The Kimball Varsity Dance Team performs at the All School Picnic.

Beyond Imagination

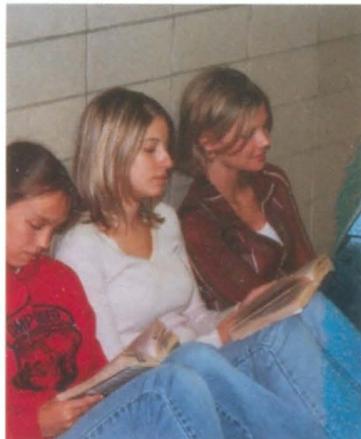

Life can only be understood backwards, and as a year full of late nights and early mornings finally comes to a close, a look back on August '02 to June '03 brings about a new understanding of the events that took place over those seemingly endless 10 months. Boyfriends and girlfriends, friendships formed and friendships ended, worksheets, tests and essays--all of these made up the memories that were created through each and every day spent in our familiar halls and classrooms. We will look back at these memories with laughter and tears as we remember our time spent at Kimball High School.

Now, we must look forward to a future... whether it is another year spent in or outside of Kimball, all of us must strive to reach goals and dreams that are beyond our imaginations.

All-School Picnic A Success... As Usual

There are sports, clubs, stage acts, dancers, a disk jockey and red t-shirts. This may sound like a great night on the town, but it was actually Kimball's 15th Annual All-School Picnic. This special event comes but once a year to the courtyard surrounded by the glass halls. The freshmen start off in the cafeteria for the Ice-Cream Social, then the main activities start shortly afterwards. Along each wall of the courtyard are tables set up to tell everyone, parents and students alike, about what takes place during the extra-curricular activities. There are places to order Xenolith, Lancer or a subscription to the Herald, there is information about groups ranging from Roundtable or Drama Club to newer clubs like the League of Equality or the Kickboxing Club. It is a good time for all who attend!

Mrs. Eischeid points out an especially creative contribution to Megan '03 and Lindsay '04 Runyan.

Mr. Neville addresses the freshmen at the Ice-Cream Social.

Activities, Events and Enthusiasms

LEFT: The Dance Team shows off its moves for everyone in the crowd. They are excited about the first performance for the school.

RIGHT: David Brown '03 and Noor Allos '03 act out a scene for Drama Club.

Dance the Night Away

Charlie Banyai and Nichole Villerot look onto the crowd as they are crowned King and Queen.

The first place Senior float had the "Big City" look of Hollywood.

Julia Greenway '03 is escorted by her dad onto the football field at half time.

Carrie Fritsch '04, Shauna Schumaker '05 and Mila Neverovich '06 congratulate Nichole Villerot after she is crowned queen.

A Knight on the Town

This year's Homecoming showed the world that Royal Oak is one of the great "Cities of Entertainment." Although the Friday evening parade was cancelled because of the rain, the floats all looked great. The Seniors' "Hollywood" won the annual float competition. Then, at the football game, the Knights crushed Southfield Lathrup 36-6. By Saturday night, after the Senior Reception, everyone was ready to dance the night away. The decorations this year were outstanding and creative. "Although they took a while to put together, it was worth it," stated Liz Antonopoulos'03 who was on the Decorations committee, along with Nichole Villerot and Chelsea Briggs. This year, Charlie Banyai and Nichole Villerot were crowned King and Queen. It was a memorable night, especially, for the seniors. "I had the best time this year at Homecoming. I really enjoyed having the chance to be on court; it is something I will never forget," stated Chelsea Briggs'03.

Alex Dimitrov'03 and Roxanne Kozma'03 get their groove on.

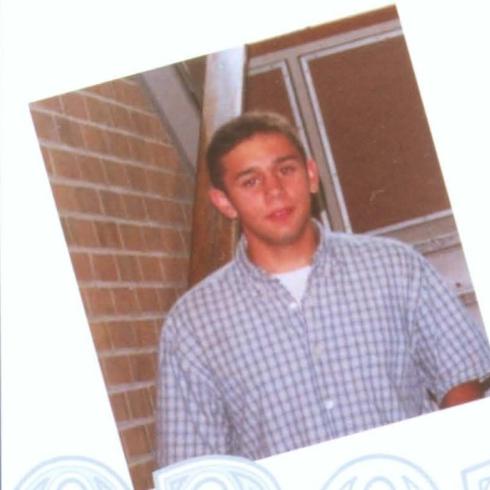

Charlie Banyai'03 and Dan Hahn'03 celebrate after they score.

Megan Gleason'03, Aimee Maurice'03, and Jamie Jones'03 take a break from dancing.

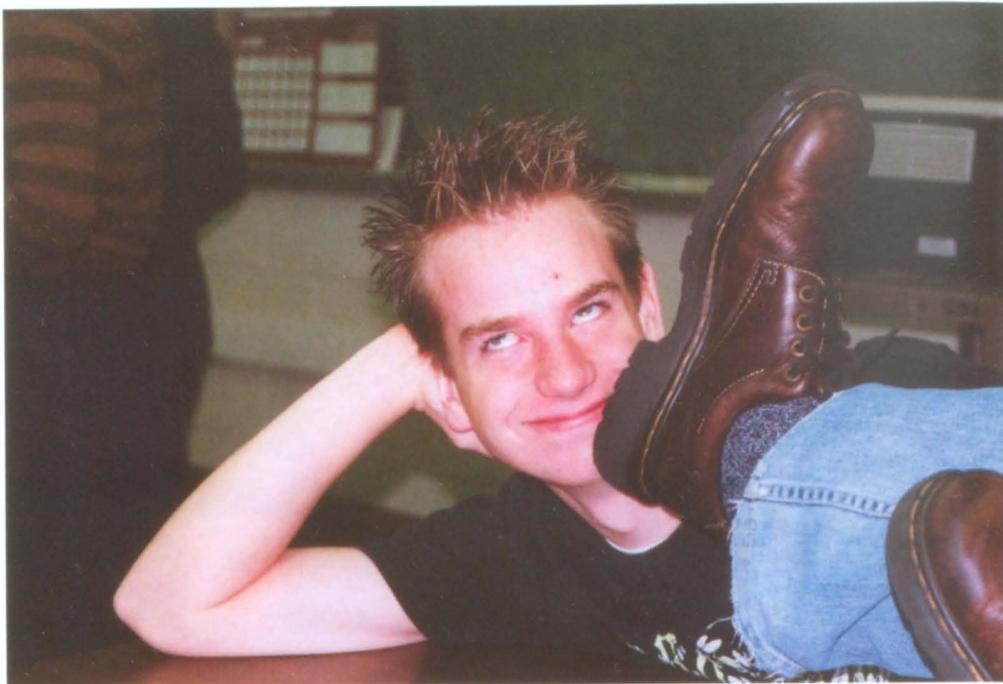

Class of 2003

Erin Clouthier '03 celebrates her 17th birthday.

Jenny Weeks '03 enjoys her history class in the computer lab.

Marcus Steib '03 strolls down the stairs on his way to his next class.

Life Goes On Future Plans

There comes a point in life when major decisions have to be made. Being a senior in high school and planning for the future can even be more stressful than the year itself. "It's such a big decision. I would like to study to become an Electrical Engineer at Wheaton College in Chicago, Michigan State or maybe even Hope College," stated Dan Hahn.

Emily Renkert chills out in Ms. Warren's class.

Drew Krall flashes his pearly whites while he works on his history assignment.

Angela Edwards '03 helps deliver passes for the Student Service Center.

Mock Elections '03

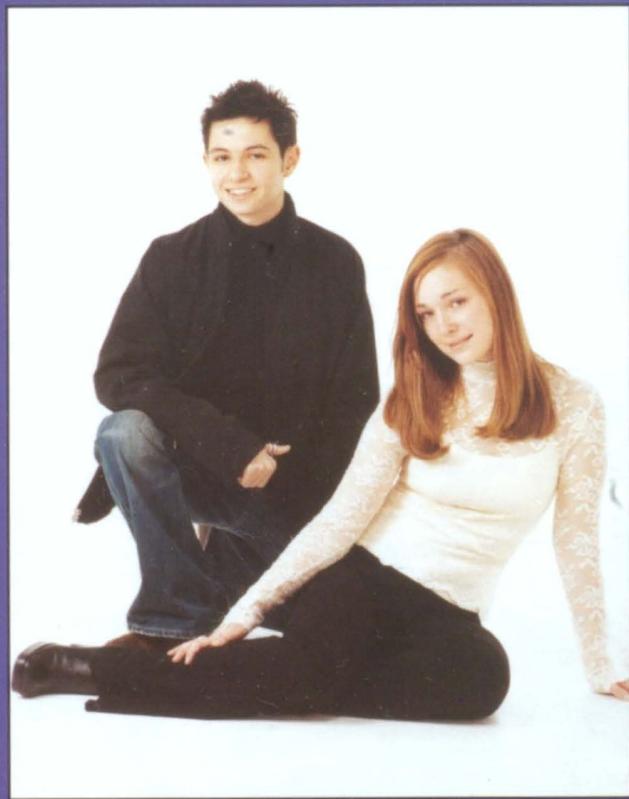

Soon to grace the television and the cover of every magazine are Noor Allos and Kedwin Grady. They are Kimball's Most Likely to be Famous.

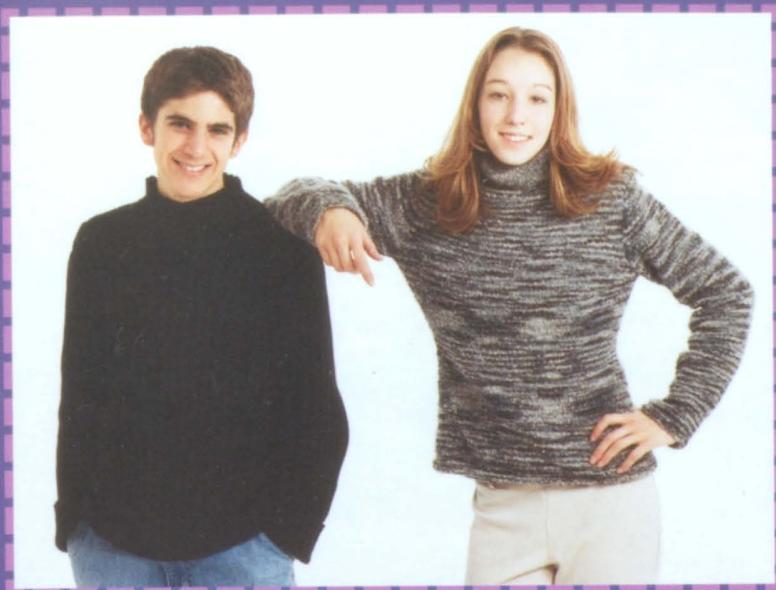

Their smarts will take them far in life. That's why Oksana Mirzoyan and Justin Skrynski are Most Likely to Succeed.

It's never a boring day in class with Katie Kabaciński and Brandon Davis, winners of Class Clown.

Need some fashion advice? Just talk to Kari Acton and Alex Dimitrov. They are Kimball's Best Dressed.

It doesn't get much better than that! Nichole Villerot and Nick George were rewarded for having Kimball's Best Personality.

There is no stopping these two when they step out onto the field. They excel at all the sports they play, that is why Amy Letzgus and Bret Burton are Kimball's Most Athletic.

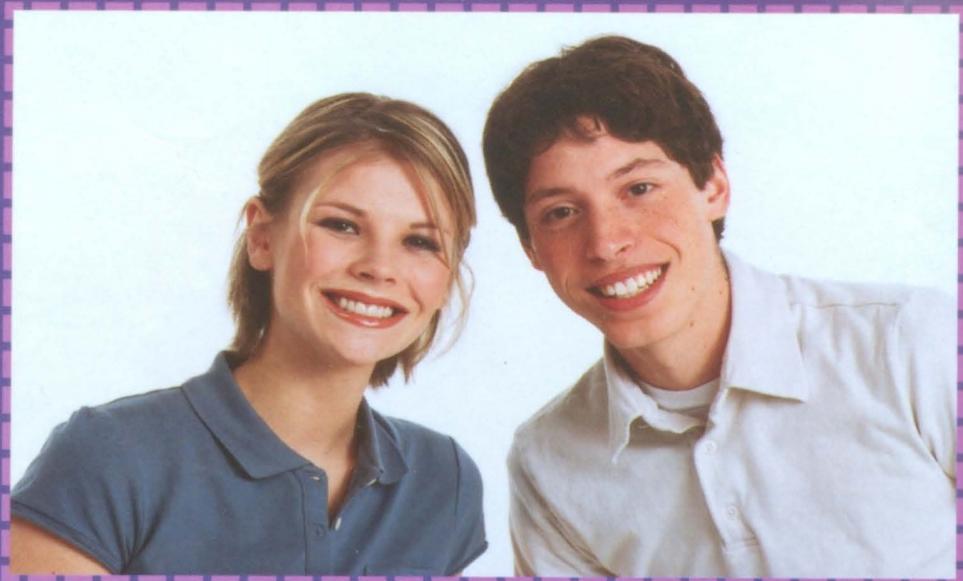

Mirror Mirror on the Wall who has the Best Eyes of all? Why that would be Shannon Minando and Charlie Banyai.

When hearing Jackie Smith's and Russell Aiuto's cheerful chuckle it brightens anybody's mood. That is why they earned Best Laugh.

Get out of their way! Shannon Raab and Logan Golin are Kimball's Most Rowdy.

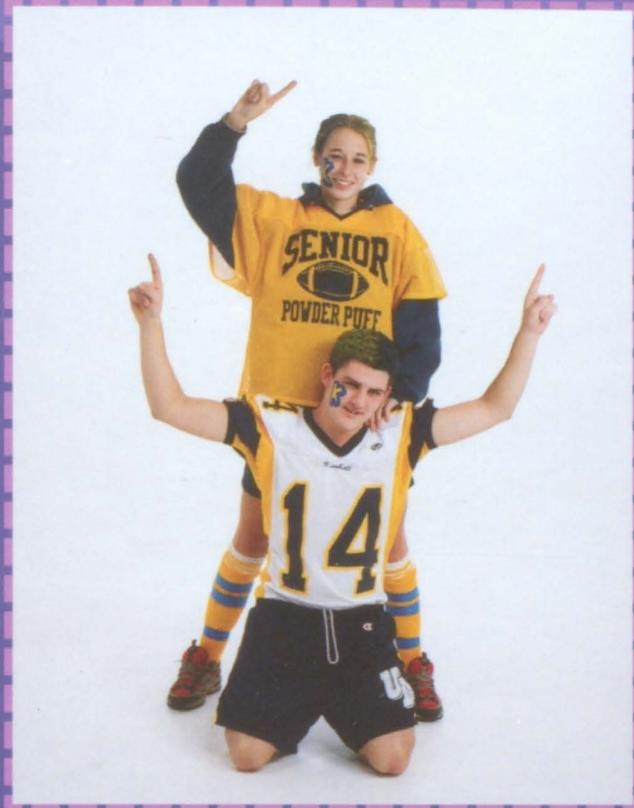

Their pearly whites have earned Amy Flory and Andrew Steinman Kimball's Best Smile.

Jamie Segel and Ian Emerson have picture perfect hair! There's never a strand out of place. That's why they were voted Best Hair.

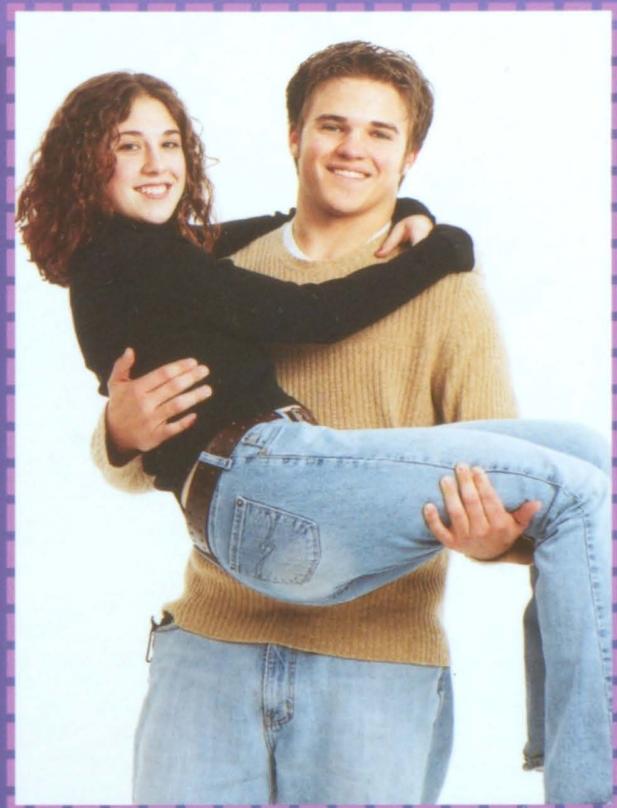

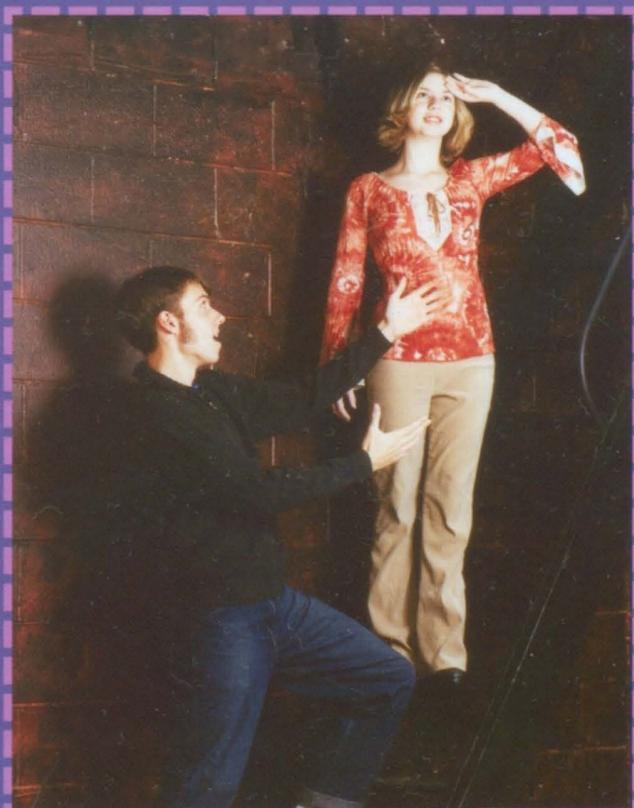

Wedding bells are ringing for Jeanette Porter and Paul McLeod. Kimball's Most Likely to Get Married.

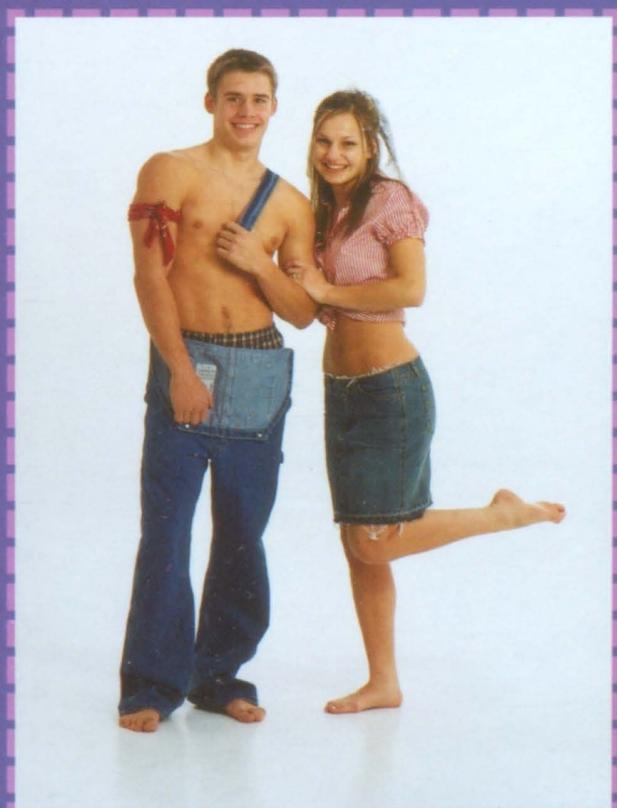

Lindsey Sleek and Jack Brennan are always the ones to spice up any school event. They have the most School Spirit.

Cut! That's a wrap! Katie Pierce and David Brown are Kimball's Best Performers.

A night out on the town is never dull when Jessica Kalmeta and Ryan Bussa are around. That is why they were voted Biggest Flirt.

Oooh la la Chelsea Briggs and Robbie Gibson stand admired as winners of Best Body.

Underclassmen Not Just Waiting To Be Seniors

The underclassmen are the students who have yet to go through their senior year. The freshmen walk into school with wide eyes and heavy backpacks, some with a brother or sister who has already gained some experience. "It's kind of better coming to school with him. We get along better... it's hard to explain, but we do," said Courtney Doman '06 when speaking of her brother George Doman '03. The sophomores have a separate outlook on Kimball life. "It's different and fun and it's better than being a freshman," mused Lashay Beavers '05. Some juniors have advice for the younger classes. "High School is supposed to be the best years of your life, so let's make it that way!" said Jerek Lampinen '04. So whether it's adjusting to new surroundings, finding their bearings all over again or stepping through the third quarter of their high school journey, the younger patrons of Kimball are headed in the right direction.

Leigh Richards '06 takes a break in the glass hall to talk with a friend.

Brandon Miller '05 and Scott Dunkerley '04 head to school on a foggy September morning.

A group of underclassmen navigate the halls to find their friends and their lockers.

First Time Out

"I like going out to lunch because it gives me time to be away from school and with my friends. Sarah Biskup said."

Once upon a time, we all dreamt of escaping the dreaded Kimball High School cafeteria. This year, the dream came true for Juniors. Staying in for lunch is quite passé for these upper-classmen. Erin Brasseur exclaimed, "No more bosco sticks! If I were to even see them again I might get sick at the sight." But it's not just Erin who shared in the excitement of this new-found freedom, "I do not have to worry about getting yelled at by the hall guards for going off campus anymore," Dominick Catanese admitted. Being able to leave school for lunch gave Juniors quite the opportunity to indulge in the smaller pleasures in life.

Time To Wake Up!

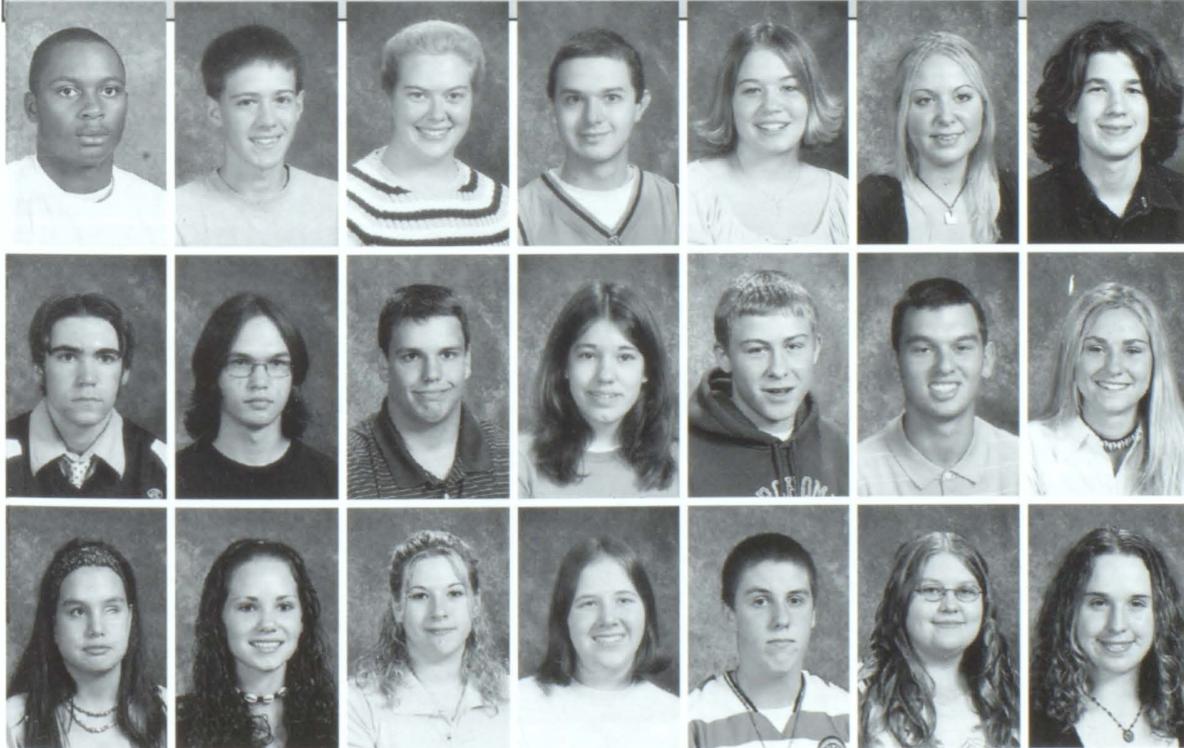

"I wouldn't get out of bed in the morning if it weren't for my friends," Neil Hagen commented.

Hearing that alarm clock means only one thing... time for school. Even though we would all love to sleep in, some people make the most of the situation and find a reason to get out of bed. When Sean Grier was asked why he gets out of bed in the morning, he simply replied, "Breakfast." For others, the reasons to wake up weren't as optimistic. Jessica Farber saw it this way, "I know I have to go to school to get into a good college, so that's basically why I wake up." And then there are the students who like the social aspect of school. "To see all my friends," Elizabeth Fielder replied when asked what motivated her to get out of bed.

Whether it was to see our friends, to eat breakfast, or to get good grades for college, we all had our own reasons that motivated us to get out of bed each morning.

Megan Hurcomb and Hannah Carter-Penney agree that seeing their friends is motivation to get out of bed in the morning.

When asked about how they've changed since freshman year, some juniors told of their maturity. "I've learned to not care what people think about me anymore," stated Michelle Jenkins.

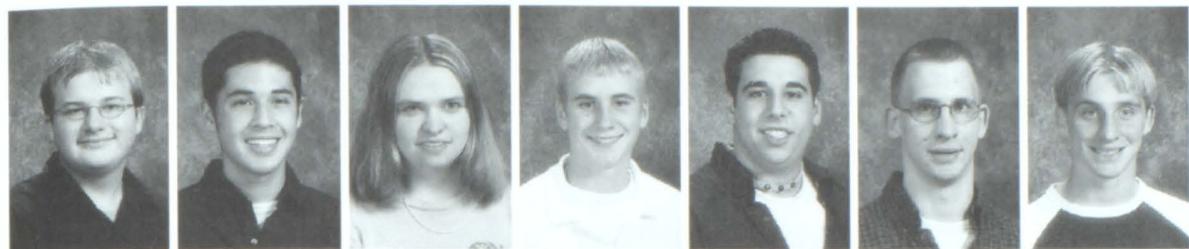

For others, however, the opposite was true. "I can act goofy and it's suddenly cool!" exclaimed Leslie Kehoe.

Still other juniors were more enamored with their new-found freedom. "There's so much more to do, and driving in my bright yellow car's a plus," added Kirsten Leestma.

Junior Jobs

"I go home smelling like pizza! It's not good!" explained Magda Jablecki of her job at Julian Brothers Bakery.

Junior year is a time for change. Students are now ready to step into the real world and there is no better way to do that than to get a job. "It is a lot of added responsibility," admitted Lauren Block, who is employed by Target. Joe Millard has a positive attitude toward his new job at Pacific Sunwear. "It's really fun!" he exclaimed. But students aren't getting jobs just to have some good times. "I have awesome benefits. I get to hit tons of golf balls for free," said Justin Hull of his job at the Royal Oak Golf Center. Work isn't necessarily a four letter word for students who know how to succeed.

Free At Last

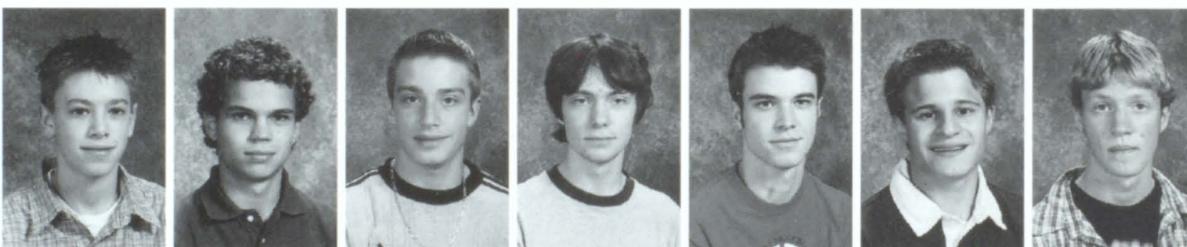

"You can go places without being embarrassed by your parents, and you get to go to lunch instead of eating in the cafeteria," said Katie Lewis

Many juniors this year have experienced one of the big events of life, getting their first car. This gives a teenager a whole new level of freedom. "You have more freedom to do what you want whenever you want," commented Ryan Belanger. Some aren't as lucky to have their very own cars. Natalie Duchene explained, "Well, I have to share the car with my sister, but it's nice to be able to go places without having to ask your parents." As you can see, the juniors aren't complaining. A car is a car, and they are happy with whatever they get.

We Just Wanna Have Fun!

*My junior year has been ten times better than the prior two years here at Kimball.-
Neil Haegn*

These Juniors were not messing around, they were just looking for a good time. With this year came the new thrills of a notably more united and relaxed Junior class atmosphere for these already eager to graduate students, and it seemed as if they were successful at fulfilling their quest for a fun and exciting year. Classes seemed a bit looser, teachers a bit more lenient, students less nervous, and with that, a few more missing homework assignments. Anna McDonald could vouch for the fun atmosphere saying, "I am a lot goofier in class and in the halls. It's easier for me to get distracted this year."

Jessica Farber always makes time in class to be not so serious.

Megan Hurcomb and Carvel Wilkins playful wrestle between classes.

Shameless Acts

"I skipped math class and went out to lunch with my sister," laughed Julie Cannon.

"We would leave Mr. Pfeifle's class and visit the other lunch. We pretended that someone fainted and she needed help," giggled Jillian Cordell, when speaking of an innocent trick she pulled on her teacher. Classroom pranks and class jokes always lighten the mood of the routine school day. "In math we always took this kid's shoes and put it by Ms. Scheckles' desk, and he would be too embarrassed to go get it because he didn't want to get yelled at," chuckled John Braue. Without these memorable moments, high school could not be noted as the best times of our lives.

Lucky Charms

Jack Luther sheepishly stated, "I keep a pair of old smelly gym socks - they're from freshman year!"

The sophomores have roamed the halls at Kimball for over a year now, however, perils can still be found around every corner. To combat the hazards of everyday high school life, some intrepid young students have enlisted the aid of certain devices aimed at warding away bad luck. "I carry the standard four leaf clover inside a pin," commented James McGinnity. Kelly Maricle added, "I always put my right shoe on before my left!"

"Getting my homework done is quite a task, especially in Government," exclaimed Trina Kochanski

Sophomore year is a developing time in high school; it's when we are figuring out our own identities. No longer freshmen, and not yet upperclassmen, sophomores got involved in many classes and activities to discover where their real interests were.

Ashley Kemp stated, "Cheerleading demanded a lot out of my schedule and really tied up my week, but it was worth it on game day." Classes were also demanding. Kristen Evey added, "German class is for sure not a walk in the park."

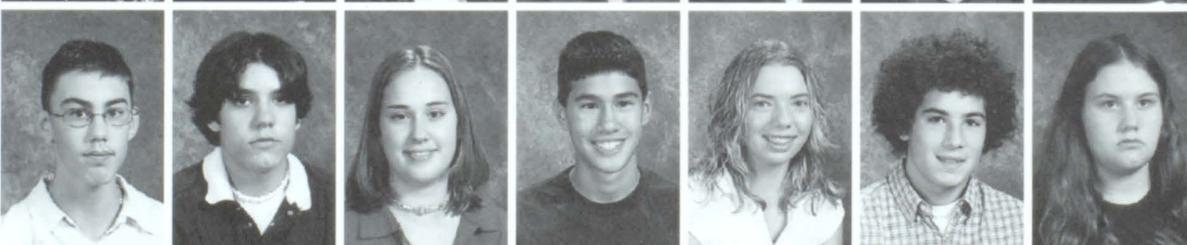

Sophomores were hard at work, with school and sports. Even with all the drama, they managed to make it through the year.

Pet Peeves

"People

- Sean
Sutherland

Most people have annoyances that irritate them more than anything else. This is just as true with the sophomore class. "When people stare! That is SO my pet peeve!" confessed Jennifer Spenceley. Matthew Turner added "It also annoys me when people chew with their mouths open," Anne Villerot's stated, "It makes me so mad when people judge each other by their looks. Good or bad, it annoys me either way." Emma Stewart admitted after agreeing with her classmate that her irk was "when people get mad at me for stupid reasons... petty reasons."

"I play bass in my band called No Excuse. We play the game Zoomball. It is the greatest game in the world!" remarked Alex Yost.

"Sometimes I go rock climbing and Scott comes over and we do Legos. I like to play with my dog, Mario and I play sports, too," remarked Joe Zanni. The Sophomore class was full of a diverse group of students who spent their time out of school in a variety of ways. "I like to paint with my friends. We drive around and I play softball in the spring," stated Veronica Ward. Other sophomores enjoyed spending time at home with their families and pets. "I like to play pick up sticks with my cat Remus," chuckled Colin Shea. Sophomores always seemed to fill their free time with fun activites.

"Dances and the people are my favorite part about high school," remarked Jim Rose.

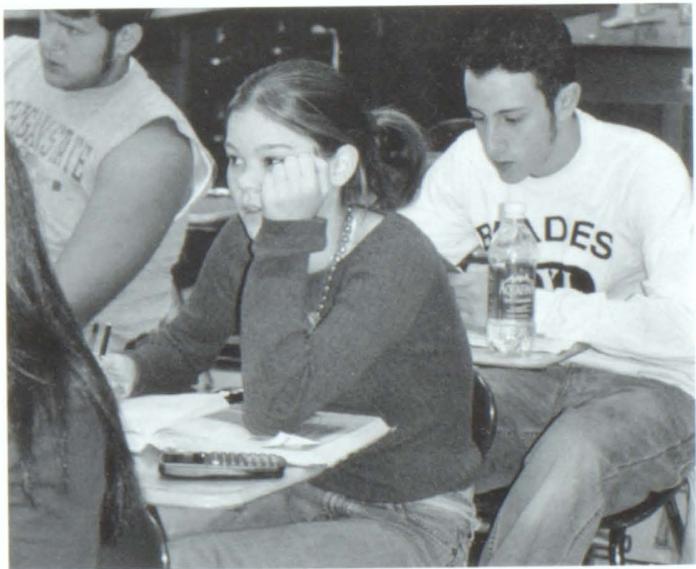

High school is not all about the academics. Most of our favorite memories came from outside of our classroom experiences. "I liked the football games when Jack Brennan got everyone to cheer," stated Kristen Evey. With all of the athletics and activities around the school, who could miss out on such a great time? "Spirit Week was so fun because my friends and I dressed up really crazy," remembered Lydia Marsh.

Freshmen this year are none too fond of being trapped on campus for lunch. "There's, like, three people to a seat!" complained Alyssa Iannello.

Another reason behind these freshmen's dislike of our cafeteria could be the smell. "The cafeteria reeks of horrible fried stuff," stated Heather MacDonald.

Not that the class of '06 doesn't have aspirations though. "I'm going to Lucky's Express everyday once I'm a junior!" exclaimed Destiny Edwards-Anderson.

Don't worry guys, lunchtime freedom's only two years away!

First Day Jitters

"The best thing about the first day of school for me was the pasta salad at lunch. I've had it everyday since the first day." - Laura Hartwick

We've all been there. The first day of High School for freshmen can be, at the very least, frightening and nerve-wracking.

"I was afraid of getting lost and not being able to make new friends," mentioned Bethany Evans. "I thought I'd either love it or hate it but I was wrong. It's cool."

Joe Gibson, another freshman, commented, "I was also afraid of getting lost and not knowing where to go from class to class. Some of the older kids scared me, too."

Most freshmen had the same jitters walking into school their first day. A big new place with a lot of new faces can be intimidating to anyone. But ask any freshman, things only got better.

Freshman Phobias

"I don't like to be high, high up in the sky" - Chadd Measel

Freshmen today have much more than classes and upperclassmen to worry about. Their phobias range from the diagnosed Arachibutyrophobia, fear of peanut butter, to the Didaskaleinophobia- fear of going to school. When freshman Kevin McFall was asked what he was most afraid of, he replied "All of the centipedes crawling around in my basement." James Mansfield, on the other hand, answered by saying, "Clowns freak me out." Overall, our freshman class has an interesting range of fears that most would simply call "normal."

Everyday Occurrences

"I wake up at 7:02 A.M.!" exclaimed Whitney Schwartz

We all have our own daily routines and most of them go unnoticed until questioned. Wes Pomroy is no different. "I get up about 6:45 A.M., walk to school, and go to bed about 11P.M." Eating breakfast, going to school, and enjoying after-school activities are just some of the everyday occurrences for many freshmen. "After school, I go to football practice until 5:30, do my homework, and go to bed," stated Josh Nims. Our schedules are shaped by school, but creative freshmen find a way to make the most out of their days.

Future Plans

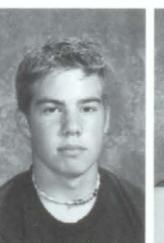

"I plan on trying out for the U of M Varsity Choir, and being in one of the school plays here at Kimball," announced Whitney Schwartz

Within the next four years, freshmen are going to partake in a lot of activities. Many will join clubs, and play sports. "I would really like to progress in Choir. I would also like to make the Softball and Vollyball teams. I hope to become a captain!" exclaimed Robyn Vojinov. Some of the freshmen just enjoyed hanging out with their friends. "I want to join more clubs, get good grades and make the best of the time I have here," responded Claire Trzasko. These freshmen have high hopes and exciting plans for their next four years.

Freshman Faces

"I like going to school with Laura, even though she threatens to leave without me almost every morning," commented Dan Farhat about his older sister.

Being a freshman means being exposed to a whole new atmosphere... an atmosphere filled with people and a wide variety of choices. A few lucky freshmen have older siblings to show them the ropes. "I help my younger brother, Kevin, with his homework," said Bryan Lowery '03. But others have depended on their friends and teachers to help them get by. Many things differ from middle school to high school and this year's freshman have adapted very well.

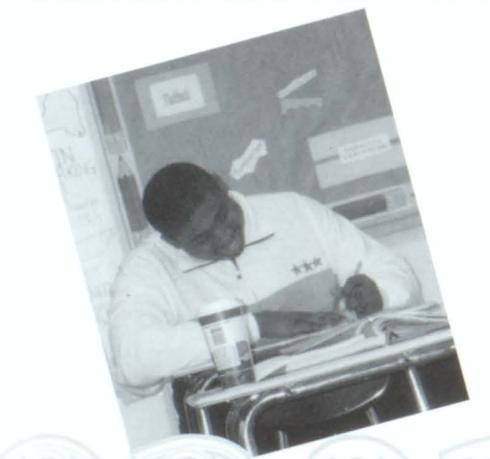

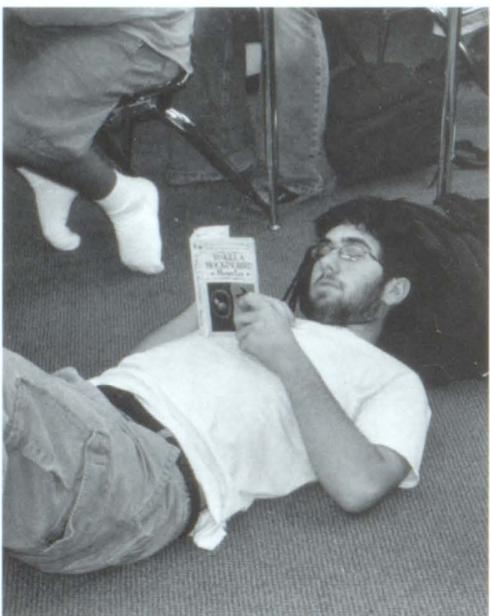

Courtney Doman and Nate Sleek have the luxury of having older siblings George Doman '03 and Lyndsey Sleek '03 in school with them.

Building the Future

Academics Build Goals and Dreams

The classes we take give us the skills we need to succeed in the real world. The class variety ranges from many required classes to the special interest classes. Ryan Hubbard '03 stated, "I'm not sure what career I want yet, but Kimball has given me the knowledge to be successful." Aimee Belanger '06 wanted to be a hair dresser. "I think Kimball can give me the skills I need," said Belanger, "Plus it has other opportunities, like O-tech." Academics play a huge role in any high school and it's nice to know Kimball's academics allows students to dream big and aim high.

The Good Ole' Days

*"The school building hasn't changed much, but the diverse population shift is definitely a plus!"
Kariann Weiss observed.*

Before beginning their illustrious careers here at Kimball High, the staff had to begin somewhere. While some attended schools in other states, a few teachers got their high school education right here at Kimball High. Michael Greening stated "I really don't remember what high school was like; I wasn't paying attention." Greg Castle commented that "Though the building hasn't changed very much, the student body has been cut in half. Kimball has always been an awesome place to be, that's why I'm back!" The students of the past who have returned as teachers are a testament to the bright future of our student body.

Face in the Crowd

A new, temporary addition to Kimball High School, is vice-principal Joe Scheer. Scheer was here to help out this school year, and had a very good time doing so. "It's been a wonderful experience. I enjoyed being surrounded by such a great group of kids," Scheer stated.

However, Mr. Scheer only planned on being at Kimball for just this one school year. His presence in the school was greatly appreciated and we wish him the best in his future endeavors.

Mrs. O'Rourke, Mr. Neville's secretary, is a vital member of the Kimball community.

Front Office Fun!

Getting the Job Done

The front office has a new face this year with the addition of vice-principal Joe Scheer. Scheer, along with Eric Sturm and Bridget Schipper are assistant principals to head principal Tom Neville. Neville has been the principal here at Kimball for the past 16 years.

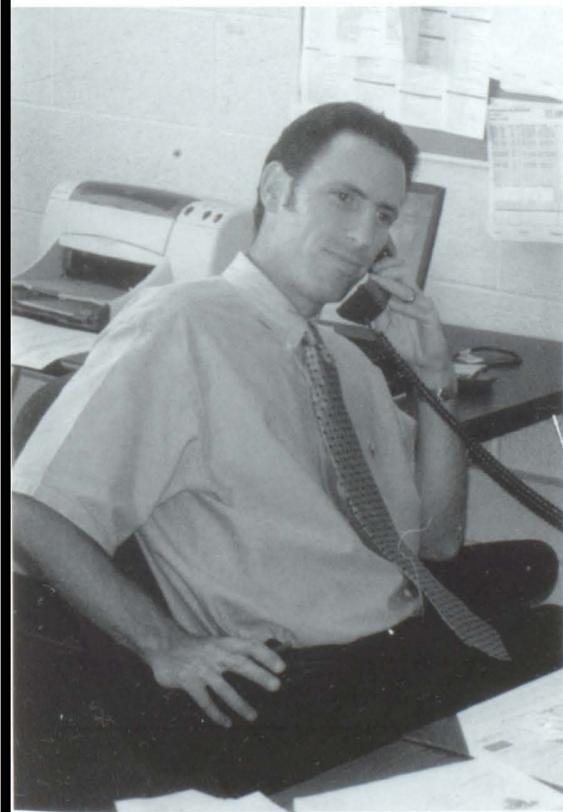

Many others are also hard at work in the front office. Lindsey Mitchell '03 is involved in the co-op program, and she has her share of challenges. "I enjoy working in the office, but it can be a lot of hard work," commented Lindsey.

The secretaries at Kimball, including Ms. Pat Schand, Mrs. Mary O'Rourke, Ms. Pat Hayes and Ms. Eydie Brown, work very hard for our principals, to make sure that Kimball always runs at its very best. "The secretaries are super nice in the office. Everytime I go in there, they seem to have smiles on their faces," exclaimed Brandon Wilson '03

"I think that we are very lucky to have such a great administration. Whenever I have any questions, I know I can go to the office to get my answer," said Cameron Webster '03.

Chris Moultrup '03 works hard on the computer as a participant in the co-op program.

Mr. Sturm is always willing to help a concerned parent.

SSC Ready to Lend A Helping Hand

We have all been there before, whether it was to get a permit to enter, or to seek the advice of a counselor. The Student Service Center is a place where all problems can be solved.

Returning again to their secretary chairs are none other than our own Mrs. Leisa Jones, for attendance, and Mrs. Karen Murphy for counseling. Although this year Mrs. Jones had some help from across town. Mrs. Cathie Joyce just transferred here from Dondero over the summer. All these ladies help out our Attendance Officer, Mr. Anderson. Also in the SSC is Ms. Deborah Meyerand. She is the Technical Support person who is responsible for keeping track of student records on the computer.

We have some of the finest counselors at Kimball. They are always there to listen, give advice, or fix a messed-up schedule. Down the hall are: Mrs. Kathleen Knapp, Mr. Bill Spurgeon, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mr. Jim Bowker, Mrs. Anne Davies, and Mrs. Mindy Berlin-Herman. Many student assistants also work in the SSC and help deliver the passes. When Michael Hakala '03 was asked what he loved best about his job, he stated, "I love seeing all the beautiful faces that come through here each day!"

So whether you need to make a call home, or need someone to talk to, always remember you can "lean on me" in the SSC.

Face in the Crowd

There's a new man in the Student Service Center this year, and it's none other than our own Mr. Bowker.

Although he has been teaching at Kimball since 1992, he just finished his Masters Degree in Counseling over the summer. About four years ago, Mr. Bowker realized his desire to be a counselor and started up a four year degree at the University of Detroit Mercy. "I loved Social Studies but I wanted to work more one on one with my students," confessed Mr. Bowker.

Whether he is teaching history, or listening to it being made, Mr. Bowker is a real asset in the building!

Face in the Crowd

Don Brownie, a Kimball graduate, has been a hall monitor here at Kimball for quite some time now. He has been very helpful in keeping our hallways safe for the students. "Brownie keeps me on the straight and narrow," commented Cam Tanner '04, who sometimes needs to be put back in line.

Brownie, along with all of the other hall monitors, work hard to maintain the peaceful environment that we have always had. The entire student body greatly appreciates all of the time and effort that our staff members put in to make our school the best it can be.

Two lunch ladies stop for a moment during their busy lunch hours of monitoring the cafeteria.

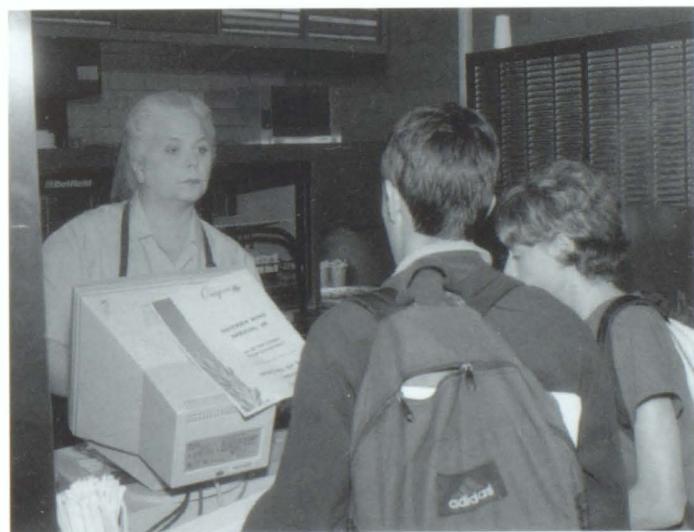

Our Main Support

They're Everywhere!

Whether it's the helpful custodians, the strict hall monitors, or the cheerful lunch ladies, they are all apart of the support staff here at Kimball. They help us get through our daily life at school. The custodians help to keep the school clean while the hall monitors keep us in line. Then there are the lunch ladies, who sell us food and keep an eye on us in the cafeteria to make sure we don't break out and have a food fight. The lunch staff can sure handle a lot of responsibility. From making sub sandwiches and bosco sticks, to keeping the cafeteria under control, they have their work cut out for them. Most people don't even realize how important having custodians are to a school. They keep the school looking clean and new, so that we can comfortably be here every day. Finally, there are the wonderful hall monitors. This year, we said goodbye to one of our favorites, John G, who left early this year to pursue another career. He will be greatly missed by all the mischief-makers in the school. The support staff is very helpful to us, and although the rules and regulations may seem like too much at times, it's for the better.

Leading the Way

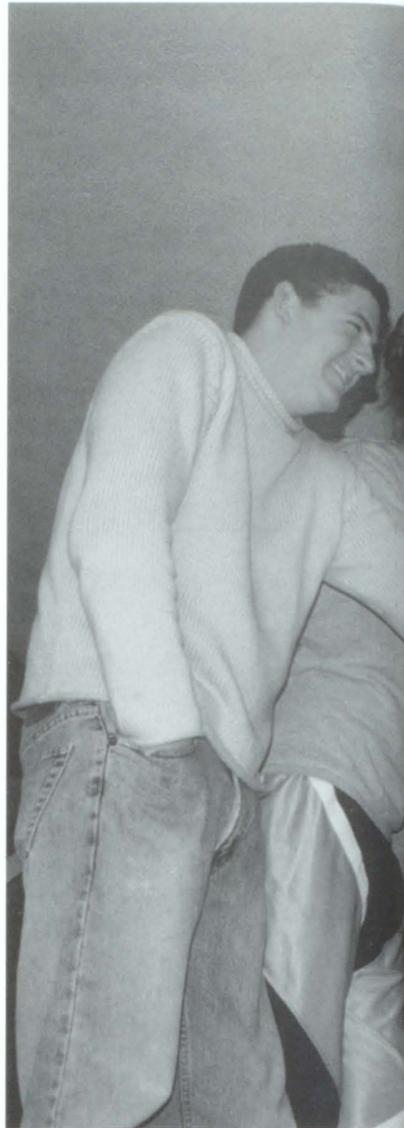

Roundtable Sets the Standard

Roundtable started the 2002-2003 school year with a bang. Constantly busy, the Roundtable reps were always working on an upcoming event. "As soon as we're done with one event, we start right away on another one. It seems like we've always got more to do," Nichole Villerot '03 commented.

Roundtable Officers, Jack Brennan '03, George Doman '03, Megan Ferber '03, Charlie Banyai '03, and Jenny Weeks '03, planned a very exciting year for the student body. George Doman stated, "We planned a lot more events this year, and tried to get more kids involved in the activities we do." With events such as the All School Picnic, Hall-O-Ways, Homecoming, Spirit Week, and Field Day, to name a few, Kimball students had many opportunities to get involved.

"We were chosen by our peers and therefore had to obtain our responsibilities as leaders and set a good example," Jack Brennan explained. "There was a lot of work involved, but it was worth the time and energy when we saw our ideas being put into action."

Sophomore Reps: Joe Falcon, Colin Shea, Jimmy Banyai, Kristen Evey, Anne Villerot, Jessica LoDuca, Mallory Shell

What would Roundtable do without Mr. Decker?! As Roundtable's advisor for the past 8 years, Mr. Decker knew a good group of kids when he saw one. "These kids were so enthusiastic about this year," he said about his second hour Roundtable students, "I haven't seen a group like this come through the school in a long time."

While Mr Decker spoke highly of his students, his students spoke just as highly about him. Neil Hagen '04, described Decker as "The backbone of Roundtable!" Roundtable would definitely not be the same without him.

Ms. Haziri is one of the ESL class advisors. She helps students with their assignments and tests. This program is very important because "ESL is the bridge that every foreign student has to go through to reach the new world," she stated.

Lelaj '06 explained that, "Ms. Haziri is important to ESL because she can translate our English homework and help make it easier for us to understand our lessons."

Fatmir Pepa '05 reads about United States History.

Multi-Cultural Education

Learning Through Diversity

The English As a Second Language program is an intricate part of the Kimball community. The ESL program provides a class where students from various cultures learn English grammar and receive assistance on assignments and tests. The students use activities such as journals to learn the skills they will need in the United States. Not only are students taught reading and writing skills, but they become accustomed to American culture, as well. The students have the opportunity to interact with others from different countries as well as establish personal friendships. Students in the class currently represent eight different cultures including: Albanian, Nigerian, Chaldian, Bengali, Indian, Romanian, Phillipino, Russian and Chinese. The class is instructed by Mrs. Giacoma and Ms. Haziri and they are very dedicated to the students. Mrs. Giacoma stated that, "My favorite thing about ESL is that students are more important than the subject." The majority of the students agree with Gerti Nasto '06 when he explained that, "communicating with people" is the hardest thing about moving to the United States. Israth Hoque '05 concluded that the best part of ESL is, "that we get help with our education."

Notes from Mrs. Buffa

“Every year my advanced ensembles get better and better. I’m always amazed by the level of talent the kids in these groups have,” commented Mrs. Buffa. “I really look forward to the time I spend with my advanced ensembles. They are very serious students but they still know how to have fun. That’s a very important mixture because if you don’t have the right balance, the kids don’t enjoy it as much and that’s a shame. This year’s groups are definitely the best yet!”

Right On Key

Elite Ensembles are the Best Around

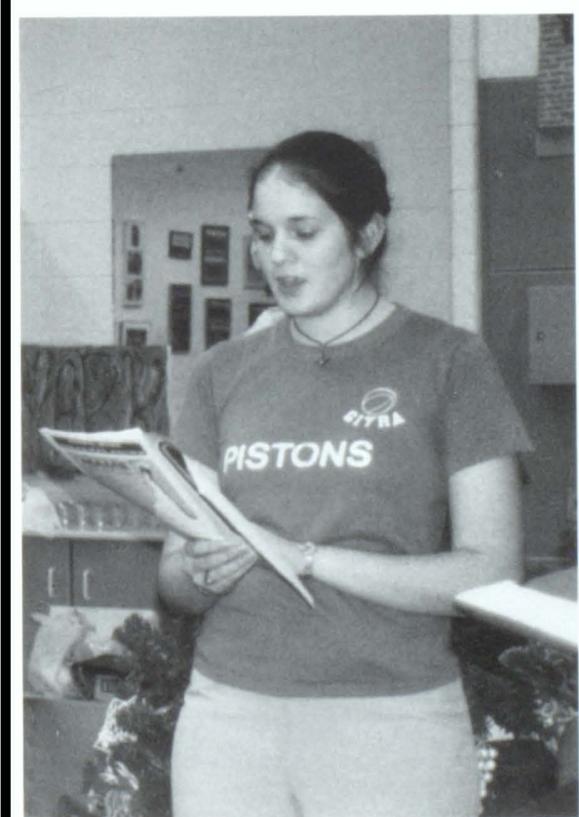

It's easy to agree that the 2002-2003 Madrigals, Bel Cantos, and Men of Note are some of the best elite groups that Kimball has had to offer in a long time. This year has been a successful one for all three groups performing all over the county. Ask anyone from the area and they will tell you that Kimball is the best around.

"Being in an elite group takes a lot of time and effort but it's all worth it to know that you are among the best singers in the area," explained Bel Canto Chelsea Briggs '03.

Madrigals are made up of the best junior and senior male and female voices. Bel Cantos consist of junior and senior girls, and Men of Note include 10th, 11th, and 12th grade boys. Although they are relatively new groups, Bel Cantos and Men of Note are quickly gaining recognition throughout the school and the community. It's pretty safe to assume that these kids are in perfect harmony and these are the most talented singers in the school.

Sing, Sing Sing, Sing Everybody Wants to Sing!

Kimball is home to many wonderful performing arts programs, not the least of which are the Kimball Choirs.

There are three choirs beginning with Varsity Choir which is mainly made up of freshmen, but is open to anyone interested in singing. Concert Choir is an intermediate ensemble where students start to learn harder music and begin participating in more activities. At the top of the list is A Cappella Choir which consists of juniors and seniors who have proven to be very serious musical students and who demonstrate a knowledge of great music.

The Choirs put on three major concerts a year. The Winter Concert is an annual favorite of choir members, full of fun holiday music and even a visit from Santa. The Spring Concert is held at a Royal Oak church and focuses on more serious choral literature, and as Laura Evoie '03 exclaimed, "Pops Concert is the best!" The Pops Concert is the most recognized and most well attended concert all year. The Concert Choir and A Cappella Choir also put on an Autumn Concert and A Cappella puts on a Broadway Concert every year to raise scholarship funds for graduating seniors. Choir is also a great opportunity to meet new people. "I've met so many great people through Choir that I wouldn't have met elsewhere. All these people are so much fun to hang out with and I'm really glad I got involved in choir," commented junior Eily Clemens. It's obvious that these kids love to have fun and sing!

Playing in an orchestra is hard work, especially for a sophomore. Jessica Smith '05 is enjoying her first year of Symphony Orchestra after spending her freshman year on Kimball's Concert Orchestra. "It's an honor to be a part of the Symphony Orchestra. It's hard work, but it's worthwhile." Smith has enjoyed her career in orchestra so far, "I've really enjoyed the past two years of Orchestra," she exclaims, "I've learned a lot from Mr. Tolias and the other students. It really has been a beneficial experience that I hope will continue through to the next two years."

A Blend of Melodies

Orchestras Are In Harmony

The musical sounds of Kimball's Symphony and Concert Orchestras could be heard throughout the halls as they rehearsed for their numerous concerts.

The two orchestras, directed by Mr. Peter Tolias, consisted of students from grades 9 to 12.

"It was a great year; we took part in many interesting events," exclaimed Symphony Orchestra president Elizabeth Antonopoulos'03. It was a year of firsts as the Orchestra program debuted their first Jazz Orchestra concert and raised five thousand dollars from their First Annual Silent Auction in January.

This year's Symphony Orchestra was led by President Elizabeth Antonopoulos'03, Vice President Ian Emerson'03, and Secretary Kelly Connell'03.

"I'm not one to stick with my hobbies," admitted Rachel T. Smith'03, "The fact that I've stuck with the program for four years really says something special about the program."

Strike Up The Band

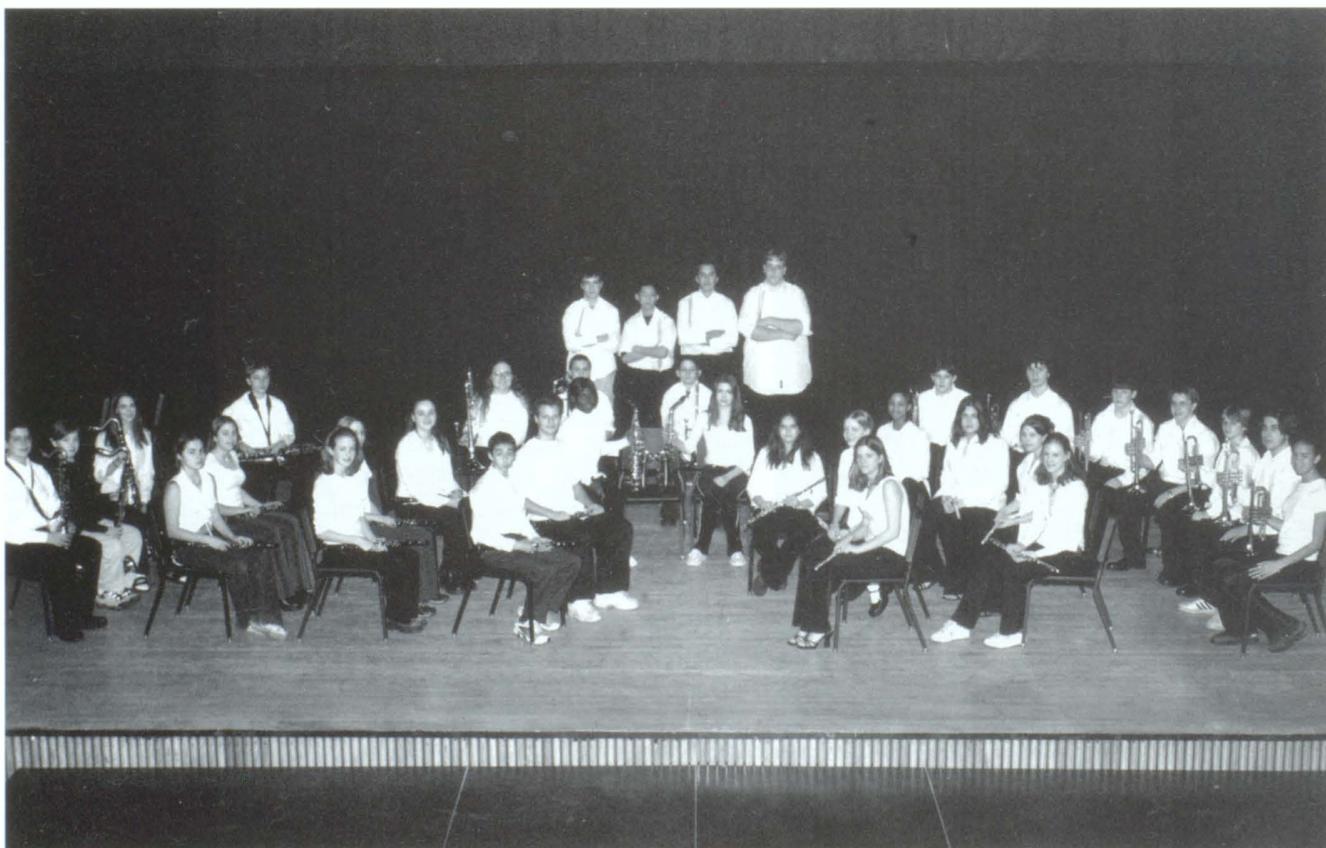

Playing, Performing, Pleasing

The Concert and Symphony Bands had a busy year of practicing and performing. Their schedule was full of concerts such as the Band-O-Rama, the MSBOA competition, as well as the annual All City concert. Many different types of music were performed including a variety of songs from the movie Harry Potter. It took a lot of preparation to master all of the music, so practice was required not only during class but before and after school. Many great memories were made off stage, too. One anonymous band student reflects on the fun he had this year, "I will always remember when a group of us drove out to Lake Orion and toilet papered Mr. Conaton's house." Hopefully, Mr. Conaton knew they were only showing their appreciation for all of his hard work and dedication.

Kris Pruner has been in the Symphony Band for three and a half years, been in the Marching Band for four years and has been a Drum Major for his junior and senior years. Kris used to play the trumpet, but switched to the tenor saxophone because of his braces. The switch was easy for him and he played his saxophone in the Pep Band, as well. He doesn't plan on playing his instrument after high school, but has made a lot of friends and memories during his years in the band.

Bands March To Their Own Beat!

The Kimball Marching Band and Pep Band spent another year entertaining the fans at our athletic events. Not only did they pump up the crowd at halftime of the football games, but they rocked the hallways on Friday mornings. They also marched through the streets of Downtown in the annual Royal Oak Holiday Parade. The main show of the year was the Band-O-Rama. The Marching Band played tremendously with music from all of the James Bond movies. To conclude the year, the Marching Band and Pep Band joined the Symphony and Concert Bands in a four day festival in New York City. "I loved all of the sights of New York and it was such a thrill to play in another state," commented Douglas Engle '04.

A Thousand Words

And Pictures, Too!

"I adore being on the Lancer staff because producing these memories is an important job and a contribution that I can make to our school," Rachel T. Smith '03 admitted. The Lancer, led by Mrs. Wine, keeps a tradition that everyone can admire. As students each year work efficiently to make the yearbook a treasure to take home, the Lancer staff was privileged to take home a personal memory of its production. Each year the staff is challanged with keeping up on deadlines, writing stories, and capturing dazzling moments on camera. "This book was a conquest, a mission for me to do a perfect job immortalizing the school the way we remember it," said Jack Brennan '03. The goal of the staff was to capture the essence of the current school year. This year's book joins a collection of student yearbooks that become even more valuable as time goes by.

The Eyes and Ears of Kimball

Kimball's school newspaper, the Herald, serves as an information source for the entire student body. Advising the Herald staff is Kimball veteran, Mrs. Gail Bennett. Mrs. Bennett has been the teacher advisor to the Herald for the past 17 years. "We had an extremely creative, talented staff this year. They worked very well as a unit," she stated.

The Herald produced a total of eight issues this year, and the students at Kimball did not mind at all paying the dollar it cost. "It was great, I bought every issue, and there was always something interesting to read" said Mike Hakala '03.

The Herald boasts of being the most prestigious school newspaper in Royal Oak. Reporter Brendan Eddie '03 agreed. "We wrote a lot of great articles this year. I think that we kept the Kimball community well informed throughout the entire school year."

Among the columns in the Herald were: Horoscopes, Investigative Reports, and even Restaurant of the Month. "I think we really won a few hearts with the Restaurant of the Month; it's all I ever heard people talk about," said Michelle Ortlieb '04.

“It’s great to have a magazine like Xenolith to show the student body’s creativity,” replied Oksana Mirzoyan ‘03. Xenolith contains student-made photography, literature, musical pieces and portraits. All students were invited to submit to the magazine. “Putting a successful magazine together takes a lot of time and effort,” said Emily Renkert ‘03. Once submitted, names were taken off of the pieces so that they were judged anonymously. The staff and Mrs. Kathy Eischeid, advisor, made sure that all submissions were judged fairly. “People submit comic or very dark pieces;

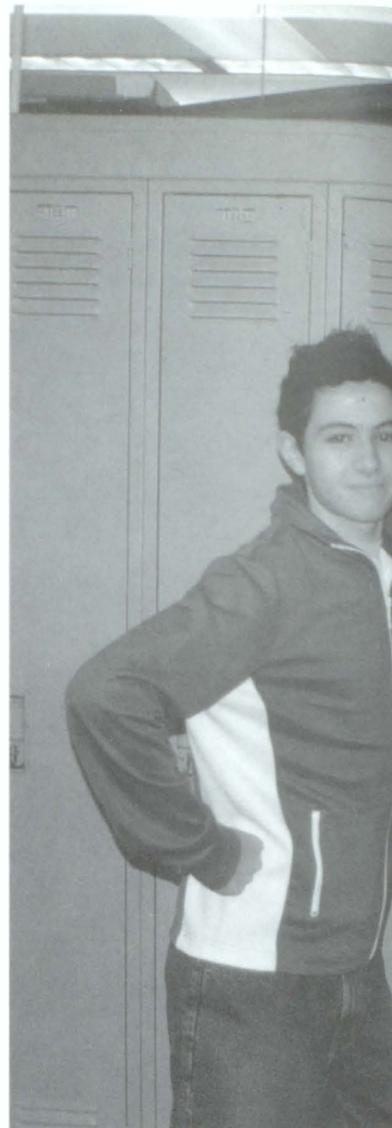

there are no certain categories your piece has to be in. The magazine is very broad,” exclaimed Alex Dimitrov ‘03. Through their creative artwork, the magazine shows what students believe; it’s another way to express an opinion. The staff sometimes stays after school to put in the extra time it takes to complete all the work. They also have a volunteer staff that meets once every month to help judge submissions or put the magazine together. The hard work everyone put into Xenolith made this magazine both bold and elegant, a true representation of our student body.

"It takes a lot of hard work and dedication to have such an amazing response to the magazine," stated Alex Dimitrov '03. Alex was a role model for the staff members of Xenolith because he showed what it takes to create a successful magazine. Alex spent much time before, during and after school working on the magazine. Editing, creating layouts and getting all pages ready for publication was a major job. With Alex as one of the editors for Xenolith, it's no wonder the magazine is an award winner!

Treasure Island

Throughout the year, the Debate Team compiled a lot of research. Not just a folder or even a binder full. The Debate Team had a large black case full of everything they'd ever need to know about their topics. While many students could be found in front of a TV after school it was more likely you'd find Debate club members in the library finding more material for their 'treasure chest.' This plethora of information shows that Kimball's team didn't fight dirty; they came prepared.

Sarah Peterson '04 gives a member of the other team the stare down.

Debate Team Shows Off Skills

The students on the Debate Team love to argue. They don't just blow off steam, though. This year the National Debate Topic was, "Resolved: That the United States Federal Government Should Increase Public Health Services for Mental Health Care in the United States." Debate students thoroughly researched the different sides of the argument before they went head to head in teams of two. "It's like fighting someone with my mind," exclaimed Shannon Raab '03.

Club members also get to see things from different perspectives. "I love hearing other peoples' point of view," stated Dan Gibson '04.

Debate club, led by Mrs. Natke, isn't just fun and games, it's hard work, too. Lots of time, effort and energy are poured into every debate. "Debate is a challenging experience, but it's worth it. I've learned more in this club than many of the classes I've taken at Kimball," admitted Veronica Ward '05.

Maybe one day we'll see these bright students in the court-room.

English is Exciting!

There's no doubt about it, Ms. Doster was the head of one extraordinary English Department this year. With an ample number of classes to choose from, Kimball offered plenty of choices for students to enrich their reading and writing skills.

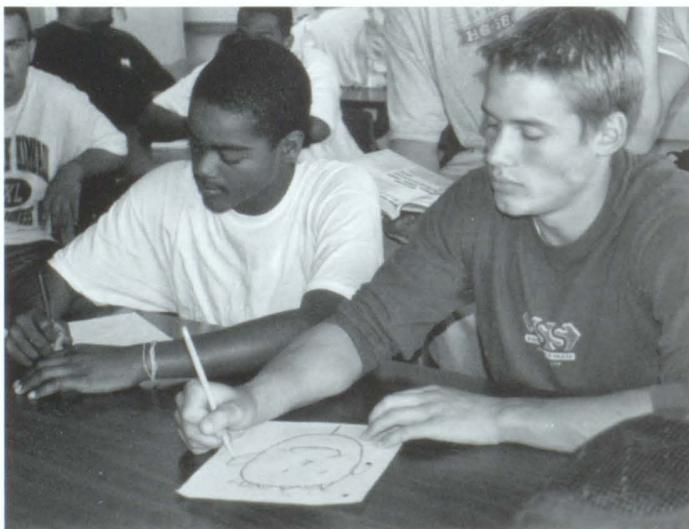

The English faculty had a few roster changes this year with Mrs. Browne making her triumphant return and Mr. Miller joining the squad. They, and all of the English teachers, took part in making this year in English an enjoyable learning experience.

"The thing I like most about my English classes is that the teachers are always willing to help me when I am having trouble with a paper," commented Daniel Smith '05.

English is also a great place to meet other people while helping each other with a report or having a conversation about a book that the class is reading. George Doman '03 explained how he found humor in his English classes "I enjoyed watching people get nervous right before they had to share their papers out loud."

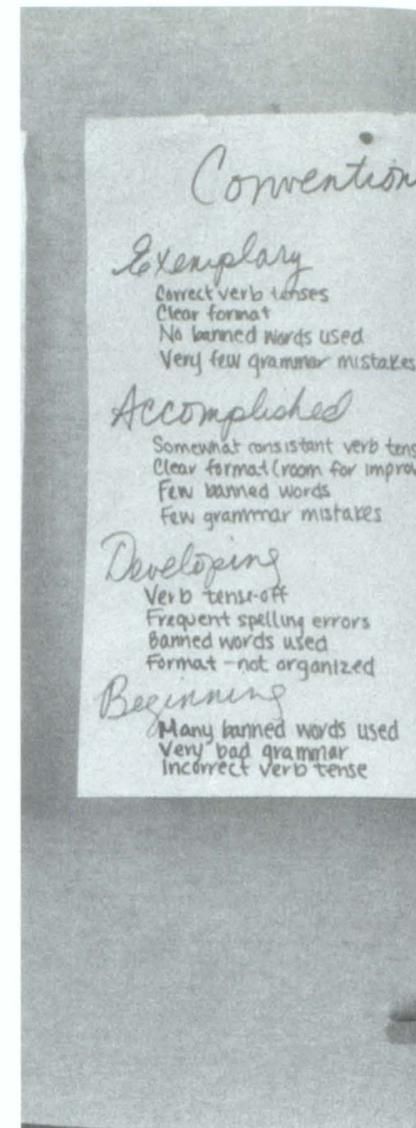

Russell Aiuto '03 will miss Mr. Elicker most, stating, "Mr. Elicker's Senior English class has not only taught me important writing techniques, but has giving me memories that will last a lifetime."

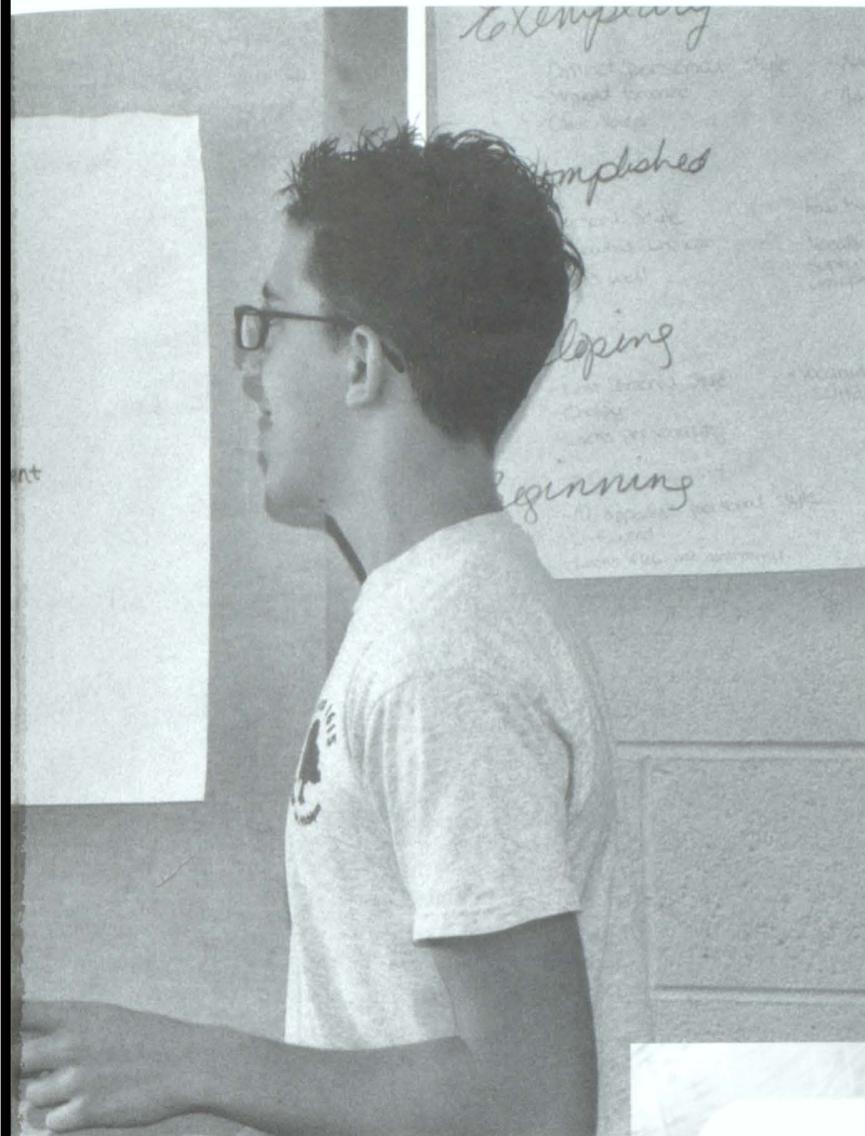

John Long '04 and Robbie Gibson '03 both practice drawing pictures of Doug Funny.

Face in the Crowd

Ms. Warren's smiling face has been part of the crowd at Kimball for over thirty years now! "Everyday is different. I like the possibility of new and exciting things happening and meeting very interesting kids" she said Ms. Warren taught Communications, Imaginative Writing and tenth grade Honors English this year. Ms. Warren loves to work with all of her students' various writing styles and her students seem to cherish their time with her just as much. "Ms. Warren is a very exciting and helpful teacher. I know I've become a better writer because of her class," advocated Hayley Shore '04. Ms. Warren looks forward to many more days of teaching at Kimball.

Surviving four years and loving every minute of it, Becky Raebel '03 is one of Kimball's best German students. When asked how she feels about German, Becky replied, "Super afen geil" or "Super monkey cool." Becky's favorite part of German class with Mr. Greening is "The movies and the food". This year the fourth year German class got to watch Indiana Jones in German. "I love how sexy Harrison Ford is in the German version of Indiana Jones," she said.

The World Within A Hallway

Learning to Speak, Speaking to Learn

Walking down our hallways, you won't just hear the average English "Hello," but a variety of greetings, ranging from "Hola" to "Bonjour" to "Guten Tag." The three foreign languages offered at Kimball are Spanish, French and German. Some students may only want an introduction to language, but others who have the interest may decide to go in depth and take it for four years. Amy Letzgus '03 was in her fourth year of Spanish when she said, "I have enjoyed learning about Spanish culture and language throughout high school."

Without an outstanding foreign language staff, the students wouldn't be as accomplished as they are. "I love teaching German because I really get a kick out of teaching kids a foreign language," Mr. Greening stated with a smile. When asked about her fourth year Spanish class Senora Fetisco replied, "It's all seniors who are smart and funny, so we have fun." Our Foreign Language department prepared a hard working group of kids to "think global."

Serious Studies

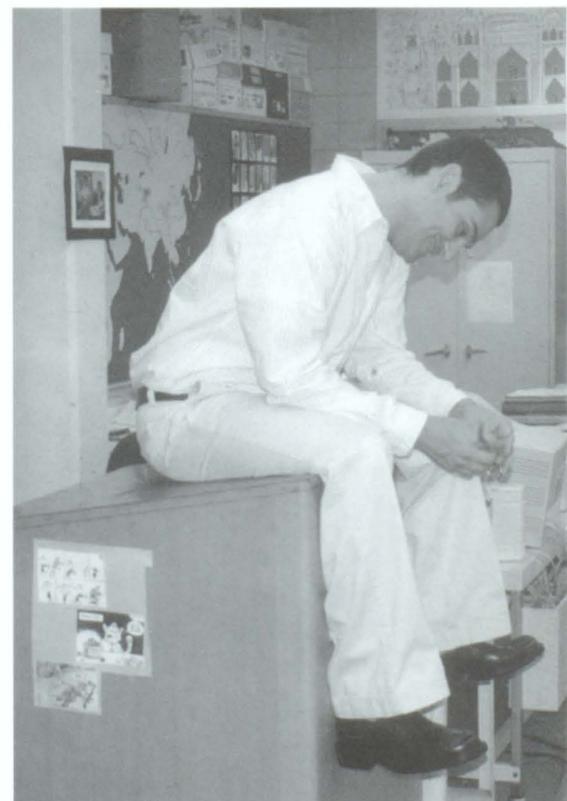

Students Look Ahead by Looking Back

The goal of the Social Studies Department is to expand the view of the students to a larger world. The Social Studies Department is headed by Mr. Decker. Featuring the talents of new teachers, Mr. Noonan and Mr. Roeder, the department aims to please students in every grade by engaging the study of the past and current world. "The teachers have a high level of character, commitment, and love for the students. There is also a good balance of historical expertise," Mr. Decker explained. To better cater to the tastes of Kimball, a new class was offered this year.

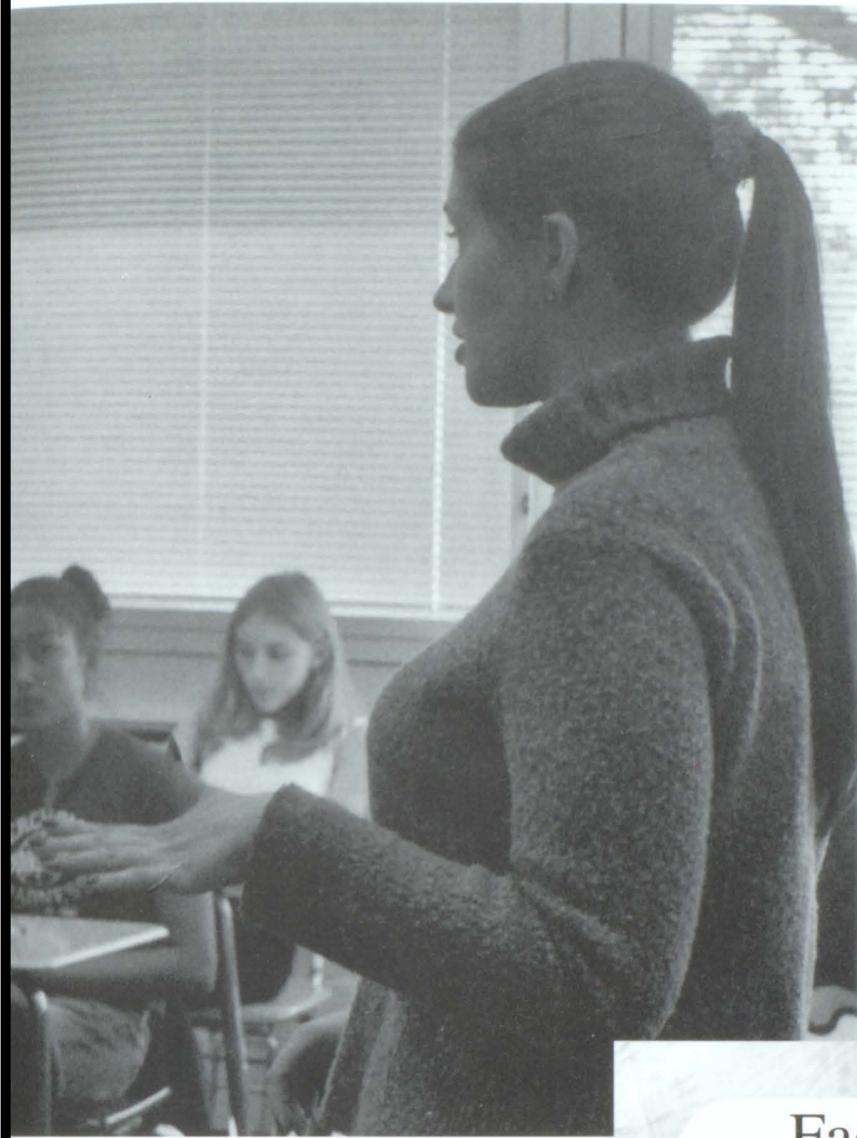

Seminar in Social Studies was a course devoted to the study of Hollywood films portraying historical events. Paul McLeod '03 commented, "The class is really cool, we get to watch interesting movies and then discuss the main topics involved." Aside from the classes, teacher-student relationships were just as vital to the learning process. "I like my history class because my teacher is innovative. He challenges us to think, and he enjoys his class," Megan Hurcomb '04 remarked. So while Social Studies may challenge students, the benefits of its growing experiences are innumerable.

Kelly Steiner '03 scratches her head in confusion while Danielle DeTavernier '03 contemplates true meaning in AP U.S. History.

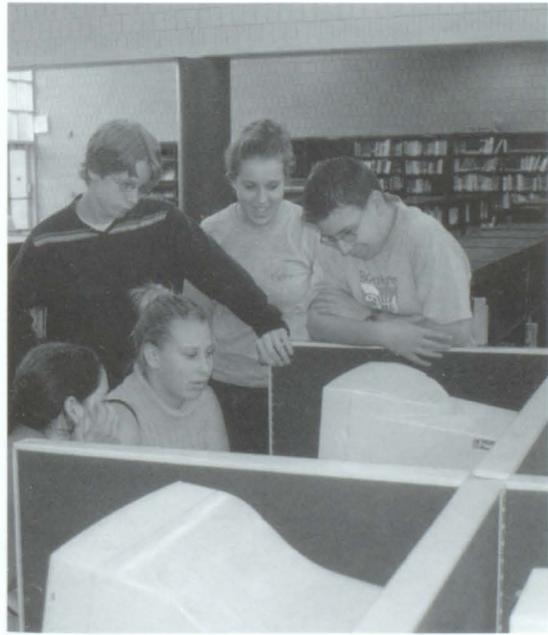

Mr. Robbins shrugs off a joke in his World History 3 class.

Ms. Lindsey addresses pertinent issues concerning our nation and its laws in her U.S. Government class.

Amidst a cluttered desk, Mr. Greening expresses cohesiveness between America and Democracy.

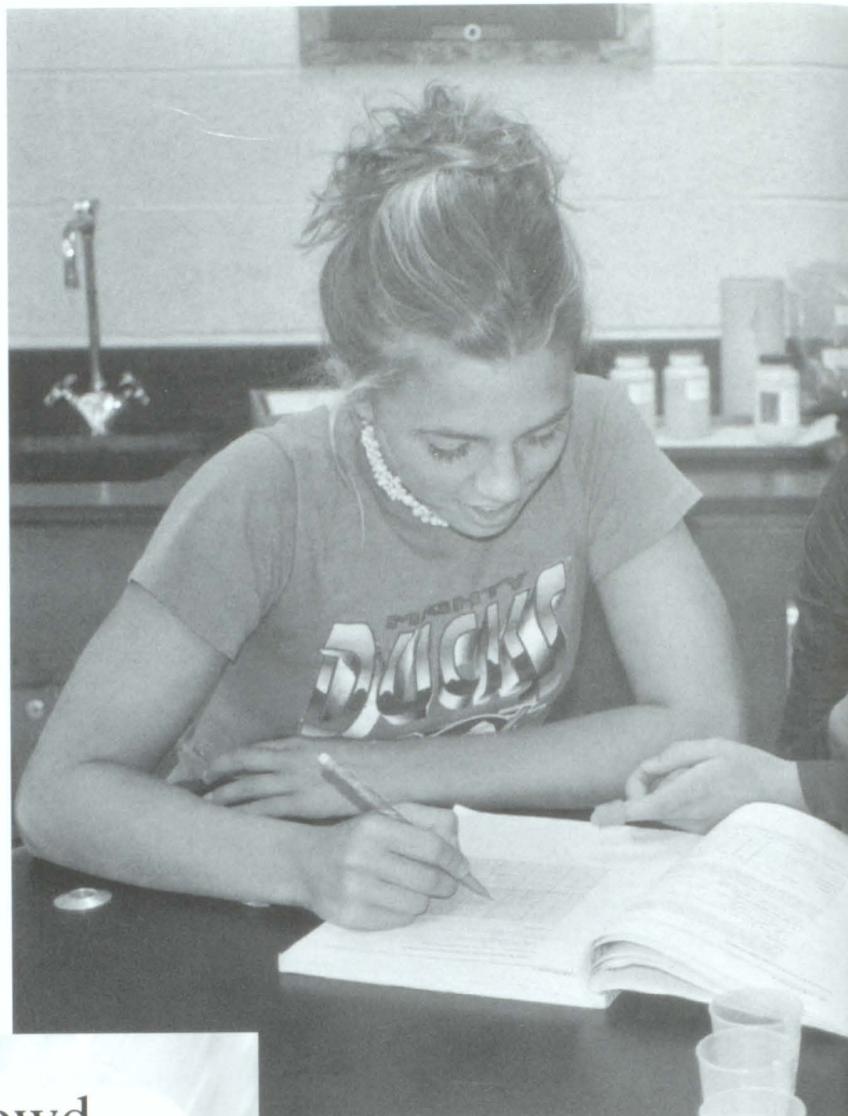

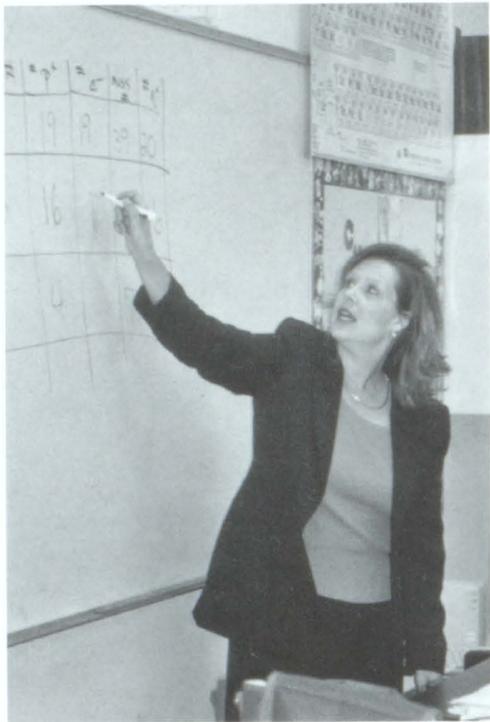

Students Collin Webster '06, Sara Spangler '06, Mike Fleming '06, Monica Messing '06, and Ida Lowback '06 view information for a project in Mr. Pfeilfle's U.S. History class.

Face in the Crowd

Mr. Decker is not only the head of the Social Studies department, but also an active member of the Kimball community. "I love it. My character and the topic of history are a perfect match to engage students in a passionate study of history," he stated about his role as educator. His view on the subject of history is just as enthusiastic as his love for the students and the importance of teaching them. "I think it's important for students to get a good picture of themselves and their history in order to make good life decisions." So whether he is relating the importance of the past or sharing a hearty joke, Mr. Decker is always a welcome fixture here at Kimball High.

Mrs. Ochoa teaches her Chemistry class the Periodic Table of Elements.

Ashley Murphree '03 juggled participating in the Swimming and Diving team with taking three AP classes, two of which are science. "My favorite part of diving was perfecting my dives to the fullest," Ashley stated. She was busy after school, as well, working at Beads SRO in downtown Royal Oak and teaching little kids gymnastics at Borgo Sister's Dance Studio.

Ashley plans on attending The University of Michigan. With her cumulative GPA of a 3.93 she should have no problem pursing her goals. "I'm looking forward to moving out and having my own place," she said. Although she was a busy girl, she managed her time well and always made sure there was time for fun!

While the rest of the class talks and goofs off for the remainder of the class, Roseanne Docter '04 and Travis Spencer '04 concentrate on their science homework.

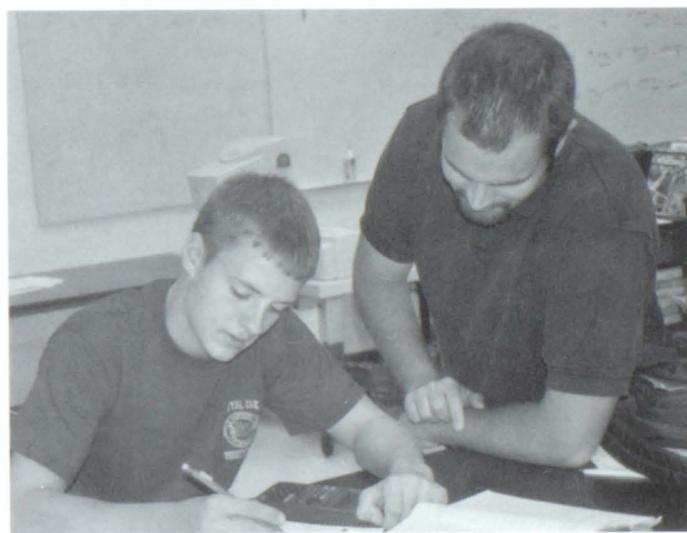

Newton's Got Nothin' On Us!

Science Stimulates Students

With Mrs. Ashburn as Department Head, there is no doubt that the Science Department is flourishing. There are over twelve courses offered ranging from Physical Science to Environmental Science to Chemical Science. "Science is like your favorite roller coaster," remarked Katie Kabacinski '03. Students in most of the science classes participate in hands on experiments to help promote their understanding of complex issues. "Physics is a fun class," commented Kristen McFall '03. "It is easy to relate the things we learn in class to everyday life," Mrs. Elsner added, "The most challenging aspect of teaching is having the students learn physics without realizing it," Jamie Segel '03 summed it up by stating, "SCIENCE RULES!"

Math Is A Plus

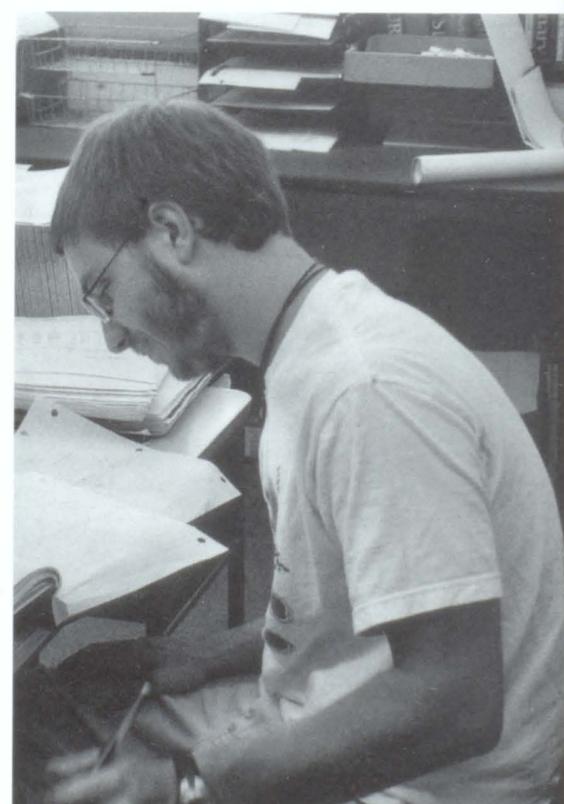

Variety is Math's Magic

Our Math Department has many classes to fit each student's wants and needs. The class variety ranges from Extended Algebra and Geometry to Advanced Placement Statistics and Calculus. The students are willing to take advantage of the many classes. Chris Spenceley '03 said, "I really enjoy how everything in math is written and organized; there is an explanation for everything." Justin Jolley-Vallieres '06 enjoyed the knowledge math can give and he loved the challenge. Mike Sink '05 had a different point of view, "I don't really enjoy numbers but my math classes have always been fun and enjoyable." Teachers were constantly working hard to make the math classes valuable for everyone. Senior Katie Kabacinski '03 spent four years in challenging math classes; "My classes have prepared me for a possible career in engineering." Our math will help us move into our futures!

Elizabeth Antonopolis '03 worked hard in her Math classes throughout high school. She pushed herself through all four years to get the best grades she could. Math may not have been her favorite subject, but she hoped that her math classes now, would help her in college and with whatever her future has in store. This hard working student said, "I'm hoping that by taking all of these math classes in high school, I won't have to take them when I'm in college." She looks forward to all of her hard work eventually paying off.

There is a new teacher in the Art Department. It's Ms. Kariann Weiss. She teaches both Art and Visual Imaging. "Before coming to Kimball, I taught elementary art in Lake Orion for two years and in Bloomfield Hills for two years," Ms. Weiss commented. "But I also took two years off from teaching to work as a graphic designer, production coordinator, and creative director," she continued. Outside of school Ms. Weiss enjoys kickboxing and watching movies. She also is restoring her home. Welcome Ms. Weiss to Kimball High School!

Expressing Ourselves

Staubach '04. "I really like having Picasso, Rembrandt, Van Gogh are some of the most famous artists in the world. Is it possible that our fellow students may one day be joining these legends? By all means, it is. Many art students showed potential for greatness in their art classes. From painting a landscape, to constructing a clay pot, Kimball's art department helped expose the raw talent dwelling inside us all. "Art actually brought out some of my talents," explained Chris art, I look forward to it everyday," he continued.

Another art student, Athena Vorves '04, agreed, "Art has brought out my abilities." She also added, "Mr. Rice was a good influence on me, as well." The Art department's teaching staff is one of a kind. With three teachers this year, no one should feel left out. Mr. Powers, Mr. Rice and Kimball's new addition, Ms. Weiss, have enough artistic knowledge to field any question.

Learning Life Lessons

Fun Lessons for the Future

Medical Skills is a hands-on class where students learn how to take care of themselves and others. This class gives juniors and seniors a chance to experience real-life, hands-on situations in a fun environment. "I like medical skills because it provides a lot of hands-on activities that you don't get in many other classes," commented Natalie Attan '03. "I also work at a veterinarians office and I am able to apply the knowledge I gained from my class and use it in my job. Medical skills has been a really helpful class." The medical skills classes are led by veterans Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Fry. Classes are open to juniors and seniors from Kimball and Dondero. Most students start with Medical Skills 1& 2 and in their senior year either take Medical Skills 3 & 4, or have the chance to do co-op. Medical Skills students also get a chance to participate in many activities outside of the classroom. Jeanette Porter '03, who is in medical skills 3&4, said "I like all the fun field trips we go on in medical skills. It's a great learning experience."

Building Blocks for the Future

Getting a Step Ahead

There are many classes that people can take to get a better understanding of their future fields of work, like Essential Living, Drafting, Materials Processing, and Cisco. Donny Weston '03 agreed, "It provides a hands-on working environment instead of reading out of a book."

Some people take these classes just to get a better understanding of their life, like in Essential Living. "I believe I will have a better understanding of how to eat healthy and stay fit," commented Rebecca Bibby '06. "I would like to one day become a chef, and the skills that I learned here will help me in the future."

Not everything can be learned in a regular classroom setting. Everyone has skills they need to work on for future jobs. The classes people are taking are helping them get a step ahead in the right direction that they might not have otherwise been able to discover.

What a Workout!

Feelin' Good

When thinking about physical education, one of two things probably comes to mind: sweat and hard physical work, or an hour of athletic freedom a day. "It's good to have a class that I don't have to think in," stated Robbie Przybylski '06.

Physical Education isn't just about the actual athletics. Students learn the basic rules of many sports. "I didn't know what offsides or a penalty kick was before this year!" exclaimed Dave Mangum '05.

While all the many sports included in gym class are fun, flag football seems to be the favorite. "Football's by far my favorite sport in gym! I love playing QB!" admitted Erich Hatfield '06.

Upperclassmen take advantage of the physical education classes to help them get in shape for sports. "I take Weight and Body because I get a good workout during the school day. That helps me stay in shape for football and baseball," said Bret Burton '03.

Phys Ed does more than just give students a workout, it teaches them the concept of teamwork and the joy of athletics.

Food and Fashion in Knights' Den

Once again, the Knights' Den had a very successful year selling items ranging from stylish clothing to delicious cookies. The Knights' Den success was a result of Ms. Northey's dedication to the store. "Ms. Northey is always ordering cool new stuff for us to sell and her training and encouragement has helped me to be a better employee," stated Dan Hahn '03.

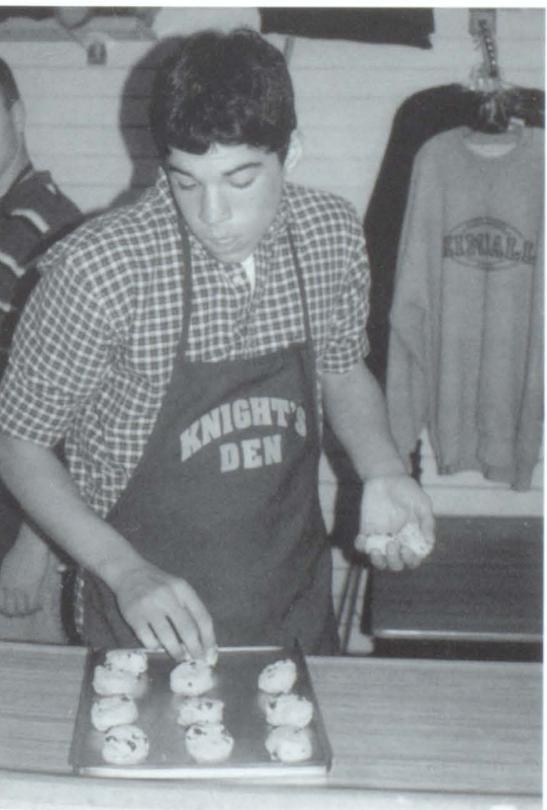

The Knights' Den employees are always busy cleaning the store, changing light bulbs, baking cookies and serving the hungry Kimball students. Bob Pantalone '04 explained why he enjoyed his time working in the store, "I liked the way the female customers looked at me when I had my apron on," he said.

"I liked the smell of the cookies, the cold air and the creative displays," remarked Damean Simmons '03, a frequent patron of the store. The customers always came first at the Knights' Den and the comfortable atmosphere and friendly service was what kept the business going.

Everyday Experiences

Day X Day

Students with special needs had a rigorous daily routine planned for them. The students in the Special Ed department faced many challenges at school and at home. A typical school day involved them in learning the daily tasks of being on their own. For example, they learned how to cook, assemble items, and make beds, among other activities. "Everyday is different in here and you never know what to expect next," stated Mr. George who, along with Ms. Festa, taught these students.

The students of the Special Ed class helped out around the school by collecting all of the bottles. They then took the bottles to the store and returned them for money. With this money the students were able to go out into the community and learn what type of items to purchase. The students went shopping every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Every day was a new experience for the students to learn and grow. With the helpful guidance of the Special Ed department, one day these students will be able to lead independent lives.

She helped with classroom work, cooking, taking care of the kids, and setting up the CBI schedules. The CBI schedule stands for Community Based Instruction.

"The kids to me are wonderful and challenging. I never know what to expect next. Each day is different and I just have to flow with whatever comes my way," stated Mrs. White. When all is said and done, Mrs. White is happy with what she does. It makes her happy to see the kids learn and grow.

OTC: Hands-On Opportunities

School-To-Work

The Oakland Technical Center, better known as O-Tech, is a center of opportunity for many high-school juniors and seniors.

The Oakland Technical Center affords students the opportunity to participate with hands on experience in their field of choice. From Agricultural Science to Auto-Body Repair, students are able to pursue almost any interest they can think of.

Anna McDonald '04 enjoyed the opportunity to spend time in a design class, "O-Tech lets me make clothing that I design on my own."

The short drive to O-Tech from Kimball is what has enabled many students to enjoy its benefits. by being able to take the quick drive over there.

Another one of the numerous opportunities that was provided by attending classes at O-Tech, was the opportunity to meet the many students from schools other than Kimball who also participated at O-Tech. Travis Spencer '04 said, "I like O-Tech because you are able to meet a lot of kids from other schools, who you wouldn't have been able to meet otherwise."

Stefan Delgado '03 was involved in the Culinary Arts program at the Oakland Technical Center. Leaving school for two hours during the day, he was able to spend time doing what he enjoys the most, making food. However, being around food all day can have its drawbacks. "I usually have the munchies at O-Tech, and being around that food all day is unbearable." When he's not taking the hamburgers off the grill, he is in the classroom, learning about different types of food, and how to prepare them.

Working All the Live Long Day!

Real World Business

Opportunity is running rampant at Kimball. It's on the loose and no one can stop it! Co-op is a program offered through school that enables students to work during school hours and earn credit at the same time. The co-op director, Mr. Chard, remarks that about one third of the senior class is involved in the co-op program or the equivalent of 120 students. "I like the idea of being involved in the adult work world," commented Megan Gleason '03. Students can choose between working two hours a day and attending four classes or one hour a day and attending five classes. The line of work the student engages in is up to the student at hand—likewise, the student can also choose to work in or out of the building. "The copy machine is one of the most challenging parts of my job," stated Aimee Maurice '03. It may seem like an easy way out of school to some students, but working can be even more challenging than school!

Co-op director Mr. Chard worked in collaboration with Mrs. Fry in the Co-op program, and worked in the district for a grand total of thirty three years. "I have had an excellent career," he stated. Mr. Chard planned on retiring at the end of this school year and wanted to eventually move up north to his cabin with his wife. Mr. Chard looked forward to spending more time with his two married daughters and his grandchildren. In his free time he enjoys making furniture and creating oil paintings. "I have really enjoyed working closely with students and all the different personalities that go with them," he stated.

Media Center Takes New Approach

Kimball's MediaCenter is full of surprises. With an overwhelming selection of books, computer software, and a complete magazine selection, all accompanied by a relaxing environment, who wouldn't want to get lost in all the knowledge? Mrs. Rosenbaum would "love to encourage students to read." She would also love to encourage everyone to use the new technology in the Media Center. This year, the Media Center invested in numerous new technological devices. Two of the most exciting items were the presentation cart which contains a VCR, DVD, data projector and a computer and the Imac which allows students to produce movies. All the new technology "just adds to the excitement of coming to the media center," according to Mrs. Rosenbaum.

Snap Into Action

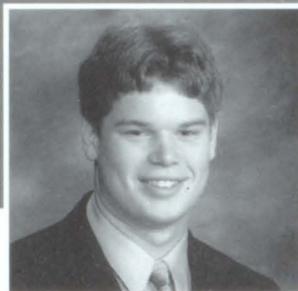

The 2002 season started out with a quick snap for the Boys' Varsity Football team. It all started out with a blow-out win against cross-town rival Dondero. The team finished the season with a 5-4-1 record, falling just short of playoffs after their 10-7 win against Pontiac Northern. "It was a great season," said Robbie Gibson '03, "It was unfortunate that we didn't make playoffs." This season the Knights were led by three senior captains; Charlie Banyai, Bret Burton and Mike Sheldon. "We had a great group of guys who made Varsity Football an outstanding experience this year," commented Mike Sheldon. With only twenty seniors leaving, the Knights still have an advantage entering the 2003 season next year.

Teams Strive for Success

The J.V and Freshman Football teams had their struggles this year. Freshman Running Back Tom Brady '06 was injured severely during the third game of the season. Although his absence had a great impact on the team, the Freshmen didn't let the loss hinder their spirits. The J.V. Football team also had some ups and downs of their own this season. Quarterback Jimmy Banyai '05 led the J.V. team to a record of two wins, four losses and two ties. Even with the rough outcomes their enthusiasm wasn't dampened by their record. Wide Receiver and Defensive Secondary, Brian Brennan '05 summed up the team's season by stating, "I think we had a pretty good year and everyone had fun despite our struggles on the field. We had some close games and the highlight of the season was our win over Dondero in the final seconds of the game."

"Basketball has been a lot of fun and preparing for the actual season has been a ton of work," replied Becky Combe. '04 Every summer, Coach Harding is in charge of a basketball camp. The Varsity Basketball Team took time out of their summer to coach the kids every day for a week. The team also over the summer went to an Eastern Michigan basketball camp. "It was not only good to learn skill-work, but it was also the time to get to know each other better -- team bonding," replied Shauna Schumaker '05. The team struggled throughout the season, but fought every step of the way. "We all have become really close, like a family, so it's going to be really hard to leave this year," said Kelly Steiner '03.

This year's Freshman and J.V. Girls' Basketball teams finished their seasons strong and solid. "I'm really happy with the way our season turned out. We did really well," stated Chelsey Tanner '06. The freshmen finished off their season at 12-1 and the J.V. girls finished above .500 as well. "I can't wait for next year's season to start. I am hopefully looking forward to playing varsity," commented Natalie Smallwood '05. These girls had a wonderful season and with all this talent, next year's teams should be even stronger.

"We were expected to be killed but we showed them what Kimball soccer is all about," stated Varsity Soccer team co-captain Steve Cole '03. This year was the team's first in division one. Led by Cole and other captains, Brian Martin '03 and Chris Kelly '03, they made an incredible first impression, reaching goals and setting standards they themselves could not have imagined.

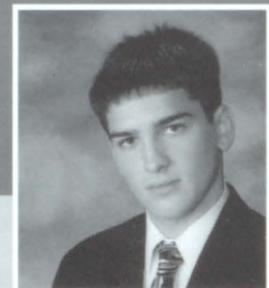

The team worked together and crushed Rochester Adams for the first time since Coach Greening himself played Kimball soccer. They then went on to defeat Troy high for the first time ever in Kimball soccer history. Despite injuries of many key players, the boys placed 3rd in the division. As Joe Zanni '05 stated, "we worked together, played hard, and this season was amazing."

A n Awesome Year!

The 2002 JV and Freshman soccer teams each had outstanding seasons. Through victory and defeat each player exercised their ability to perform to the team's high standards. The freshman team was composed of 14 players. They had a 4-6-3 record overall. They defeated teams such as Rochester High, Birmingham Groves and Howell. The freshman teams best game of the year was when they tied Troy High. Each player had an outstanding game that day. The JV team was composed of 2 juniors, 12 sophomores and 7 freshman. The JV team finished the season with a 6-5-5 record. The team was lead by three sophomore captains, Eric McIntosh, Matt Redmond and Matt Sluss. They struggled in the beginning of the season, but as time passed and they moved a few key player up from the freshman team the JV team improved. Each team finished their seasons strong.

Hardcore Cross Country

"We are the Supreme Devastators. That's kind of our motto for this season," said George Doman '03. The Boys' Cross Country Team was a lively group, who got along even when they weren't dominating the field. The team captured the League Championship, and the season with six victories and only one loss for the league matches. Ryan Danescu '03 qualified for the State Finals meet. Even defeat couldn't keep this persistent group from their overall joyful attitudes. "I just wanted to run. It was good stuff," grinned Sean Murphy '03. The "hardcore" effort they exhibited for the fall season was the slogan gracing the back of their team shirts the entire time, and their record certainly showed the determination of this triumphant team. "It's a work-out," confessed Mike Grabowski '05.

Andi Redmond '03 qualified for the state championship meet, went undefeated in the league and captured the league title. The team was lead by senior captains Mary Marasco and Jenny Holcomb. "Before every race we huddled up and said "In with the good. Out with the bad." It was my way of calming everyone's nerves before a race," stated Jenny Holcomb '03. The team was made up of seven seniors, two juniors and one freshman. "I looked for a hopeful season. I wanted my seniors to end on a good note. We beat Clawson for the first time in years! We also had two girls get All League," stated Coach Ewell when asked about the season. The girls not only had fun running but they bonded as a team. "My favorite part of Cross Country was the girls on the team. We always had fun, no matter the outcome of the race," exclaimed Jamie Segel '03. Who Let The Dogs Out?

The Golf team had another fun year that was full of ups and downs. They won the City Championship and beat their rival Dondero, but finished 3-3 in the league.

Coach Vince Caruso stressed good behavior and dedication on the golf coarse and developed new putting drills that helped perfect the team's short game. "Golf is a lifetime sport," he always said.

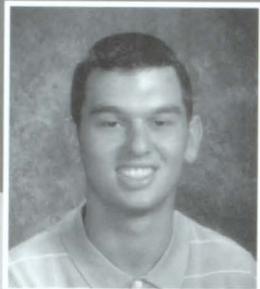

Captain Anthony Zanni '03 took on a big role this year and stepped up his game accordingly. He commented on Scott Caruso '03, "Scott always made sure we were having fun. He was a comical leader who showed a lot of emotion when he played."

The high point of the golf season was junior Justin Hull's performance in the State Championship. He had been solid all year long and ended the season with a 20-foot birdie putt on his last hole to take 4th place in the state! "It felt good to see my hard work pay off and I look forward to doing it again next year."

Deep End of the Pool

A little squall has hit the Girls' Swimming and Diving team in the beginning of the year, but that doesn't discourage any of them from getting in the pool and putting in some effort. "It has been a rough beginning for everyone on the team, but that doesn't intimidate us into giving up because we love to do what we do," spoke out Julie Antonopoulos '03. The Swimming and Diving team didn't care about winning, but rather what they gained after the season, which was teamwork and friendship. "Swimming is the coolest sport on the planet," exclaimed Kelly Connell '03, "It's a great activity that is rewarding only if you dedicate some time to the sport." The girls this year definitely demonstrated dedication!

The captains for this year were Jeanette Porter '03 and Laura Farhat '04. "I was really honored to be a captain this year. The team was great," noted Jeanette Porter.

Through thick and thin, the Girls' Tennis Team held together and kept strong. "Unfortunately we had a lot of injuries this year. At times it got frustrating, but we kept our spirits high," said Kassi Hartter '03. The girls gave it their all during the season and it didn't matter to them whether they won or lost. The 2003 Varsity Basketball Team was successful in preserving the great tradition of Kimball Basketball. The boys had a good year. "Our season went pretty well. We had our tough times, but we always came out on top!" replied one of this year's captains, Mike Sheldon '03. The other captain that led the knights was A.J. Louis. The team consisted of five seniors and the rest juniors, but that didn't stop the team from bonding. "Most important this year was that we were an actual team. We all worked hard together, which made it easier to win," stated Chris Forsythe '03. "Our team had good chemistry and we worked well together," agreed David Villerot '04. All in all, the Knights played a great season. The JV Team played well together. They showed promise and in the up-coming years we will all see good things come out of them. "Most of us have been playing together since we were in grade school so it makes us a lot better as a team," said Mike Davidson '05. The Freshman Team also had a great season. "Playing basketball is a great way to take stress off of school," replied Andy Ridgway '06. The two mile runs and the three hour practices made it hard to find our motivation. But we did it and accomplished great things," remarks captain Megan Gleason. The season started in April and ended in March. The girls practiced through the summer and the entire school year. They attended three major competitions a year, including the Kimball competition hosted right here at our school. Charlie Banyai '03 added, "getting to wrestle for two years at Kimball was great, and re-

Growing Pains

Winning isn't everything. The Girls' Varsity Volleyball team learned that lesson during their season. The girls didn't have an outstanding record, but they made up for this by having fun and bonding as a team. "I had so much fun this season. We laughed so hard all the time, it was great," commented captain Celina Gonzales '03. With only four returning Varsity players this year, the girls had to get used to a whole new team.

Celina Gonzales '03

"We learned a lot from each other and helped one another grow as players," stated captain Nichole Villerot '03. The team played their best on the court, but it just wasn't good enough. "We beat hard teams like Lake Orion, but had a hard time beating teams we should have won against, like Ferndale," explained captain Julia Greenway '03. Volleyball is considered to be one of the most "team" sports there is. In other sports, you can have a star player that can win the game for the team. In volleyball, with six girls on the court, you can only contribute your skill to the game by touching the ball once, before it is placed into the hands of another player.

During this past season, the Girl's Gymnastics team proved to be a force to reckon with. The team has gotten closer as the year progresses," stated this year's captain Michelle Clark '03. "My favorite part about this team is the relationship we have with each other. The team has done extremely well this year and the next season is bound to be exciting after such a great year," mentioned Megan Carty '04. "The team has many freshmen and sophomores. A season for Kevin

The 2002-2003 Royal Oak Varsity Hockey team fought through a tough schedule to have a very respectable season. The Blades who lost teammate and friend Kevin Rakoczy, dedicated the season to his memory. The Blades struggled early in the season partly due to one of the toughest schedules in the state. The Blades finished the season strong, and left a lasting legacy for future teams through their sportsmanship, work ethic and dedication. The Junior Varsity Blades, in their third season showed much promise in a new league filled with some of the states best teams. Head Coach Scott Fuelling was impressed with the performance of his squad. "We played hard and often times out-worked the opposition to win." Both teams had great seasons and represented the city and their schools in a positive manner.

The Boys' Swimming and Diving Team this year has proven to be efficient and carefree at the same time, as each team member puts dedication and effort into making big waves. "The beginning of this year was a little rough, but the team pulled itself together in a respectable manor," said Aaron Segel '03. The team's diver, Bret Stawinski, qualified for states with a team diving record of 198. Not only has the team been achieving high standards, the members have also achieved a good comradery, despite the painstaking practices. "It hurts. It hurts a lot, but the people are great," exclaimed Ben Barber '03. During practice, before the actual meets held at Dondero's swimming pool, the guys could be seen working hard. Each stroke that each individual made was molded into gold and victory. But between each lap, they could be seen in the pool goofing off--the way old friends do.

Campions At Last!

The 2002 Varsity Baseball Team was successful in preserving the great tradition of Kimball baseball. The Knights were propelled to 22 regular season wins with the leadership of 10 returning lettermen. They captured the OAA league title for the first time in the history of the program with a record of 12 wins and no losses in the league. Dan Evey '02 captured the Michigan State stolen bases record with 148 in his four years at Kimball. "It's a great thrill to own the record," said Evey. The Knights were led by Coaches Brian Gordon and Brett Hansen. "This was probably one of the most enjoyable seasons that I have had; it was a great group of guys," said Gordon. With 9 returning players next season, the future looks bright for Kimball baseball.

Grand -Slam of a Season

The 2002 Junior Varsity Baseball Team enjoyed a dominant year, winning 21 of their 22 games and capturing the league title. Led by first year coach Scott Kapla, the Knights were a staple of hard work and dedication. Timely hitting and solid pitching was key to the knights' success. Sophomore David Villerot's highlight of the year was, "Beating up on Dondero." The Freshmen had a season that built character. After starting slowly, Coach Colin Quinn rallied the Knights to a record of 15 wins and 5 losses. Mike Tatchio '05 said, "we started off slow but with hard work in practice we improved dramatically." Both teams showed great promise for the coming springs at Kimball.

Although the Lady Knights Softball Team had a rocky start, they finished their season winning six consecutive games and also winning Districts. "I'm really happy that we ended this season so well. I think that it really lifted the team's spirits when things started to pull together," commented Tracy Caruss '03.

The captains in spring of '02 were Jessica

Wilcox '02, Michelle Dunscombe '02, and Jenny Mangold '02. "I am really going to miss playing for the Lady Knights. A Change for the Better

The Boys' Tennis Team came out of the season with a winning record of six wins and four losses last spring. When asked what the goals for the team were, Senior captain Thomas Rutledge responded, "our goal was to have a winning record and it felt great to achieve that goal." One factor that may have contributed to the Tennis Team's success was the new coaching staff. The former assistant coach, Paul Surdenik, was promoted to head coach and was assisted by coach Greg Castle. "The new coaches brought a new attitude to the players that was very encouraging," said Anthony Zanni '03. Jason Segel also added that, "the coaches were a big part of our success and we wouldn't have done as well without them.

A Moment in History

The Kimball Girls' Varsity Soccer team made a moment in history when they won the district championship. This was the first district championship that the Girls' Soccer team has ever won. Although their record for the season was not what they had hoped it would be, they got the chance to show what they could do when they went to the regionals. Even though the odds were picked against the Knights, they went on to win both their regional games and walked away with the regional championship, also a first for the Knights. "Being a part of this team and going as far as winning the regional championship is something that I will always remember," stated captain Amy Letzgus '03. The girls gave their all this year; they worked hard and played smart, and it definitely showed.

B reak a Leg

"Besides the fact that eight players were injured, the soccer season went pretty well," replied Shauna Schumaker '05. At the beginning of the season, the J.V Soccer Team had fifteen healthy players. But things soon changed. "It seemed like, all at once, we were dropping like flies. Almost every game someone got hurt," said Margaret Thompson '05. The team played fairly well despite all of the injured players. The girls' attitude stayed positive throughout. The Freshman Soccer team had a successful season, too. They worked hard and meshed well. "I had a lot of fun on the team and hope next season will be the same," replied Anne Villerot '05. The freshmen did not have as many injuries as the J.V did, and they hope to minimize the number of broken legs next season.

The Boys' Track season was praised for its enthusiasm and lighthearted spirit. "My favorite moment this year was when Dave Dillion '02 got to honk the tracker horn," Tommy Kant '02 recalled and then added, "That was great!" Dave Dillion described the season as a "slam dunk season," and concluded, "We couldn't lose even if we tried." "If it wasn't for Mr. Barnett, I don't know where we would have been," Tommy Kant '02 said when he was questioned about the season's success. Captain Adam Briggs '02 proudly mentioned the 12 and 0 the team earned in the division. "We had a lot of fun because people were coming out to participate and they knew what to do." Briggs also added, "A lot of people weren't new this year. Spirit Week Spices Things Up

Spirit week this year was a huge hit among students. Students kicked off the week on the previous Friday by wearing Blue and Gold at the pep rally to support the Varsity teams, and the excitement didn't stop there. Students wore their pajamas and warm up suits in full force for Comfy Day. College and Hat Day produced an array of T-shirts, sweatshirts and hats in support of students' favorite schools. Blast from the Past Day produced a diverse range of outfits from various decades. Each day was fun for the entire school. The seniors finished off the week emerging in full force for Senior Dress Up Day. Overall, Spirit Week once again demonstrated the enthusiasm and positive attitude Kimball students have.

The score for this year was 34-20 and each team showed respect for her opponent in order to maintain a harmless game for the ladies of Kimball. "It was an intense game with lots of tackles and positive attitude throughout the game," stated Nichole Villerot '03. Despite the juniors' disappointing defeat, they still take with them the happy experiences

Not only was it a blast for the girls on the field, but it was also a treat for the other classmates on the bleachers. "It was cold, but worth it. I had a tremendously over two months to prepare for the show that ran from November 7-10, 2002. The play incorporated elementary age kids as well as Drama Club members.

Mr. Kaufman, the play's director, also incorporated a video that had clips from the original movie version starring Betty Hutton and Howard Keel. The show consisted of a cast of about 45 people including 10 dancers. Audiences and cast members agree that Annie Get Your Gun was one of Kimball's best muscials ever.

The Kimball Drama Club hit audiences hard with their MIFA production of Chicago. Chicago is a musical vaudeville about chorus girl Roxie Hart, who kills her faithless lover and lands in jail with famous jazz slayer, Velma Kelly. With the aid of her sleazy lawyer Billy Flynn, Roxie becomes the sweetheart of the press only to find out that fame is fleeting.

This talented cast was lead by veteran seniors Katie Pierce as Roxie Hart, Noor Allos as Velma Kelly, David Brown as Billy Flynn, and Chris Moultrup as Amos Hart. Kimball received ratings of 1 at both district and regional festivals which guaranteed them a spot at State Finals. This year state finals was held at Ferris State and on Saturday February 15 Kimball placed second in the state which gave them the opportunity to perform at the Michigan Youth Arts Festival at Western Michigan in May. "Even though this show was controversial, I think that's where the challenge and fun came in. We put on something people didn't expect us to do and we did a great job. I am so proud of this show," stated Katie Pierce. With some hard work and "all that jazz" Chicago will be remembered as a great show for a very long time.

The Stars of the Future!

This year Drama Club, full of fresh faces and old faithfuls, produced one of its best seasons ever.. The Drama Club spellbound its audiences with the fall musical Annie Get Your Gun, shocked students with the M.I.F.A competition show, Chicago and had audiences rolling with the spring play, All In The Timing.

Drama Club was quite an experience for those involved. "I'm really glad I got involved in Drama Club. It was a great way to make some new friends and meet upperclassmen," stated Megan Huening '06.

Even though Drama Club is big time commitment, it is all worth it. "So many students think of Drama Club as a second family and it's their home away from home," commented Mr. Kaufman, the sponsor of the Drama Club. Drama Club is an exciting activity and who knows, maybe we will even see some future stars who were once members of the Kimball Drama Club.

We Get By With A Little Help From Our Friends

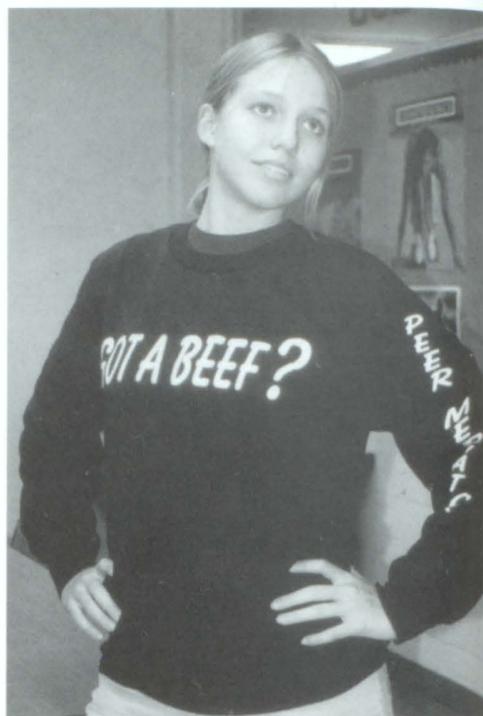

If you have a problem there is always somewhere you can go to talk about it. At Kimball, the Peer Mediation program is just the place you can go to with a problem. With an excellent voluntary staff of students, it is a safe and effective way to solve conflicts. "I have been involved in Peer Mediation for three years, and it gets better every year" commented

Tutors Share the Gift of Knowledge

Tutoring Knights serves a great purpose. One day a week students from Kimball travel to Starr Elementary to help 4th and 5th graders with their homework. "I like to see the smile on a kid's face. I know what it's like to have trouble, so I try and give help when I can," replied Chris Spenceley '03.

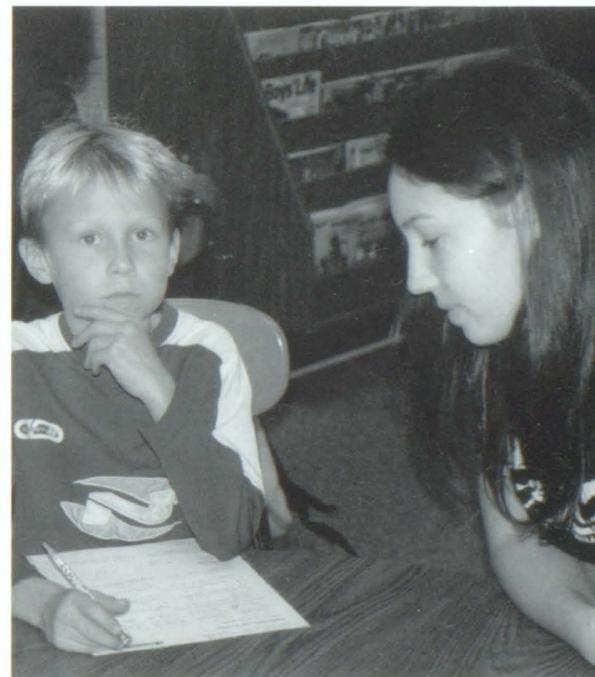

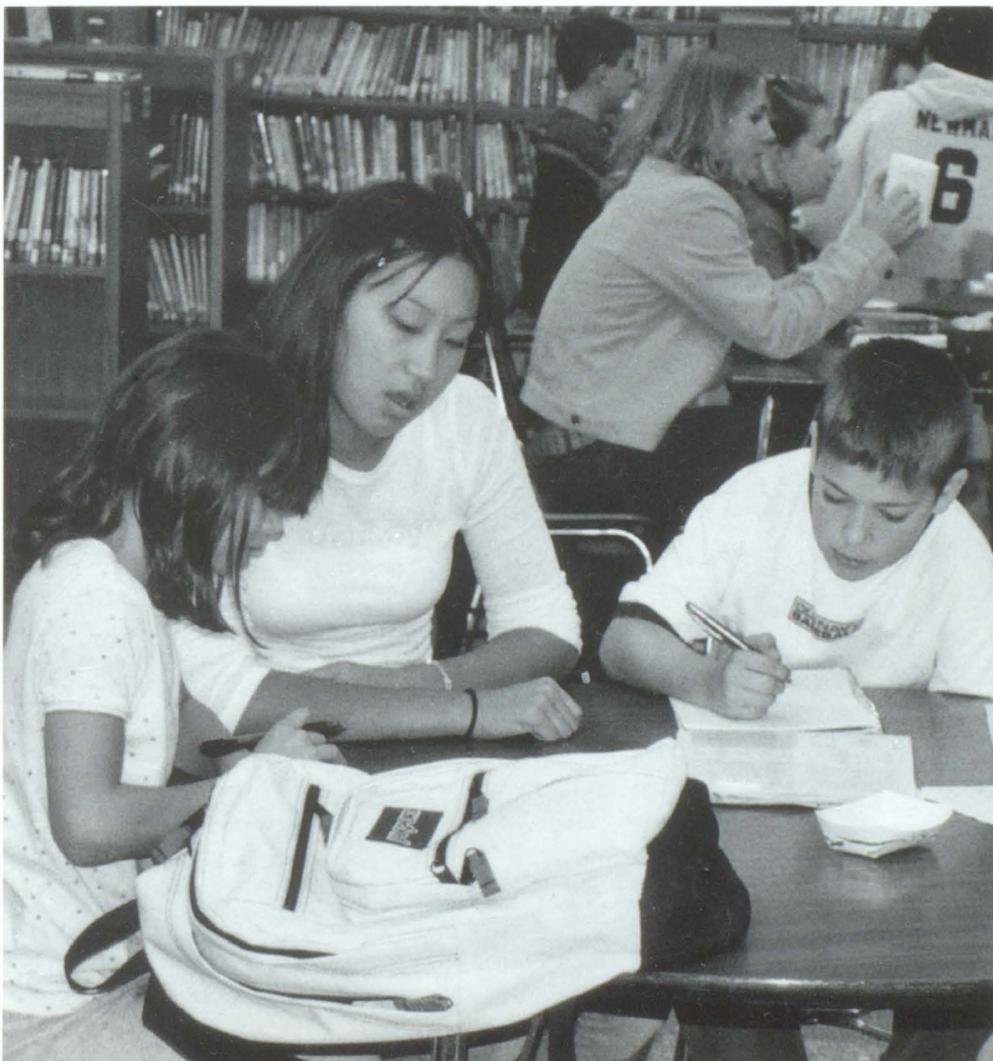

Many of the students who tutor do it just for the satisfaction of helping out. "I think it's a valuable experience to teach the kids how to have fun while they are learning,

I know that is what stops me a lot of times from getting started," responded Ashley Aue '03. There are students from every grade who get involved in tutoring. "I know it's hard sometimes for people to fit new activities into their schedules, but tutoring is a good way to be involved with school activities," ex-

Varsity Club members pack the stands at each athletic event sporting their yellow shirts to support their fellow Kimball athletes. This club not only brings kids into the student section at each sporting event, the members participate in numerous community service activities. This year, Varsity Club members raised money to bail Mr. Neville out of jail to benefit research for muscular dystrophy and they ran a bowl-a-thon for Mr. Potter's Kids' trip to the Special Olympics.

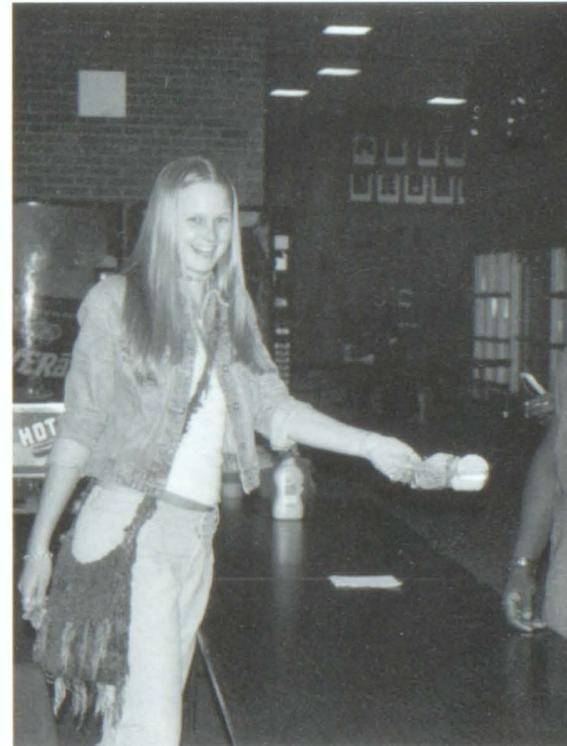

"My favorite part of Varsity Club is the students," stated advisor Paul Engleberts.

"Varsity Club camp is the bomb because we play the game Catch Phrase and it's good for laughs," stated Nichole Villerot '03.

Food For Thought

Don't be deceived by their title, for International Club isn't some foreign movement; it is a hungry group. Taking Care of Business!

The Business Professionals of America went back to "business as usual" this year, and accomplished many projects under the guidance of Ms. Nada Northey. The big fall project was a Halloween safety program, where students went around to different elementary schools to share the secrets of trick or treating in safety. Some other events the club participated in were selling poinsettias for Christmas, competing at a regional competition, fundraising for local charities through car washes and bottle drives, and of course running the Knights Den.

"BPA is awesome and it has changed my viewpoints on business," Donny Evans '03 shouted!

This year's president, Stephanie LaFountain '03, was really motivated and felt that her club had fun, and learned a lot while gaining valuable experience. They scored high in competition. "BPA is a great organization, and we do a lot of fun things. I have definitely enjoyed my time participating in it," she said. Jamie Lee McNie '03 added, "BPA has been my best high school experience!"

Have you ever seen the Ice Capades? Right here at Kimball we have some future Stars on Ice. The Royal Oak Ice Skating Club was formed last year and is captained by Kacey Dittmer '04 and Ellen Backus '03. Mrs. Doster-Barnett is the club sponsor. At midseason the team was currently in 5th place in their eight team district. The team placed second at the competition hosted at Royal Oak's own John Lindell Arena..

"It's great to skate with these guys; it's a real fun group," stated Kacey Dittmer '04.

Everyone on the team definitely had a great time this season. "I loved practicing with the girls and just messing around," laughed Michelle Wilson '05.

As a first year advisor, Mr. Roeder was quite excited to head this organization, "It's fun because everyone is here only because they want to be, and that adds a lot more energy and spirit."

Students for Environmental Awareness dedicated themselves to achieving three main goals: keeping the recycling program going, helping clean the Kimball courtyards, and trying to get more involved in helping to draw attention to environmental awareness in the community. As a start, these students took time from Records Period every Wednesday to collect bottles and cans from the recycling bin in classrooms, and participated in the first wave of cleaning out the

Chess Club Puts Strategy to Good Use

While some students at Kimball choose to use their physical skills to battle it out on the athletic field, many choose to sharpen their mental abilities by competing against others in chess club. "It gives me more satisfaction knowing I can beat someone with my mind instead of just beating them up...which I probably couldn't do anyway," stated David Mangum '05.

Chess, like most sports, takes lots of strategy and planning. "I like to see the kids learning to plan ahead and think before they make their moves," informed club sponsor, Mr. Schellenberger.

"I just play chess because I like to say KING ME!" laughed Justin Hull '04.

Most of all, chess club is just a whole lot of fun. "Chess club is way more fun than my second favorite activity...watching School House Rocks videos!" exclaimed Charles Schwab '04.

SADD Cares About Others

SADD members take time to make sure that other students are safe and making healthy decisions. "I would like students to understand the circumstances of bad decisions, and how they can influence others to make the right decisions," stated Kristen McFall '03. Emily Renkert '03 responded by saying, "It's important to make good decisions and I want the student body to make the right choices about tough issues."

"I like the continuous responsibility of being a role model to show students a way through tough decisions," commented Leslie Kehoe '04.

The SADD chapter here at Kimball High School has significantly grown in size. Throughout the year they do many different activites to promote awareness, like putting on a mock car accident and painting a mural in the school hallways. "Being a part of making SADD a bigger chapter of Kimball and having its influence continue on for many years has been a really fun and exciting experience," stated Jessica Bibby '03.

Active Involvement

SPAN Takes a Stance on World Issues.

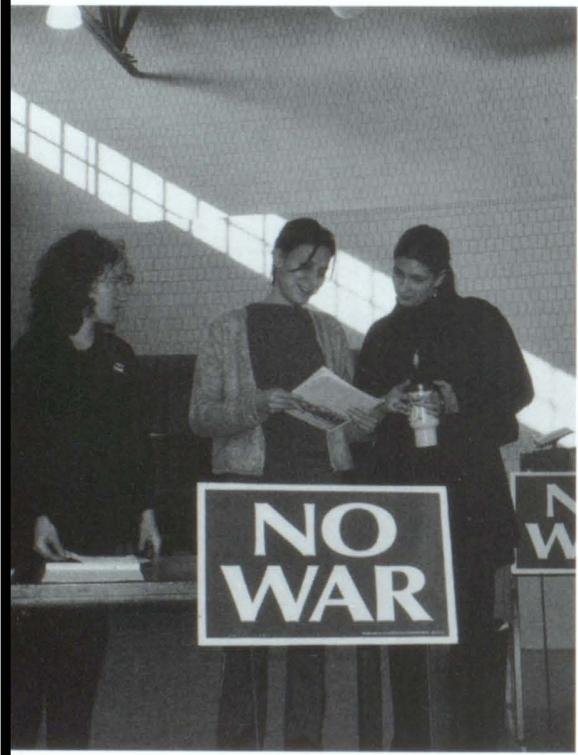

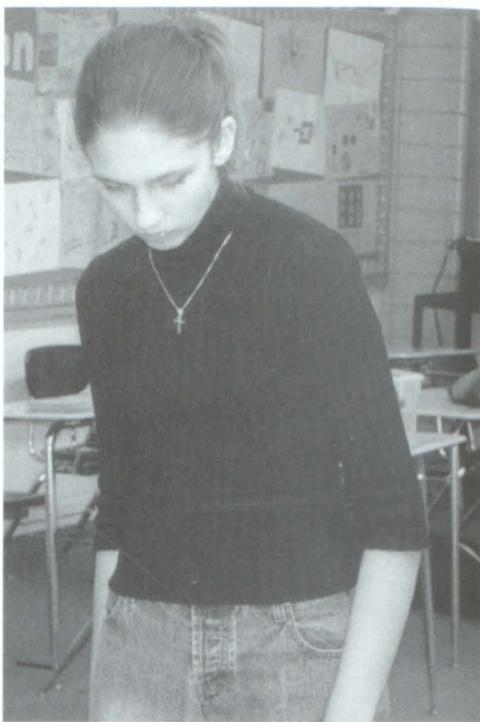

In response to the forever changing world situations, Kimball students have united to form SPAN, the Student Peace Action Network. SPAN was created this year as a voice for students. Sponsored by Suzan Milenkovich, the members seek to develop student interest in issues concerning the current state of the world, as well as present a platform to vocalize student opinion. "We can discuss our feelings on national political issues as well as discover other people with similar ideals," Kristy Currier '04 stated emphatically. Rachel Ohara '06 commented, "It supports humanistic ideals and the fundamental right to life." Future plans for SPAN included various fundraisers within the school to support the general fund, such as SPAN t-shirts, a "Books not Bombs" campaign regarding the Iraqi conflict, and a meeting with activist speakers Alise Alousi, Joan Mandell, and Rich Wieske. The future is bright for SPAN, as students showed their passion for peace. "The students are really excited," Miss Milenkovich said. "They even told me that the sixties' activists were not dead!"

More than Cartoons

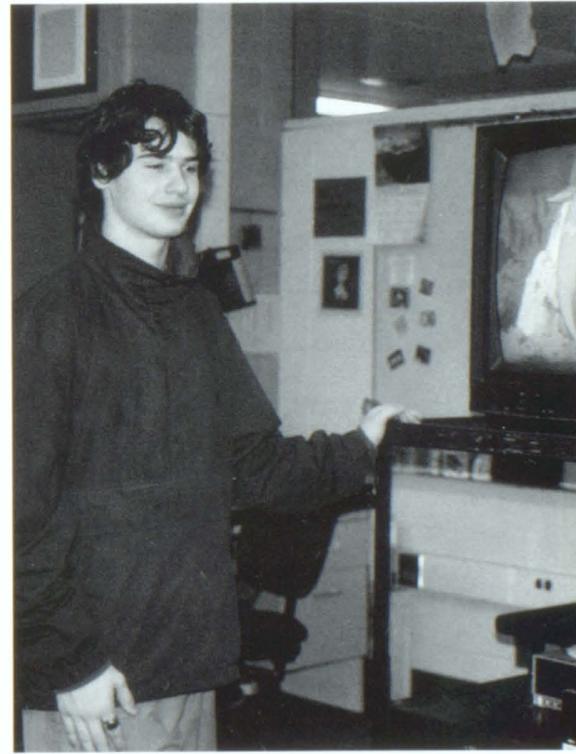

Kimball's Anime Club is quite new, currently only in its second year, but that hasn't stopped the up and coming group from their claim to fame. The Anime Club meets on a weekly basis to not only draw, but also play card games such as Yu-Gi-Oh, and Magic the Gathering, and also watch Anime movies, while all in the spirit of just having a good time. As a second year member and first year president, Brian Buchanan '03 wanted to "encourage more people to join this year, and next. Everyone is welcome!" One of the club's main objectives this year was the Kimball/Dondero Interschool Drawing Contest, simply for the pride of being Royal Oak's best Anime drawer. The club also had a weekly drawing contest for whoever wanted to submit their drawings.

The consistent group of people made meeting a favorite point of the week for Dan Wanston '05, whose most enjoyable activity was "playing Magic, and watching the movies."

Masters of the World Wide Web

The internet is becoming more and more popular everyday, so Kimball just had to become a part of the growing world wide web, which is why we made our very own website. The website didn't just appear on the world wide web, it was made by the smartest computer kids around, the Kimball Webmasters. This club was created last year and only had a few dedicated members-- four to be exact. "You have to be committed and dedicated to making the school website. Not many kids are willing to work that hard," exclaimed club president Dan Gibson '04.

"It takes a lot to put together a website; more than most people think," commented Dan Gibson '04.

The vice president of the club was Elissa Yonkers '04, who stands out not only by demonstrating superior computer skills, but also as the only girl in the club. The advisor of this small club is Mrs. Rosenbaum, a Media Center specialist. "It is good that the club is so small. This type of club isn't meant for many members," commented Mrs. Rosenbaum, "but we aren't pushing interested people away. We would be happy to have more members." If you aren't interested in becoming a Webmaster, at least check out their website.

This group of paddle-wielding Knights, led by Mr. Greening, is just a group of students looking for a good way to pass the time after their classes of the day. Jack Brennan '03 admitted he joined the club "to promote the sport of ping pong, and have the opportunity to play with fellow enthusiasts." George Doman '03 warns those interested in the club for next year to "watch out for Krebsbach, he's good..." Don't not join because you don't think you are good, it's just a good time. Plus, the t-shirts are sweet."

Jack Brennan '03 shows off his stance to other members of the club.

Mr. Greening is the man in charge of the Ping-Pong Club.

Board Games are Boring!

If a place where one doesn't have fun, is not the place to be, then The Age of Imperium is definitely the place to be. This club offers time after school for kids to get together and play games that range from cards to video games. "It's definitely a great place to be and burn some energy," explained David Bonner '05. The club originated a couple of years ago, when kids started meeting after school to play a game called Imperium which was later renamed RPG. It is from this game that the card game Magik was born. Eventually, the club gained a following and soon everyone who was an active participant was allowed to bring in a game of any kind that the rest could play. "I come here because I have a lot of fun and am tremendously amused while I'm here," mentioned Glenn Fisher '05.

The club's sponsor,

Mr. Pfeifle, helps set up the games. This club offers students a place to unwind and challenge their competitive spirits!

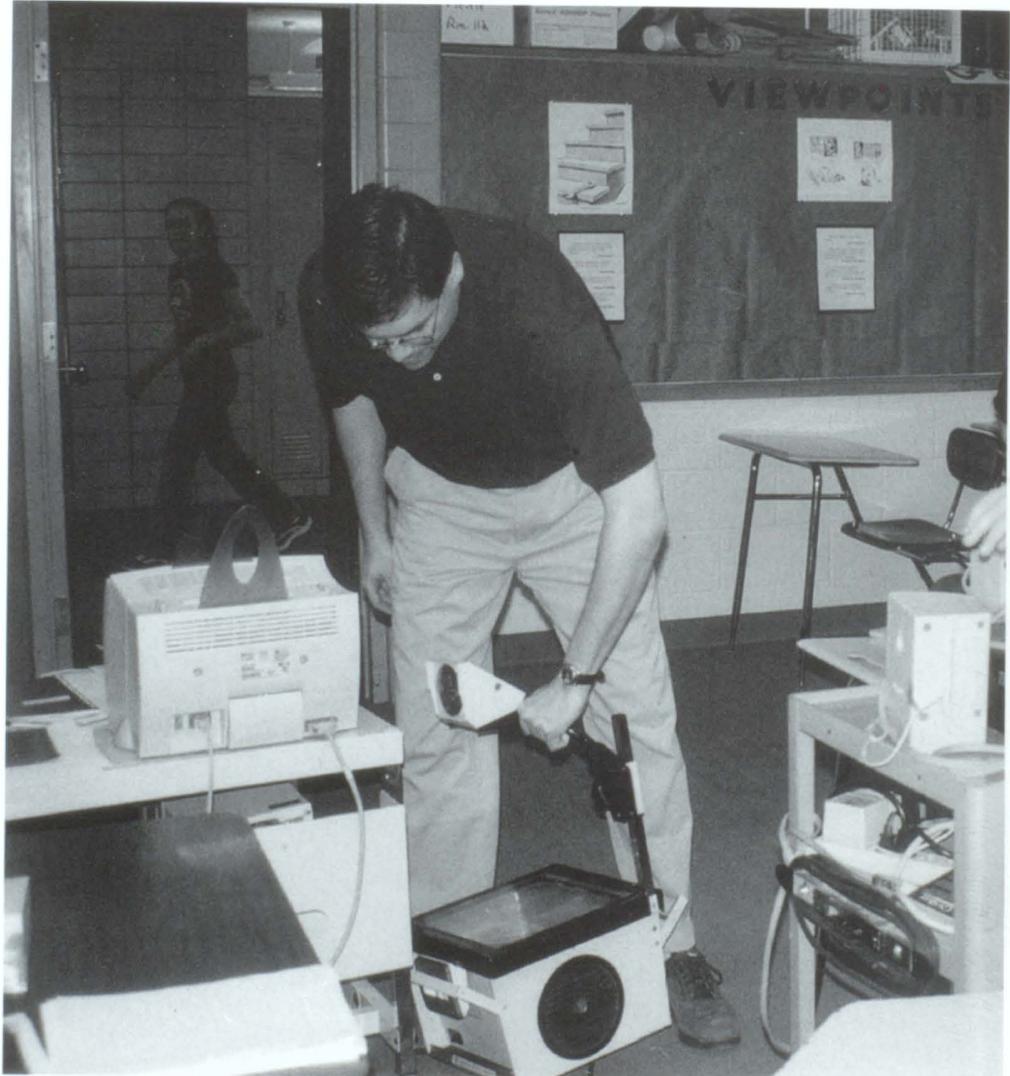

I learned about this club through a friend of a friend and I've been coming here ever since.

Unforgettable

It's A Senior Thing!

It has been four years since the Senior Class of 2003 first stepped foot in Kimball High School as freshmen. Many can still remember it as if it happened yesterday. "I still remember being so afraid of being lost or picked-on the first day of school," noted Chelsea Briggs '03. The years that have been spent at Kimball will never be forgotten. Students will hold the cherished memories in their hearts eternally. The memories of laughter, tears, friendships, love, and good moments during this short period of time will always be referred to as unforgettable.

Matthew Kirschner and Aaron Klein stuff troublesome Marcus Steib into an open locker.

Andrew, Bret, Mr. Scheer, Jeanette and David work cooperatively.

One of the few times the officers get a chance to goof around!

The officers concentrate on a successful senior year.

Senior Class Officers

Leading by Example

This year was very productive for the Kimball Senior Class of 2003. With many events scheduled throughout the year, there were lots of activities to keep everyone busy.

President David Frisk, Vice-President Andrew Steinman, Secretary Jeanette Porter, and Treasurer Bret Burton led the way for this year's senior class, and succeeded in all their goals. Vice-President Andrew Steinman had an interesting look at the year, "There was a lot of stuff to do, I never thought we could do it all, but.....we did!"

As a first year advisor, Mrs. Elsner watched over the officers to ensure that all went smoothly. "I'm very proud of how hard everyone worked, they were very responsible, and I couldn't have asked for a better group."

A few of the events that the senior class officers ran this year were the Powder Puff football game, the Senior Reception at Homecoming, Prom, and a magnificent Graduation. "I was really happy with the amount of work we put into Prom, we wanted to make it very memorable," said Treasurer Bret Burton. Secretary Jeanette Porter added, "I never knew planning for everything could be so much work, but I'm proud of everything we got done."

With all the work the Senior Class Officers put in, they kept busy throughout the entire year and made sure that the class of 2003 had a senior year they would remember forever. President David Frisk commented, "Being the class President was a great experience, especially since we had such a great senior class."

The class officers need to have level heads to cooperatively organize for senior year.

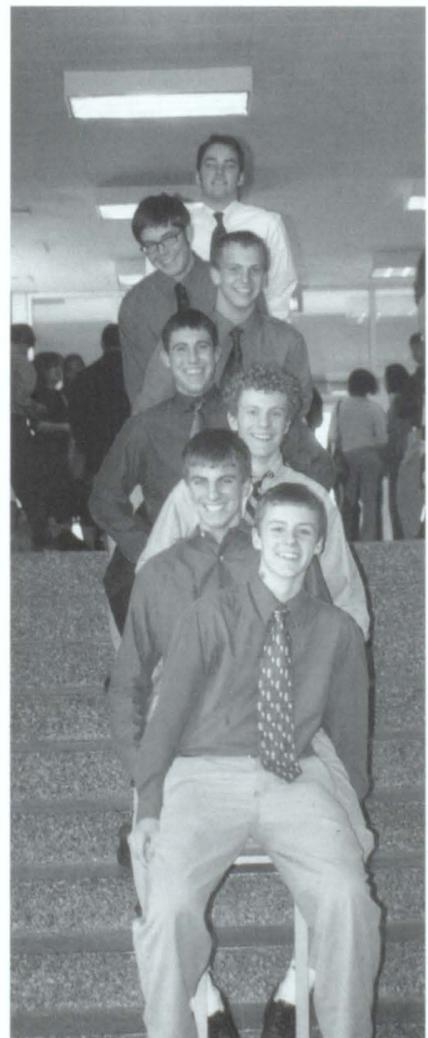

The stars of the senior class take time from their busy schedules to relax.

Fack and Till went up the hill to fetch a pail of water. Fack fell down and broke his crown, and Till came tumbling after. . . .

Jamie Segel remembers her love for "Humpty Dumpty."

Ashley Aue always enjoyed the good morals of "Little Red Ridinghood."

Christina Stewart liked the comforting rhyme of "Winken, Blinken, and Nod."

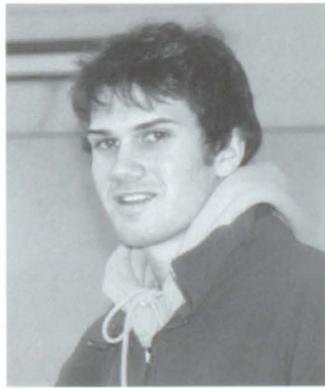

Seniors Reminisce About Their Favorite Nursery Rhymes

Chelsea Briggs remembers that her favorite nursery rhyme was "Little Bo Peep."

Paul Halter remembers being a fan of the "Cow Jumped Over the Moon."

Chris Kelly loved the nursery rhyme "Little Miss. Moffet" because his mother was scared of spiders and always made pie.

Advertising and Parent Pride

Kelly Steiner '03 serves a beverage at the Custard Cup bakery.

Cycle of Support Community Values Education

Royal Oak community businesses have been supporting Kimball students throughout the years. Whether it be through student employment, internships, financial assistance or sponsorship, the local business community has always been there to support our students. "Working at Frentz and Sons Hardware for the past four years has taught me skills that I will be able to use for the rest of my life," stated David Salvati '04. Steve Brokaw '03 added that, "working at Baskin Robbins has taught me a lot of responsibility." The Kimball community extends far beyond the walls of our school, and into the local business district as well.

Matt Rolando '05 cuts keys for a customer at Frentz and Sons Hardware where he is currently employed.

Kelly Tamm '05 prices merchandise at the Varsity Shop after school.

Megan Ferber '03 picks up a beverage at Tania's Party Store after school.

YEAR IN REVIEW

STRANGE BUT TRUE

Trans-Atlantic Jet Setter

Spanish Count Alvaro de Marichalar set a world record by completing a 5,200-mile, four-month journey across the Atlantic on a jet ski. Marichalar trained for a year before setting out from Rome for Miami on a nine-foot watercraft with a support ship and crew of six bringing up the rear.

Nation Loses Time

It is a common complaint that there is not enough time in a day; however, for the people of Venezuela time is actually slipping away. Clocks in that country are ticking too slowly because a nationwide power shortage is weakening the electric current. Each day, electric clocks lose 150 seconds.

Former President Jimmy Carter was awarded the 2002 Nobel Peace Prize for his efforts to further human rights and democracy, find peaceful solutions to world conflicts and encourage economic and social growth. After serving as president from 1977 to 1981, Carter founded the Carter Center, a not-for-profit organization dedicated to improving the human condition.

The Miss World competition was moved from Nigeria's capital, Abuja, to London after violent protests broke out in Nigeria. The protests began after a Nigerian newspaper printed an article that questioned why Mohammed would not have approved of the Miss World competition and said he probably would have married one of the contestants.

Death Not An Option

Mayor Gil Bernardi, of the French Mediterranean town, Le Lavandou, banned local residents from dying after a court order rebuffed his plans to develop a new seaside cemetery. Bernardi found the edict to be "remarkably well followed," as he awaited a decision on his appeal.

Two Guatemalan twins who had been joined together at the tops of their heads returned home five months after doctors separated them in a 22-hour operation. Healing the Children, a nonprofit organization, arranged for the girls and their parents to come to Los Angeles for the surgery, and the doctors donated their services.

Jury trials returned to most Russian courtrooms for the first time in 85 years as a result of legislation passed through parliament by supporters of President Vladimir Putin. The law amends the criminal code with 3,500 changes that emulate the Western model of a fair trial.

Nearly 1,000 people died when a Senegalese ferry traveling off the coast of Gambia capsized and sank. Investigators said overloading was the key cause of the disaster, which occurred when passengers moved to one side of the ship to take cover during a storm.

In a historic speech before the Italian parliament, Pope John Paul II strongly urged Italians to have more children to turn the tide against the nation's declining rate of birth. He also called on government officials to show prisoners leniency, when appropriate, by reducing their sentences.

hot off the wire

Violence raged in the Ivory Coast after rebels failed in their coup attempt and took control of the northern part of the country. After the northern rebels signed a truce with the government, new rebels attempted to take control of the west. Hundreds of people died during the year, and more than 600,000 fled their homes.

Tensions were high after North Korea began to use one of the nuclear reactors it had agreed to shut down in 1994. North Korea claimed it had to restart its nuclear program to provide power because the United States had stopped sending the country shipments of fuel oil. The U.S. said it only stopped shipping oil after North Korea started to work on its nuclear weapons program. ▲

NO WAR ON IRAQ

A raid on a theater in Moscow proved deadly for more than 100 people after the Russian government pumped gas into the building to end the three-day hostage situation. The gas was intended to subdue the Chechen hostage-takers, who were holding 800 people; however, some of the hostages died because they were weakened by hunger and exhaustion. ▲

SPECIAL ON IRAQ

Concerned that Iraq could assemble nuclear weapons, the United Nations required Iraq to disclose and disarm its weapons of mass destruction. While the United Nations conducted weapon inspections in Iraq, the United States prepared to go to war.

Questions remained about how long the weapon inspections would take and thousands of people protested the war in more than 220 cities around the country on a weekend in January.

Meanwhile, the U.S. sent almost as many aircraft carriers and troops into the Persian Gulf as were there during the 1991 Persian Gulf War.

THE WAR ON TERRORISM

John Allen Muhammed and John Lee Malvo were accused of carrying out a string of sniper shootings that killed 10 people and wounded three others during a three-week period in the Washington, D.C., area. Victims, who were selected at random during the killing spree, ranged in age from 13 to 72. ▶

Nine Pennsylvania miners emerged one-by-one from a small, dark, flooded chamber 240 feet below the surface after being trapped for more than three days. The ordeal began when water from an adjacent abandoned mine burst through a breached wall and filled the shaft in which they were working. Rescuers worked around the clock to free the men, who surfaced relatively unscathed. ▲

Memorial services were held around the country on the anniversary of Sept. 11, which President George W. Bush proclaimed Patriot Day. One year after the attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon, the sluggish American economy still felt the effects. News about Afghanistan diminished, but al Qaeda and Osama bin Laden were still in the news. Debate continued about what should be built at the Ground Zero site, and colleges were asked to turn over personal information about their foreign students and teachers to the FBI.

The country continued to pursue Osama bin Laden and other threats to national security in its War on Terror. Sometimes the war was subtle, and sometimes it was very noticeable. The Immigration and Naturalization Service began to fingerprint and photograph men who entered the United States from 18 Middle Eastern countries. Bush signed a Homeland Security bill into law that created a new federal department devoted to preventing future attacks and allowed commercial airline pilots to carry guns.

The director of the FBI announced that his organization had thwarted almost 100 terrorist attacks since Sept. 11, 2001. He said some of the attacks were intended for U.S. targets.

The Roman Catholic Church was immersed in a scandal involving forbidden sex and molestation, as well as widespread cover-ups at the hands of some of its most prominent officials. Coloring The Cosmos Astronomers Karl Glazebrook and Ivan Baldry finally got that nagging "What color is the universe?" question answered. The color is Cosmic Latte. The color-naming contest evolved from the scientists' speculation of what color the universe would be if all its light were taken together. Their initial findings said light green before they finally settled on beige.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

Just What The Vet Prescribed

Kyoto University researchers discovered some primates, specifically certain varieties of lemurs, eat plants containing poisonous tannins prior to giving birth. Tannins in small doses naturally increase milk production and veterinarians use them to prevent failed pregnancies. Scientists say this makes the lemur the first known animal to self-medicate when pregnant.

No Prey? Then You May Pass

Computer programmer Boris Tsikovsky developed software to stop his cat, Squirrel, from dragging prey into the house. Squirrel, whose special collar allows her to exit and enter through a magnetized door, often hides dead mice and birds in the furniture. So, he developed imaging software linked to a camera by the door that will not allow Squirrel to enter if her profile shows something in her mouth.

Tablet PCs hit store shelves this year. These new laptops allow users to handwrite their messages directly on the screen instead of typing them, making them a popular choice for taking notes in classes and meetings. The average price: about $2,200. □▲

A Northern California town sold on eBay for almost $1.8 million. The owners of Bridgeville, Calif. decided to auction the town on eBay after their conventional attempts to sell the town failed. The town includes a post office, a cemetery and more than a dozen houses and cabins. ▶

Almost one fifth of U.S. counties used electronic voting machines in November, the highest percentage to date. The change was prompted by lawmakers' concern about Florida's ballot controversy in the 2000 presidential election. ▶▲

Tom Christerson celebrated the one-year anniversary of his artificial heart transplant in September. He died six months later. Christerson, 71, was the longest-living AbioCor recipient so far. The AbioCor heart, a softball-sized pump made of plastic and titanium, runs on batteries and fits within a patient's chest. ▶

Bratz dolls outsold Barbie as America's best-selling fashion doll for six months in a row. In response, Mattel created My Scene Barbie, a newer doll who wears platform shoes, low-rise jeans, more makeup, and midriff-baring shirts. ▲▼

People desperate for money turned to the internet to cyberbeg. One woman was able to pay off her $20,000 credit card debt in just five months with the contributions she received from people who read her website and sent money. ▲

The Institute of Medicine changed its recommendations for Americans' diets and exercise regimes. Under the new guidelines, everyone should participate in at least one hour of physical activity each day and should eat a recommended percentage of carbohydrates, fats and proteins. McDonald's cut the amount of bad fat in its fries, Chicken McNuggets and other products after a New York man sued McDonald's and three other major fast-food chains for allegedly making him fat.

A few weeks later, a lawyer sued McDonald's on behalf of obese children. The suits were later thrown out by a federal judge who said the law is not in place to protect people from their own excesses. The cases argued that the fast-food chains never gave a clear warning about the foods' danger. ▲

TRENDS

Matthew Peyton/Getty Images

Several stars crossed over from one entertainment genre to another, the most common of which involved musicians making movies. Actress/pop star Jennifer Lopez was one example. She starred in two movies this year, released a top-selling CD, opened a restaurant and even launched a perfume. Other stars crossing over included Eminem and Kid Rock making their film debuts. ▲

Hewlett Packard introduced a personal computer that works like a TV. The computer comes with a remote control and a TV tuner, and users can play and record TV shows and digital music. ▲

To my Emme Baby:
It's rare in life that you find a friend
Who matches you so perfectly,
That when you're with them, smiles and laughter are guaranteed...
because your souls just match...
I Love You! We are soul mates!
Thank you for being that friend
I couldn't live without.
Love & Hugs~ Jesse Baby

To my soulmate, Jessica "J Boog" Rodriguez~
We've been through so much, & you've always been there for me, even through all the crazy drama. You let me lean on you for support, & gave me the strength to move on & I love you so much for that.
You always find a way to make me smile & see things a different way.
No matter where we end up next year don't forget to make a Little time for a little detour every now & then. Hugz & lugz! ~Em "Lil' Fizz" Clements
