)

Were born...
And a few months later
You started kindergarten
And you cried because I Left you...
I turned around and there
You were in Junior High
And you smiled as you waved goodbye.*

*Now I've watched you
Glide through High School
You've spread your wings
Became a woman and I am
So proud to be your friend!

Meghan,

If I had been able to choose a daughter, there's no doubt I would have chosen you. I'd have wished for your warm disposition & dreamt of your spirit & style. I'd have hoped for your Love & affection & imagined your beautiful smile.

I think of the sweet little girl you were & the beautiful woman (inside & out) you've become; I'm so proud of you & thankful that God picked you for me.

May God bless you and guide you in all that lies ahead. Always remember to DANCE...

Love Mom
XOXOXO

To Sarah G. ~

Let's become little old ladies together ~ we'll stay up late looking at old pictures, telling "remember when" stories, and laughing till our sides ache. Let's become old ladies together ~ the kind of old ladies who take long walks, wear silly hats, and get away with acting outrageous in public places.

And if anybody should ask how long we've been friends, we'll say, "Oh, forever ~ since before you were even born!" Let's become little old ladies together ~ because a friendship that's as special as ours can only grow better through the years.

The Election 2000

After five weeks of hand recounts, court appeals, concessions and retractions, Vice President Al Gore's final concession of the presidency to Texas Governor George W. Bush and his vice presidential running mate Dick Cheney brought an end to one of the longest and most eventful elections in American history.

What happened? The Election at a Glance:

November 7 (Election Day): Shortly before 8 p.m. EST, the major television networks estimate Al Gore and vice-presidential running mate Joe Lieberman the winners.

AP Photo/Jim Cole

With a too-close-to-call election throughout much of the nation, Florida becomes the key state in deciding the winner, as the next president will need Florida's 25 electoral votes to win.

November 8: At 2:15 a.m., results from Florida begin to suggest George Bush carries the battleground state. Gore concedes the election to Bush, thinking Bush has at least a 50,000 vote lead. Forty-five minutes later, Gore gets word Bush's lead has shrunk to only a few thousand votes, and retracts his concession.

Due to the closeness of the election, the focus turns to questionable ballots and fair voting practices.

In St. Louis, Mo., a controversy arises over a lower court's ruling to keep the polls open past the 7 p.m. deadline.

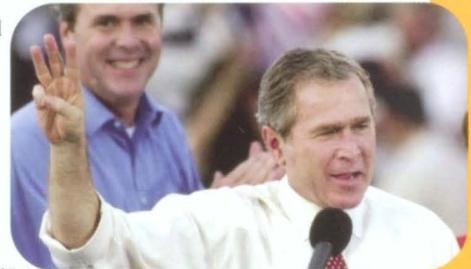

AP Photo/Phil Sandlin

In Palm Beach County, Fla., an unexpectedly large number of votes for Reform Party candidate Pat Buchanan lead to questions about the legitimacy of the punch-card-style "butterfly ballot."

AP Photo/Victor Cavano

November 9: Gore's team requests a hand recount of ballots in four Florida counties, Palm Beach, Miami-Dade, Broward and Volusia.

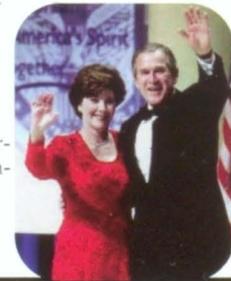

November 16: Bush's lawyers submit written arguments to the U.S. Federal Appeals Court to end recounts.

November 22-December 8: Hand recounts and legal battles continue, making the word "chad" (the small piece of paper punched out of the ballots) a household word.

December 9: The U.S. Supreme Court halts the manual recounts and sets a hearing for two days later.

December 13: In a public concession speech, Gore states he no longer wishes to prolong the election, and yields the presidency, making George W. Bush the nation's 43rd president, and the first chief executive since Benjamin Harrison in 1888 to claim the office with the majority of electoral votes but a minority of the popular vote nationwide.

Was Al Gore's appeal for a vote recount in Miami-Dade and Palm Beach counties justified or unjustified?

Elian Gonzalez, a six-year-old Cuban boy found off the coast of Florida, survived yet another ordeal: the brutal custody battle between relatives in Miami and his father in Cuba. The long struggle culminated in a late-night raid on a Miami home where armed U.S. agents seized Elian by force, putting him in the custody of his father who returned with Elian to Cuba.

In a stunning surprise move, Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak announced his resignation. Barak's popularity had dropped during the ongoing conflict between Israelis and Palestinians. Barak stood for re-election, hoping for a vote of confidence from the Israeli People, but lost to Likud party leader Ariel Sharon.

Many thought peace between North Korea and South Korea would never happen, but the past year saw warming relations between the two countries, which are still technically at war. Images of North Korean leader Kim Jong Il entertaining South Korea's Kim Dae-jung at a June peace summit in Pyong-yang were considered some of the most surprising news pictures of the year.

Tragedy struck when Air France Flight 4590, one of only 13

Concorde jetliners in use, caught fire upon takeoff and crashed into a small hotel in the French town of Gonesse. The 109 people aboard were killed, as well as four people on the ground.

Hillary Rodham Clinton became the first active first lady of the United States to win an elective office when she defeated U.S. Republican representative Rick Lazio for one of New York's U.S. Senate seats.

Elections in Yugoslavia turned angry when Prime Minister Slobodan Milosevic lost to the people's choice Vojislav Kostunica 35 percent to 55 percent. The election's close margin of error would have warranted a recount, but Milosevic refused to hold another election, declaring himself the winner. The outraged public rallied violently in the streets of Belgrade, and the riots combined with pressure from the U.N. and Russia finally forced Milosevic to concede the election to Kostunica.

A Christmas Day blaze in Central China tore through a shopping and commercial center, killing 309 people. The fire trapped people celebrating at a Christmas dance party as well as construction workers inside the four-story supermarket, shops and disco building in the Henan province of Luoyang.

Violence and tension in the Middle East escalated once again when the USS Cole United States Navy destroyer was attacked while moored in Yemen for routine refueling. Suicidal terrorists on a small boat crept up and bombed the Cole, killing 17 United States sailors and Marines.

Bitter cold and freezing water did not deter an estimated two and a half million people who bathed in India's Ganges River on the first day of a Hindu religious festival. The Maha Kumbh Mela, or Grand Pitcher Festival, takes place every 12 years and sees millions of devotees bathe in the Ganges to purify their sins.

James Perkins, Jr., a former computer consultant, was chosen as the first-ever black mayor of Selma, Ala., with 57 percent of the vote in a runoff election. He defeated long-time Selma Mayor Joseph T. Smitherman, who was going for his 10th re-election.

A 7.6-magnitude earthquake devastated the suburban neighborhood of Las Colinas in El Salvador. More than 600 were reported dead. In Washington state, Salvadoran Americans numbering about 135,000 rushed to organize relief efforts while individuals coped with losing relatives and friends in the Central American tragedy.

As the price of crude oil reached a 10-year high of $34 per barrel, angry truckers and farmers throughout Europe blockaded oil depots and put a chokehold on much of the nation's fuel supply. The high petrol prices led to an unprecedented show of public dissent in European countries, particularly Britain.

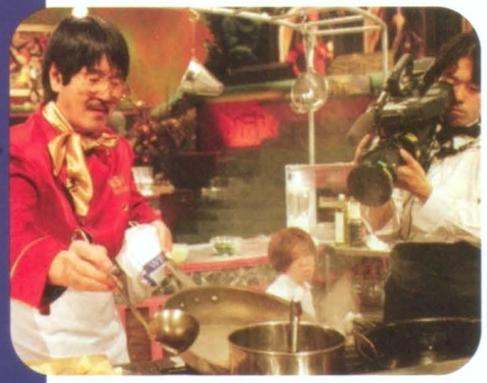

People and Entertainment

After 15 years of co-hosting with Regis Philbin on "Live with Regis and Kathie Lee," Kathie Lee Gifford bid farewell to the show. The 46-year-old entertainer, wife of former football star and Monday night sports announcer Frank Gifford, cited concerns about spending more time with her two young children, son Cody and daughter Cassidy, as reasons for leaving the show. ABC soap opera actress Kelly Ripa was selected as Gifford's replacement.

AP Photo/Richard Drew

The Food Network brought popular Japanese cooking show The Iron Chef to the United States, where it quickly became a cult hit. The theatrical Japanese program featured an unusual combination of WWF Smackdown-type competition and gourmet cooking, pitting the world's best chefs against each other in a culinary battle using eclectic ingredients such as pork belly or giant eel.

Web superstar Napster, founded and created by 19-year-old Shawn Fanning, was pulled into court as the Recording Industry of America sued to stop the extremely successful Internet music file sharing company in aiding the distribution of copyrighted songs. The legal pressure led to a federal court ruling for Napster to stop its users from trading copyrighted material and also to an alliance with German media giant Bertelsmann.

George, the political monthly magazine founded by the late John F. Kennedy Jr., folded in March due to monetary problems. The final issue included a collection of interviews conducted by Kennedy while he was editor.

Two years after announcing he had Parkinson's disease, actor Michael J. Fox made his final appearance on the ABC sitcom "Spin City." Despite his degenerative disease, Fox saw the series through its 100th episode. Movie actor Charlie Sheen took over for him, not as Fox's "Spin" character, but as a new deputy mayor on the show.

Reality-based television shows became a pop-culture phenomenon with the summer debut of CBS's "Survivor" and "Big Brother." Richard Hatch was the first contestant to survive "Survivor," winning the $1 million grand prize. The shows feature screened contestants placed in real-life situations with no scripts or predetermined outcomes. MTV's "The Real World" was the predecessor to the popular "real" shows, followed by "Who Wants to be a Millionaire," "Greed" and "Making the Band."

Despite pleas from the band for fans to move back because people were being pressed up against the stage, eight Pearl Jam fans suffocated in a mosh pit at Denmark's Roskilde Festival. A ninth victim died five days later in a hospital. Twenty-five were injured at the four-day festival, where approximately 50,000 people turned out to see 200 bands play.

"The Beatles' 1966 record "Revolver" has been named the greatest rock album ever in a poll conducted by the cable music channel VH1. The Beatles capped a list of the 100 best rock albums taken from a VH1 poll of 500 rock journalists and musicians, including Britney Spears, Jackson Browne, Elvis Costello, Roberta Flack and Art Garfunkel. The Fab Four are still topping the charts with "1," a collection of all the Beatles' number one hits.

New bride Jennifer Aniston may have taken his eligible bachelor status, but People magazine had no problem crowning actor Brad Pitt the Sexiest Man Alive in 2000. Also named Sexiest Man Alive in 1995, Pitt is the first two-time title-holder since the magazine began its "Sexiest" tradition in 1985.

After being diagnosed with testicular cancer, MTV comedian Tom Green of the "The Tom Green Show" aired a TV special documenting his battle with cancer as well as the comedian's lymph node removal surgery. Green hoped televising his experience would help others gain awareness about cancer.

"The West Wing" set a record for the most Emmys earned by a show in its first season. The NBC political drama won nine Emmys, including outstanding drama, at the 52nd Annual Prime Time Emmy Awards. The show surpassed the record previously held by "ER" and "Hill Street Blues." The NBC comedy "Will & Grace" also turned 11 of its nominations into awards, including outstanding comedy.

Controversial rapper Eminem, a.k.a. Marshall Mathers, got top honors at the ninth annual MTV Video Music Awards, winning the coveted Video of the Year award along with best male video for his signature song "The Real Slim Shady." Eminem's "The Marshall Mathers LP" sold 1.76 million copies during its first week.

Versions of ABC's hit smash "Who Wants to Be a Millionaire" hit the airwaves in 31 countries, with more on the way. In India, a Hindi-language version became the country's most popular program ever.

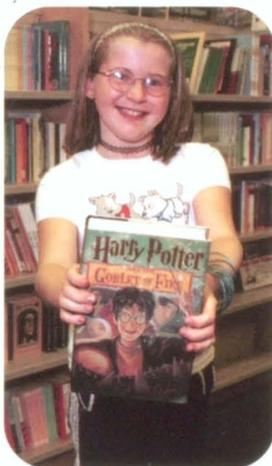

After a high-profile bidding war with other filmmakers, Universal Studios finally own the prized rights to Dr. Seuss's popular children's story

"How the Grinch Stole Christmas," when director Ron Howard impressed Seuss's widow with his take on the tale. Comedy icon Jim Carrey stole the show as the nasty green villain. A blockbuster smash, the movie was the highest grossing film of the year.

Harry Potter mania infected readers around the world. Although Book One of the series, "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone," was first published in 1997, Y2K saw a mad surge in popularity for the boy wizard. The first four of the seven-book series, released by the end of 2000, sold 60 million copies in 200 countries. The voluminous 734-page "Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire" (book four) packed book houses with a record first printing of 3.8 million copies.

An epidural block numbed the patient's chest so he could speak to doctors during the beating-heart procedure. The 51-year-old man who received the single bypass recovered successfully.

The first five cloned piglets were presented to the world in April. The pigs were cloned from fetal-pig skin cells and scientists believe that due to the similarities between porcine (pig) and human organs, the techniques used to clone this litter may eventually create a supply of genetically modified pig livers and other organs that would be acceptable to the human immune system.

Researchers from Carnegie Mellon unveiled Nomad, the first robotic planetary rover with onboard intelligence. Previous planetary explorers, such as the Mars Pathfinder, needed human controllers to tell them what to do, but Nomad performs tasks such as snapping pictures, collecting samples and sending data back to earth by itself. Using a laser range finder and spectrometer, the robot analyzes every single rock in its path. Scientists hope to employ future generations of the rover to explore other planets.

It was a bittersweet victory for scientists when they successfully cloned a dead Asian gaur, an extinct species, and brought it into the world from the belly of a farm cow. The baby bull, called Noah, was born at Trans-Ova Genetics in Sioux City, Iowa, but died shortly after birth. Although Noah died, the project gives hope for ways to save endangered species and resurrect those already extinct.

After years of dreaming, planning and arguing over who should get the credit, the International Human Genome Project and Celera Genomics put their differences aside and officially announced they have (both) deciphered the 3.1 billion biochemical "letters" of human DNA. The amazing breakthrough will allow scientists vast insight into human health and disease at the molecular level, knowledge that will lead to a revolution in diagnosing and treating everything from Alzheimer's to cancer. The discovery is seen as one of history's great scientific milestones, the biological equivalent of landing on the moon.

A lawsuit was filed when a Chicago man said he suffered adverse allergic reactions after eating Kraft Taco Bell taco shells contaminated with StarLink, a form of bioengineered corn not yet approved for human consumption. The corn was approved for pesticide-resistant animal feed only in 1998, but approval for human consumption was withheld due to the corn's shared characteristics with other foods that caused allergic reactions.

Numerous dot.com companies were pushed to the brink of failure due to poor business planning, intense competition and weak advertising revenue. The year saw nearly 42,000 dot.com company job cuts, billions of dollars in market capitalization lost, and plummeting share prices.

Astronaut William Shepherd and cosmonauts Sergei Krikalyov and Yuri Gidzenko made up the first team to inhabit the International Space Station, taking historic steps toward what NASA hopes will become a permanent living and working space.

Each team will work and live for four months aboard the Russian module Zvezda, conducting biological and technical experiments until another crew replaces them.

Israel-based Given Imaging, Ltd. introduced a 1.18-inch-long pill camera that, when swallowed, can travel through a human digestive tract, transmitting two still images per second to a Walkman-like receiver attached to the person's belt. Within 24 to 48 hours, doctors can download the data and assemble a more accurate and complete video of the intestines than can be taken through the more traditional endoscopy.

Y2K saw great improvements in the increasingly popular digital camera.

Manufacturers shipped 5.1 million digital cameras throughout the U.S., and the improved photo quality, reduced cost, convenience of not buying film, and ability to review and erase unwanted shots have made the digital camera more popular than ever. TIME Magazine named the Nikon Coolpix 990 digital camera the Machine of the Year.

A destructive computer virus was unleashed and self-propagated through the popular Microsoft Outlook e-mail program. With the phrase "ILOVEYOU" in the subject line, the virus wreaked havoc on computer networks from Hong Kong to New York, costing millions in software damage and lost commerce.

The 2000 Olympics

More than 10,000 of the greatest athletes from around the world gathered in Sydney, Australia to participate in the 27th Olympiad. Despite being dubbed "the best ever" by leaders of the International Olympic Committee, a 15-hour time difference between the United States and Australia kept many Americans from watching live as the United States came away with an unprecedented 97 medals.

Spectators beheld a dazzling opening ceremony, including the lighting of the torch by Australian runner (and native Aborigine) Cathy Freeman, who was later overcome with emotion when she won the gold for the women's 400-meter race.

Although the games received the lowest television ratings since 1968, many athletes gave inspirational performances.

United States sprinter Marion Jones fell short of her goal to win five gold medals, but still got the gold in the 100 and 200 meter sprints, and the 4x400 meter relay, as well as the bronze in the long jump and 4x100 meter relay, winning the medals in spite of the distraction of husband and shot put world champion

C.J. Hunter's positive drug test.

Maurice Green, U.S. sprinter, not only took home the gold, but he also retained the title of "World's Fastest Man" after finishing the 100-meter sprint in 9.8 seconds.

In the water, Laura Wilkinson had a surprise victory over a superb Chinese team to move from fifth place to first and win the first U.S. gold in the women's 10-meter platform in 36 years.

Australian swimmer Ian Thorpe, nicknamed "Thorpedo," broke the world record in the men's 400-meter freestyle relay, finishing in 3:13.67.

On the mat, U.S. heavyweight wrestler Rulon Gardner toppled the undefeated Russian wrestling icon Aleksandr Karelin.

Medal-rich swimmer Lenny Krayzelburg and the U.S. men's relay team won the 400-meter medley relay in 3:33:73, lowering the mark of 3:34.84 set by Americans at the 1996 Atlanta Games. It was Krayzelburg's third gold after victories in the 100- and 200-meter backstrokes.

The Year

In Sports

Having never played each other in the World Series before, the New York Yankees battled the New York Mets in what was dubbed the "Subway Series." Victorious at Shea Stadium, the Yanks defeated the Mets, 4-2, in Game 5 of the Series, becoming the first team in more than 25 years to win three straight titles.

AP Photo/Ron Frehm

The New Jersey Devils defeated the Dallas Stars, 2-1, in double overtime during Game 6 of the Stanley Cup finals, earning the team their second Championship. The Devils took the best-of-seven series, 4-2. Devils captain Scott Stevens won the Conn Smythe trophy as Stanley Cup playoff MVP.

The Baltimore Ravens stomped the New York Giants, 34-7, in Super Bowl XXXV, giving the city of Baltimore their first NFL championship in 30 years.

Defensive player of the year and game MVP Ray Lewis led a defense that intercepted four passes from the Giants and held New York to 152 total yards. The second and third touchdowns on three plays late in the third quarter were back-to-back kickoff returns by New York wide receiver Ron Dixon and Baltimore wide receiver Jermaine Lewis, creating a Super Bowl first.

The Kansas City Wizards downed the Chicago Fire, 1-0, for the MLS Cup at RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C. The win was a surprise comeback for the Kansas City team who finished last in 1999, and had not been to the MLS post-season since 1997. With 10 saves in the Chicago game and a record 16 shutouts in 2000, Wizards goalie Tony Meola had one of the best seasons of any player in MLS history, earning MVP honors from MLS and Honda, as well as Aquafina Goalkeeper and Ace Comeback Player of the Year awards.

The Texas Rangers made shortstop Alex Rodriguez the highest-paid player in baseball history when he agreed to a 10-year, $252 million contract with the team. The 25-year-old All Star previously played for the Seattle Mariners.

After three and a half years off the ice, Hall of Fame hockey center and former team owner Mario Lemieux returned to play center with the Pittsburgh Penguins. Lemieux was responsible for leading the Penguins to consecutive Stanley Cup championships in 1991 and 1992. He also brought the financially strapped team out of bankruptcy last year, becoming the first former player from the four major North American sports leagues to own a team.

The Year In Sports

The Houston Comets pulled ahead in overtime for their fourth straight WNBA Championship with a 79-73 victory over the New York Liberty, making Houston the first professional basketball team to win four straight titles since the Boston Celtics captured eight in a row in 1959. The Comets defeated New York 2-0 overall in the series with the help of four-year MVP Cynthia Cooper, who hit a 3-pointer with 21 seconds left, forcing the tied game into overtime.

Sports Illustrated magazine's Sportswoman of the Year Venus Williams proved power ruled in 2000. The female tennis phenomenon captured the ladies singles title at Wimbledon, not only claiming her first Grand Slam victory, but also becoming the first female black champion at Wimbledon since 1958. She and younger sister, Serena, teamed up to win the doubles crown at the All England Club. Williams later went on to win the U.S. Open, and take the gold in both singles and doubles (with Serena) at the Sydney Olympic Games.

Indiana University's volatile basketball coach Bobby Knight was dismissed after 29 years of leading the Hoosiers. Knight was fired for "a pattern of unacceptable behavior" and for allegedly grabbing and swearing at a student, violating the "zero tolerance" policy instituted by university president Myles Brand. Thousands of devastated students protested the decision.

The Los Angeles Lakers beat the Indiana Pacers 4 to 2 to win the NBA Championship. The win marked the team's seventh championship, and coach Phil Jackson's first win without Michael Jordan. Jackson's New Age coaching style, which included meditation combined with his triangle offense and suffocating defense, led the Lakers to a league-high 67 wins.

Named Sports Illustrated magazine's Sportsman of the Year, golfer Tiger Woods continued to set amazing records in 2000. Woods is the only athlete to earn the "Sportsman" title twice, the first golfer to win nine PGA titles in a year since 1950, the second ever to win three professional majors in a single season, and, at 24 years old, the youngest of five golfers to complete a career Grand Slam.

After years of urging recruits to "Be all you can be," The U.S. Army decided it was time to update their image and change slogans. Targeting recruits between the ages of 18 and 24, the Army launched new promos focusing on technology, training, benefits and the individual with the new tagline "An army of one." The old slogan was ranked the second best advertising campaign of the 20th century.

Old Man Winter dealt the United States a heavy blow beginning in late November. Heavy snows covered the Midwest and Northeast throughout the holiday season, and southern states such as Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Georgia, and Florida suffered unusually cold temperatures and heavy ice storms, which damaged crops and caused lengthy power outages for many residents.

much to the disappointment of waiting gamers, a production delay caused demand to far outstrip supply. The coveted console has DVD and CD playing capabilities, advanced graphics, and the capacity to connect to the Internet.

Liz Murray was granted a full scholarship from the New York Times to attend Harvard University. Homeless for several years after her drug-addicted parents lost their house, Murray finished high school in two years while camping out in New York City parks and subway stations. Her single dorm room at Harvard was her first steady lodging in four years.

Timothy McVeigh, the 32-year-old Gulf War veteran convicted of murder in the April 1995 truck bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah federal building, was sentenced to be executed by lethal injection. The bombing killed 168 people in what was considered the bloodiest terrorist attack ever on U.S. soil.

Nearly 100,000 mothers converged in Washington, D.C. and nearly one million rallied across the country in the Million Mom March. The demonstration was meant to put pressure on Congress to enact tougher gun control laws, while memorializing those senselessly killed by gun-related violence.

One of the hottest holiday items of the year, the mini-scooter, turned out to be more hazardous than fun. More than 100,000 scooters were recalled due to complaints the handles unexpectedly came out of the steering column, causing riders to fall. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission reported nearly 10,000 people, mostly children, were treated in hospital emergency rooms for scooter-related injuries by the end of the year.

"Caring capitalism" yielded to creamy profits when Ben Cohen and Jerry Greenfield, otherwise known as the hippie co-founders of Ben & Jerry's ice cream, finally sold their company to multinational conglomerate Unilever, despite public protests of "don't sell out!" Both Firestone and Ford suffered major blows after Firestone, a unit of Japan's Bridgestone Corp., was forced to recall six and a half million 15-inch ATX, ATX II and Wilderness tires, most of which were mounted on Ford Explorers. The faulty tires separated from their treads, causing major accidents, personal injury and more than 100 deaths. The recall is one of the largest in U.S. history.

The Army tested the Crusader, a faster, bigger mobile howitzer intended to replace the Paladin. The $23 million system can travel up to 29 miles per hour, with a shell distance of 25 miles. It can also fire a series of 100-lb. shells in rapid succession at different trajectories so that the shells all land in their target zone at the same time.

A statue of wheelchair-bound President Franklin Delano Roosevelt was dedicated as the centerpiece of the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Memorial in Washington, D.C. Only two pictures exist showing the President in his wheelchair. Stricken with polio at age 39, which caused him to lose the use of his legs, Roosevelt kept his handicap a secret for political reasons. The National Organization on Disability fought for six years to get a statue that showed the President as he lived.

Unusually cold temperatures and the lights of the holiday season put a crunch on the California utility market. Exorbitant electricity prices coupled with the threat of rolling blackouts angered consumers who were urged to conserve power, and even take down holiday lights. Despite a cap on the state's utility rates, the California Public Utilities Commission approved a 26 percent rate increase to help the two largest utility companies out of $9 billion dollars of debt. Blackouts throughout the area caused local merchants to suffer and lose revenue.

Karly Peet- It's finally over, and I'm so happy. We've had an amazing time this year, whether it was taking pictures or trying to make deadlines, we all got our share of laughs. Good luck to the fellow Lancer "Leaders", let me tell you it's a lot of hard work but it definitely pays off. To my girls: The time has come for us to go our separate ways but I know we will stay together until the end. Good luck ladies. I love you all. Mrs. Wine and the 2002 Lancer staff, I wish you the best of luck next year. Congratulations to the class of 2001, we are finally out of her.

Dear Lancer Staff,
It has been an absolute pleasure to work with each and every one of you! After all is said and done, I think our hard work will have paid off. I had some great times with you guys. I know I will never forget my experience of being a part of the Lancer Staff. Mrs. Wine, you have been by far my most enjoyable teacher. I will always remember you and all that you have taught me over the past two years. To the future Lancer Leaders, I wish you all the luck in the world (especially you, Lyndsay). I will miss each, and every one of you next year.
Love Always, Jessica Webster

Mrs. Wine and Lancer staff~ All of our hard work has finally paid off! What a wonderful book we produced! These past four years have been unforgettable. Thanks to everyone who has contributed to my great memories! La~ make your time here count, it flies by! I love you! Good luck to everyone in the future! ~Nancy Farhat

Congratulations Lancer staff!
To my fellow "Lancer Leaders":
We have finally finished the "stunning" book that has consumed endless hours of our past two years; we have reason to be proud! Mrs. Wine: You have truly been an inspiration
To my amazing friends: I love each and every one of you, and I will miss you terribly next year. Katie, Kyle, Amy, Angela, and Megan: I could not have gotten through the past four years without you.
- Aubri Teeley

Well, the Lancer is finally finished; the long hours of yielding to Mrs. Wine are over! Thanks you Lancer Leaders for the laughter and fun! Mrs. Wine: you have inspired me to appreciate all my accomplishments~ you truly are stunning! For Jenny, Haley, Linda, and Molly: Thanks for your support, friendship, and memories. You have made these past years unforgettable! To Lillian: I will always value our memories. You will not be forgotten. And to my sister: Hang in there, only three years left. Good luck! I love you all. ~Sue DePassio

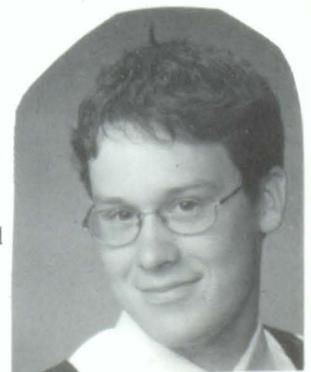

Thanks to all the friends I've made over the last four years: Those who I could be crazy with, talk to, cry and laugh with, and those who knew me better than I sometimes knew myself. You have taught me more than any textbook ever could. You have been the world to me and so much more. I love all of you and will never forget the incredible memories we have shared.

Congratulations Lancer staff,
The yearbook is finally done
And the best yet! Lancer Leaders~even though we've Had our differences, the turn Out is fabulous! To my best Friends, I absolutely love all Of you and each of you has Made the best impact I could've Hoped for and always will.
<3, Megan

It has been great working with all of you these past two years. A huge thank you to Mrs. Wine, who was a big help in this years yearbook. Good luck to everyone in the future, and good luck to the class of 2002!
